CHIEF-JUSTICE CHASE AND THE NE-GROES.

A letter from the colored men of Cinci -nati Congratulations and advice-

Universal amnesty. A committee of colored citizens in Cincinnati invited Chief-Justice Chase to attend the celebration of the adoption of the XVth Amendment, which i to be lield in that city to-morrow. H answer is in substance as follows: WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30 1870.-Accept my thanks for the invitation tendered on behalf of the colored people of Cincinnati to attend the celebration. My duties will not permit me to be present except by good will and wishes. Almost a quarter of a century has passed since some of you probably heard me declare (May, 1845) that all "legal distinctions between individuals of the same country, founded on any such circumstances as origin and the like, are hostile to the genius of our institutions, and incompatible with the true theory of American liberty; that true Democracy makes no inquiry about the color of the skin, or the place of nativity, or any other similar circumstances or condition; and that the exclusion of the colored people as a body from the elective franchise is compatible with true Democratic principles. I congratulate you that these principles, have been at length made a part of the supreme law of the land. Many, no doubt, would have been glad, as I should have been, if the great work consummated by the ratification of the fifteenth Amendment could have been accomplished, through the States, by the amendment of the State Constitutions; but the delays and uncertainties inseparable from that mode of proceeding seemed to necessitate the course actually adopted. Nor does the amendmentimpair the real rights of any State. It leaves the whole regulation of suffrage of no citizen to vote shall be denied or abridged on account of race, color, or previous condition of rervitude. It is to be hoped that each State will so conform its Constitution and laws to this fundamental law that no occasion may be given for legislation by Congress. But the best vindication of the wisdom as well as the justice of the Amendhad referred. I ventured to say that the best way to insure the peaceful, dwelling together of the different races is the cordial reciprocation of benefits, and not the mutual infliction of injuries. I cannot now give you better counsel rights secured under the Fifteenth Amendment by urging upon Congress the prompt removal of all political disabilities imposed upon our fellow-citizens by the Fourteenth Amendment so that through Universal Suffrage and Universal Amnesty, peace, good-will and prosperity may be established throughout our country " Every good man must rejoice in the progress, which the colored citizens of the United States have made in education, in religious culture, and in the general improve-than I offered then. "Go forward, having perfect faith in your own man-

your faith virtue, and to virtue, knowl-brotherly kindness, charity." Why not signalize your rejoicings in the ment of their condition. Every good man must earnestly desire their continued and accelerated grogress in the came direction; all public and private interests will be promoted by it, and it will insure at no distant day the cordial recognition of their rights, from those of their fellow-citizens, who had most earnestly opposed them. No man can now be found who would restore slavery. A few years hence, if the colored men are wise, it will be impossible to And a man who will avow himself in favor of denying or abridging your right to vote. S. P. CHASE.

WELLSEORO, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1870.

Governor Geary has reappointed Col-George F. McFairland Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Department for three years, dating from April 29, 1870. He was rejected by the Senate-

The National Debt was reduced $3,-933,644 39 in January; $6,484,811 25 in February; and $5,766,349 43 in March; making a total reduction during the first three months of the present year, of $15,184,825 07.

After a long, wearisome contest for a seat in our State Senate, Watt, the sitting member, was finally awarded the place. He is a Republican. We have not kept pace with the proceedings in this case, and know nothing of the merits. Much excitement prevailed in Harrisburg over the final argument before the Committee. Several of the ablest advocates in the State were engaged in the case, and the expenses to the parties must have consumed many times the amount of pay the successful canmajority at the best.

Hon. Gleni W. Schoffedld introduced a bill in the House of Representatives, at Washington, on the 5th instant, to equalize the salaries of the Judges of the United States District Courts in this State. At present, Judge M'Candless, of the Western District, receives but $4,000 a year, which is $1,000 less than the salary of Judge Cadwalader, in the Eastern District.

Judge M'Candless is one of the ablest Judges of the land, a sterling patriot throughout the late war, and a 'gentleman who dignifies and adorns his high office. The business in his district now far exceeds that in the Eastern District; and he has to hold Courts in Pittsburg, Erie and Williamsport, while Judge Cadwalader sits in Philadelphia only. The office is laborious, and not overremunerative. - Every citizen is interested in having the work accurately and faithfully done; and no one should recommegd any person for this place by reason of his political standing merely. We have enough young men who are entirely competent, and who need the help. This system of signing every man's recommendation who teomes along, merely because he is a good fellow, is a nuisance in all cases; and in this, it is an outrage upon the community. Let us have such men as will perform the work thoroughly, that our county may be placed where she belongs in the census of 1870.

