

'It comes pretty sudden on me,' she replied. 'I hadn't given the subject a sight And I don't know anybody eves, too. I noticed it last Sunday in Well, marry with me, then, That is what I want. We could be real comaway,' returned the impatient suitor .---

' You go up to Elder Crane's, and I'll

Then he hurried away, 'without giving me a chance to say no,' said 'she I had to marry with him, as you might say. But I've got a first rate of a hum,

A YANKEE TRICK .--- One of our pecuto steal them and to mean to buy them.

"Wall, I reckon you han't got no old turned about, and was trotting again hen nor nothin' you'd lend me for a few weeks, have you neighbor ?"

replied the gentleman, picking out the Lier usual sigh drawn out into a little and then went to another neighbor and

The Yankee was again puzzled; he could return the hen, but how was he 'How she will enjoy getting into my to return the eggs? Another idea-and pantry. Lyddy never complained that who ever saw a live Yankee without she didn't have enough of everything one-he would keep the hen until she dozen of chickens asyou ever had your eyes on, and they didnt cost me's cent

Ah, this beautiful world! I know not what to think of it. Sometimes it

