VIOLET-TIME. Violet-time is coming again;

Once more laughing through the rain, Spring with sunny crown advances, Sunshine glittering on his lances. Long live Spring !- the rainbow arch Greets his coronation march; Green his hanners free and brave, From each tree-top rustling wave. Birds before him fly in crowds; Fast above him float the clouds; Swifter run rejoicing rivers; Sunbeam darts are in his quivers.

And the daises open their eyes; Black-birds sing in every bush, Answering the merry thrush. Swallows are his heralds fleet Faster than the pulses beat ; Butterflies between the showers. Tell the glad news to the flowers. Our old monarch, Winter's dead;

His crown is on another head;

Violet-time is coming again.

Miscellaneous Bending: THE ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT.

T. S. Arthur tells a good story about a loving couple in New Jersey, who belong to the Methodist Church. A new Presiding Elder, Mr. N., was expected in that district, and as the ministers all stopped with Brother W. and his wife, every preparation was made to give him a cordial reception. The honest couple thought that religion in part consisted in making some parade, and therefore the parlor was put in order, a nice fire was made, and the kitchen replenished with cake, chickens, and every delicacy preparatory to cooking. 'While Mr. W. was out at his wood pile, a plain looking, coarsely dressed, but quiet-like pedestrian came along, and inquired the distance to the next town. He was told that it was threemiles. Being very cold, he asked permission to enter and warm himself.— Assent was given very grudgingly, and both went into the kitchen. The wift looked daggers at this untimely intrusion, for the stranger had on cowhide boots, an old hat, and a threadbare, but by virtue of a Writ of Partition, issued out of the Orphan's Court for the said County of Tioga, and to meatly patched coat. A long lecture followed, which the man was scolded, admonish ed, and threatened with Divine indig-nation. At its close he modestly asked if he might not have the Bible to read for an hour or two before retiring for the night. This request was granted with more pleasure than any of the

Before leaving him alone, Mr. W. found it to be his duty to exhort him to things spiritnal and he did so most earnestly for the next fifteen minutes. But he could not see that his words made much impression, and he finally left his guest, amenting his obduracy and ignorance.