After both Houses had almost unanimously passed a bill to repeal "an act relative to the payment of taxes on unsettled lands, approved Nov. 19, 1869, the Governor returned it without his signature. This is the subject to which reference was made some weeks ago in the Agitator. The law repealed was retroactive, and prohibited the introduction of any parol evidence of payment of taxes. Even the receipts, taken in the usual form, according to custom immemorial, could not be given in evidence. Neither could the record itself, but only certified copies thereof .-Such a law could have been intended for no other purpose than to cheat the owners of unseated lands out of their itles, by changing, as it did change, the law of evidence, in such manner as to put it beyond the power of such owners, in many cases, to procure evidence by w hich to render their titles secure. The Fifteenth Amendment makes void so much of our State (onstitution as on account of color denies the right of any citizen of the U. States to vote. The Thirteenth Amendment made all the colored people who were before in slavery, free. If a free colored native was not a citizen before, the text of the Fourteenth Amendment makes him so. As a practical, present question of the hour, the right of the colored man to vote, if he is otherwise qualified, should be treated as settled in

'Mr. Gilchrist is a Democrat, who believes that "unconstitutional force was the means of procuring the ratification of the amendment," yet he is frank enough to admit the binding obligation of the new law of suffrage. He leaves a loop hole to crawl out of, however, when he intimates that "it may finally be held by all the branches of the government never to have been in force." It would be well now to have our

State Constitutions modified so as to conform to the new order of things; but we do not admit the necessity of any such alteration. If indeed such amendment of the State Constitutions were necessary, to secure the negro in didate will receive. The result, owing | his right to exercise the franchise, then to the close balance in the Senate, was the amendment of the United States of very great political importance, the Constitution amounts to nothing. tution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding." Such are the words of the text itself; and it would seem useless to make any argument to strengthen them. When any provision antagonistic to any clause in a State Constitution is adopted as a part of the United States Constitution, ipso facto all such antagonistic terms are rendered inoperative and void. Were it necessary for each State to amend its own Constitution so as to make it conform to the change, then the States which refused their assent to the ratification of the amendment, could prevent its enforcement within their own limits, by refusing to make such change. That is The accelerating growth of Western absurd, in view of the nature of our government. It is the worst form of arising on lake Eric, together with the State sovereignty, destructive of the

We can understand how the citizens of Bradford, of Lancaster, and many other counties which have received a surfeit of pap from the policy of State encouragement to public improvements, can look upon this bill as an impolitic measure, and can conceive how they might even be led so far as to call it 'a scheme to plunder the State Treasury." But we are unable to their minds, be so fruitful and suggest- | ged.-Tribune. ive of reasons why the bill should not now have been submitted to the Legislature at all, since, now that it is vetoed, it has all along been such a villainous fraud. If the bill is wrong, it was as much wrong before as since the veto.-We look upon a veto as the mere refusubmitted for his approval. There is, to our minds, no mysterious, oracular power in it; -it is good for what it reads upon its face, only. There is no peculiar virtue in it for us. We do not see in it either the power of, or behind the throne; and if we were to see both, we think they would fail to change the sion for vetoes, particularly in matters color of this transaction in our mind. We are not pleased with the mode of legislation which has grown into a custom in our State; we have recently given our views condemning the whole system of hasty and ill-considered legislation; and we hoped when this measure came before the Legislature, that it would be fully discussed, and that the bill would be ample in all its provisious to secure the interests of the State. These were matters of detail, merely.— We have sustained the measure, believing that no loss or damage could accrue to the State, under its provisions. We see no reason to change our views upon this subject. The minor constitutional objections raised by the Governor could be provided against: the important one, relating to the powers of the Legislature over the securities in the Sinking Fund, we consider settled by the Supreme Court; and it matters not how fine a distinction is made by that Court, in coming to its conclusion. It is reported in London that the plot of "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" is founded in part on the Tichborne case. That celebrated suit certainly affords splendid material for a novel, but Mr. Dickens's story, so far as it has gone, does not seem to have borrowed any of sal of an Executive to assent to a law it. In the chapters published this week R M Kueney, we are introduced to a character who JT Purvis, promises to afford a plenty of amusement. This is Mr. Thomas Sapsea Auctioneer, "the purest Jackass in Cloisterham." "Mr. Sapsea has many admirsrs; indeed, the proposition is carried by a large local majority, even including non-believers in his wisdom, that he is a credit to Cloisterham. He possesses the great qualities of being portentous and dull, and of having a roll in his speech, and another roll in his gait; not to mention a certain gravely flowering action with his hands, as if he were presently going to Confirm the individual with whom he holds discourse. Much nearer sixty years of age than fifty, with a flowing outline of stomach, and horizontal creases in his waistcoat; reputed to be rich; voting at elections in the strictly respectable interest; morally satisfied that nothing but he himself has grown since he was baby; how can dunder-headed Mr. Sapsea be otherwise than a credit to Cloisterham, and society?" Great Improvement in Densistry.

HAVING purchased the exclusive right of Dr. Folsom's Improved patent Atmospheric Dental Plates for Tioga County. I now take pleasure in offering it to the public as the greatest Disovery yet made in Mechanical Dentistry.

By the use of which, we can overcome any any and all difficulties which have herotofore buffled the skill of the most practical Dentist in the world. Plates constructed upon this plan remain perfectly firm under all circumstances or condition of the mouth, as no air, or particles o food can possibly get under them. Those having old styles, Gold or Rubber Plates, can, at half the cost, have the Improvement applied to them answering in every respect the same purpose as as a new set. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

C. N. DARTT, Dentist.

Wellsboro, Jan. 1, 1869.

This is to certify that we are now using the Improved Dental Plates with perfect satisfaction. Having used the old style of plates for years with all the troubles and inconveniences known in the use of such plates, we cheerfully recommend the improved Plates as far superfor to anything yet known. E.R. KIMBALL.

Dr. R. W. Carr of Baltimore, says:
I take pleasure in recommending your Rosaletts as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cared after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of serofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications at that the patient will soon recover—I have citefully examined the formula by which your your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.
