TEMPERANCE LECTURE.-The leclarge audience with much interest. The common expression was that it was an able argument, and in this opinion we fully concur. He is an carnest worker, and for his carnestness deserves credit in a high degree, as evincing an unabated interest in the welfare of the people. He is fertile in argument, and well informed in the statistics bearing upon the subject. From all parts of the county, we have heard expressions in high praise of his efforts. This was his last address in the county. . . . We learn he now goes to Bradford county to continue his labors. TIME CHANGED.—The time of holding the Quarterly Convention of I. O. of G. T., s changed from March 1 to March 3, 1870. The Convention will meet at Wellsboro on that day, and continue two days. Hon. S. B. Chase, . W. C. T., is expected on the last day, and to ecture in the evening. All the lodges in the county are earnestly rejuested to sond delegates. E. T. BENJLET,

A good story is told of a Tioga county morenant, who agreed to take a farmer's oats at forty cents a bushel, if the latter would let him ramp the measures when filled. The farmer agreed to it. The buyer paid for sixty bushels, and next day went after them. The farmer filled the half-bushel, and the merchant got in and tramped them down. Whereupon the farmer poured the oats so compressed into the bag. The merchant protested, and demanded that the messure should be filled up after tramping. The furmer informed him that there was no agreement of that sort, but that he might tramp down the eats to his heart's content after they were measured .- Brad. Rep.

We understand that these lectures have been delivered in Massachutells with marked success. The lectures will be illustrated by pictures taken from life.

The notice was handed us after our forms closed and we were not able to give our renders 363 idea of the opportunity afforded them. We amnot speak too highly of the lecture. It

Gossip.—The old dame wears a blue check-apron, such as the girls used to have on at solool, long ago, when we sat down beside them those long summer days, to get a lesson out of a book which had not so many leaves gone as ours; (for you know the mistress wouldn't allow the boys to sit with the girls without a reason, and if the lesson wasn't out, there was no reason); and all the while getting the lessen, looking up into those beautiful eyes, like many a child's, so cloquent and loving, the meantime running a large pin through the ample hom, as if the game depended upon it. No, not such exactly, for the old lady's was long and full enough in which to carry a basket of chips, to make a fire before the sun struck the noon-mark, so the table should be spread and the dinner bell should ring at early twelve; while the girls' were of that dainty pinafore pattern, trimmed up in front so bewitchingly, so prettily, in our eyes, that they nover looked so charmingly in any other, all through the long years ahead. Oh stop, says the dame; none of your love-making over the mere dreams of a crazy boyhood. Many a man's head's been turned by the light of such fancies, and I could tell you of some, but I will not-I only warn you in time. The dear old soul! She had been taken to do about something she had merely mentioned, she said, and they called it tattling; and she had made up her mind she would hold her tongue—she said those very words -for fear of injuring the feelings of her neighbors. And the poor old lady really shed tears, talking the matter over; for she said she didn't mean any harm at all, but only mentioned it as a matter of news. Oh well, good dame, never mindit will be all right in the end; and now I will will come off at the Westfield House, on Friday | tell you how it was about that girl, for I know evening, the 18th instant. Mr. A. B. Graves, you will keep my secret. If you tell it to anythe proprietor, will make ample preparations to body, just tell it to the moon—she never reveals anything out of the family. Hold on, broke in the dame; that's moonshine. Oh no; she was real flesh and blood-blithe, gay, pure, fresh as a rose, and as sweet to look upon as a May morning. Whether she was sweet or not, I'll say I never knew; for, how should I? Would you waste the last honey suckle for a bouquet of an ture of M. Brosius, Esq., at the M. E. Church, on hour? Ah, cruel, cruel hearts, that shall pick Tuesday evening of last week, was listened to by the flowers of earth only to let them die, and none be left to love, but only to mourn! The advantages of this road to the western portion of Tinga county, cannot be overestimated, for it would develop the min eral resources of that section, and would be the highway over which the vast amount of coal which her mountains contain would find an outlet to market. Why would it not be well for Tioga county to send some of her public spirited citizens down here on the 8th instant, to aid in the good work from which she must derive so much profit. An item has been making the rounds of the press, that Peter Hordie was about breaking up but the building seems to have been fired in the in business. This is a piece of news which has been received with some surprise by Mr. Herdic's many friends in this city; for it is well known scene of the fire in a short time. The academy that he has paid out about eighty thousand dollars within the last week for city orders, thereby number of our citizens, with water, were needed raising them from about sixty-five cents on the to save it. LIBERTY.-Since my last communiation, I have gathered the following items: The new county which it is said Peter Herdio. Esq., is using all his efforts to form out of parts of Tioga, Bradford, Sullivan and Lycoming counties, is causing quite a sensation among the citizens of our township. It is feared, that with all the remonstrances that have been circulated and signed, Herdie, backed by the N. C. railroad company, will succeed in his efforts. It is pretty generally believed by the people in our section, that it is needly self interest that prompts Herdie to take such strong action in the formation of a now-county. As we understand it, he wishes to have the county seat near the locality of his Mineral Spring Hotel, which would no doubt greatly enhance the value of his property. A majority of the citizens of our township are not on mischief, hide the sun's rays to banish loveli- anxious to become inhabitants of the proposed county, from the fact that it would most assuredly increase their county taxes fifty per cent. above what they now are, and would consequently con-tinuo very high for a number of years, until the of life by the foul odor of slander and detraction. But the certain sum of all the accumulated strokes expenses of putting up the new county buildings intended for others, is self demolition and dewere paid off. All we ask in our township, is to struction, by which all the charms of life are have a chance to vote for or against the division of our county; and I think Peter would find his mont. Then the flower is crushed and withersfinely concacted scheme so awfully defeated, as its fragrance is no more destroyed, than when it far as our township is concerned in the matter, fades and dies the death of nature : somewhere that his pleasant dreams of being dictator in his proposed new county, would soon vanish from his over anxious mind.

Cherry Pectoral. Salsoothing expectorant, pre

Is a soothing expectorant, propared to meet the urgent need of a safe and reliable cure for diseases of the throat and lungs. A trial of many years has established the fact, that it is more efficacious in pulmonary affections, than any other remedy. Its efficacy has now become so generally known, that it is justly regarded in many countries as a modicine of indispensable necessity. In Great Britain. France, and Germany, where medical science has reached its highest perfection, it is prescribed in domestic practice, and constantly used in the armies in hospitais and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remedy that can be employed. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found where; well known cases of diseased lungs, which had baffled the efforts of the most skillful and experienced doctors have been completely cured by it. These results are the most convincing proofs of the superior curative proverties of this preparation; and to them the authors point with peculiar satisfaction. While it is most powerful against confirmed diseases, it is extremely genite as a medicine in infancy and youth, being quite harmless to even the youngest, when administered judiciously.

This health restorer accomplishes oven more by prevention than cure. If taken in season, it heals all irritations of the threat and lungs, whether arising from Colds or Coughs, or from other acuses, and thus prevent that long train of painful and incurable diseases, which would arise from the neglect of them. Hence no family should be without it. Influenza, Croup, Hoarsoness, Whooping Cough, Pleurley, Incipient Consumption, and other affections of the breathing organs, give way before the pre eminent combination of medical virtues. ive way before the pre eminent combination of med
