SELLING OFF.-Bullard & Co.'s entire stock of goods is now offered at cost, for cash. DONATIONS.—There will be a donation at Bailey Hall, Mansfield, for the benefit of Rev.

W. D. Taylor, on Friday evening Feb. 25th, 1870. By order of Committee _ There will be a donation for Rev. O. L. Gibson, on Wednesday (this) evening, at the Session Room of the M. E. Church.

RELIGIOUS. — Rev. John Cairns has been laboring four weeks a protracted meeting in the Presbyterian Church, in Osceola, and we learn that about ninety persons have been converted, and the interest still continues.

HERMAIC SOCIETY.-Miss Susan R! Preston will entertain the above society on Thursday evening, March 3d, 1870, by reading from the following authors, viz:

"My Soul and I."-WRITTIER. "Gernaut Hall."-ALDRICH, "The Vision of Sir Launfal."-Lowell.

CONCERT.-Professor J. G. Towner, the popular ballad singer, and D. B. Towner, will give a concert at the Court House, Wellsboro, on Monday evening, March 7, 1870. The concerts given by these gentlemen are of the first order, and we bespeak for them a good house.

-TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. - The Quarterly Convention of the I. O. of G. T. will be held at Wellsboro, on Thursday and Friday, March 3d and 4th, 1870. The Convention will commence on Thursday at 2 o'clock P. M., and close Friday evening with a public lecture by Hon. S. B. Chase., G. W. C. T.

THANKS.—By the new stage arrangeplace and back, in the same time. We are glad | them, would be just as pertinent. to chronicle a fact of so much importance to our people. This is a convenience of egress which we have long needed, and all the time there has been no good reason why we should have donewithout it. The arrangement is likely to increase the travel on this route greatly.

THE WEATHER.-We have come upon the winter at last. Mercury fell ten dogrees below zero, two or three mornings last week; and though the sun came out bright each day the sleighing was not much affected. The lumbermen are making good use of their opportunity; and we now think all the logs will be got in. Without this run of sleighing, we should have seen tight times for money the coming year. Business of all kinds is enlivened. The young folks are making a merry time "a-sleighing"; and the old ones, listening to the cheerful sounds of bells and happy voices, wander back to the olden days, and forget the long wears intervening, in dreams of happier times. DRAMATIC.-Again was the Court House filled to listen to the repetition of " Michael Erle" and " Regular Fix," by the Wellsboro Dramatic association, last Wednesday evening On account of the illness of Mr. D. F. Truman " Box and Cox" was omitted. Mr. J. M'Cay took the place of Mr. A. Truman as Manager, and acquitted himself well. Mr. Bunnell did himself credit in his character of the "Maniac Lover." He has genius for acting, and had he the benefit of training, would rank high.

"Mary" was received with applause, and acted her part so well as to win the admiration of all. "Julia" is a protty city belle, making easy con quest of human hearts, cruel girl. She puts "Andrew Adze" in training, in vain, to smooth away his rustic manners, for Andrew, like a true man, not in a mood of wooing, gives loose rein to Nature as she is, and leaves false art to woman. "De Brass" made "a regular fix" of his part. We "don't know why he should-but he did."-The gout helped him out of it, however, in good time; but what good would all the gout in the world have done him, without a "rich relation"? "Mr. Surplus" displayed a masserly comprchensich of the situation; and the charming "Mrsq Surplus" showed breself worthy of the love of such a genius. "Deborah" has a graceful way of falling into a chair, at the right time, and an innocent inclination to relieve distress by a teredor sympathy. "Matilda Jane!" The very well. The music enlivened the evening very

Wa are glad to state that the receipts more than cover all the expenses. HERMAIC SOCIETY.—The lecture of Hugh Young, Esq., on " The Chinese at Home," at the Court House, last Friday evening, was listened to by a large audience, with great interest. It contained many interesting facts concerning China and the Chinese, expressed in an easy, conciso style, and delivered in an agrecable, unpretending manner, exhibiting not a little research and accurate study.

He gives our old friend H. J. Ramsdell, formerly of this place, and now the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, a high compliment, in saying that he has given a better account of John Chinnman, than any other that the lecturer has read-for he has read all the leading ones lately given the public. .

The lecturer takes issue with the Washington correspondent of Tue Agiraron upon the Civil Service bill. The Chinese have long practised a plan of competitory examinations of candidates for official position, similar to that proposed in Congress by Mr. Jenekes. Upon this subject we are not disposed to differ with him. Frequent political convulsions, followed not unfrequently by a total change of administration, have already produced, to our mind, most dangerous results. One of the most imminent dangers to our government, is the power of patronage. The office of President, and indeed most of the important official positions of our Republic, are sought, not so much for the honor, and the legicimate profits, as for the indecent but accustomed traffic in dealing out offices-in short, for the Power which such stations give to the lineum-question of the Chinese in our own politics .destined as, he says, soon to become a leading issue in party polities. There can be but one result; the logic of our times tends to liberalism; and whatever party shall stand in the way bids further explanation. of equal privileges to all nations, under proper restrictions, in this country, must fall before it. The lecture was replete with frequent sallies of genuine Yankee wit, worthy of the genius of Patrick James M'Whorter," of the Emerald > free us it is here, and where popular intelligence skill:-[Sentinel, Liberty, Va, is so wide spread and general, it would be disgraceful in the extreme, and utterly at war with every dictate of honor and decency. At the same time, it is right and proper that all editors should use a rigid discretion in the accepting of original or selected articles; and no person whose contributions are for any cause rejected, has fair grounds for complaint therefor. The editor alone is held responsible to the public for the matter which his columns contain; and it is his party to fill his paper with such articles as are nost congenial to his own taste, and as he has a just right to suppose will so prove to his patrons. 3d. The rule is fully recognized and honora-

ers, the one involves the other. 5th. Contributions may not be inoffensive, even when on their face they appear to be. The requirement is made, in such cases, because it is every way re-sonable that an editor should know who his correspondents are, and utterly unreasonable that a correspondent should undertake to conceal his name from the medium through which he expects to bring his writings to the public. If the article is not ineffensive, it will not be denied in any quarter that the editor should know who wrote it; and if it is inoffensive, the writer certainly can have no objections to enclosing his name with his manuscript. Au editor is not doing himself justice, when he consents to publish an original article, no matter what may be its merits, unless his drawer also contains a record of the name of the writer. 6th. It is generally considered that an author has a fair title to bis own productions; but when he has handed them over to a newspaper for publiention, they are disposed of, and belong to the name is a sufficient comment, and she were it paper in which they are printed, and the writer has simply the credit of their authorship. If, in his judgment, prudence requires such an alteration, it is better to decline the publication .--But, as a general thing, editors have neither time nor inclination to re-write or amend the favors of their correspondents. They should come like Minerva from the head of Jove, full fledged, and ready for minghing with the bustling world. A BB the most perfect purghand as we think, has every yet been have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the other medicines in use. They are safe and pleasent to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate they ital action of the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul lumors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural actions, and impart tone and strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure, the every day complaints of everybuly but formidable and dangerous disease. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the tame time, in diminished doses, the safest and beat physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-cated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are entirely harmless. Cures have been made that would surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted charactor, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergyman and physicians certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent ust he assurance of their conviction that our Preparations centribute immersely to the relief of our afflicted fellow men.
