THE CIRCUS.—The expected advent of Cardiner and Forepaugh's circus, caravan and collection of wild beasts, in this village, to-day, is the theme of the curious, pleasure loving pubhe. TIT FOR Tat. - A merchant came into printing office, a short time since, and seeing a oils of papers lying on the table (it being a day for publication,) unceremoniously helped himself to a copy, and said, "I 'spose you don't take any pay for just one paper?" "Not always," replied the printer. Shortly afterwards the printer entered the merchant's store and called for a pound of raisins which were quickly weighed out to him. The printer took the rasins, saying-"I 'spose you don't charge anything when a follow don't take but a pound?" Thousands of places are onen for thousands of boys who can come up to the standard. Each boy can suit his taste as to the kind of business he would prefer. Places are ready in every kind of occupation. Many of them are filled by boys who lack some of the most important points, but they will soon be vacant.— One boy within our knowledge is very fond of smoking eigars and attending the circus and theater. This costs more money than he can afford, but somehow he manages to be there. Other situations I have no authority to speak for them; you had will soon be vacant, because the boys have been poisoned by reading bad books, such as they would not dare show to their fathers, and would being graded by our city authorities, which will be ashamed to have their mothers see. The impure thoughts gathered from these books, will lead to vicious acts; the hoys rained; and their places must be filled. Who will be ready for one of these vacancies? Distinguished lawyers, usoful ministers, skilful merchants, must all soon leave their places for somebody else to fill. One by one they are removed by death. Mind your ten points, boys; they will prepare you to step into the vacancies in the front ranks. Every man who is worthy to employ a boy, is looking for yon, if you have the points. Do not fear that you will be overlooked. A young person having these qualities, will shine as plainly as a star at night. We have named ten points that go toward making up the character of a successful boy, so that they can be easily remembered. You can imagine one on each finger, and so keep them in mind-they will be worth more than diamond rings, and you will then never be ashamed to show your hand."

We were not in at the opening of her lecture,-It is said she made a sableme prayer; and to say that her lecture was of a high order of inellectual and literary merit, would not be seving too much. Call it what you will, there was much accurate thought and rational philosophy Her speech and gostures were entirely involuniary on her part, as she claimed; and while speaking, she affirms, she was in a partial trance state, her body in a prickling consation, such as we feel when a limb is asleep. Her oyes were not only closed, but thrown hack in the head, to induce or comport with, a predisposition to sloop. She spoke nearly two hours; and when her ecture was over, gave permission to the audience to ask any questions. Several questions were asked, and answered in a manner to leave an impression of satisfied curiosity, perhaps, on th eminds of the audience. She was yet in the jah Chorus," and "Johnny Smoker." The whole afternoon was consumed with those matters. We think the time for hearing these cases should be changed, so as not to interfore with the trial of causes, at a time of the week when all the jurymen and a large number of witnesses are yet in attendance. A better way would be to yest the jurisdiction in Commissioners, or leave it to the people, and turn the whole subject out of Court. The Court unanimously refused to grant the licenses in Wellsboro, being satisfied that the weight of public sentiment is against it. His Honor, Judge White, makes no secret of his intention to rofuse licenses in all such cases. In bis opinion, the village is much more quiet and peaceable than formerly; and the doing away of the public example does much to improve the morals of the community. No one could listen to his remarks, without going away with admiraation for his decision of character, and for the fearlessness with which he maintains his opinions on all proper occasions. BLOSSBURG .- Editor of Agitator :-My attention was this day drawn to a remarkable sensational story in last week's Agiiator, by 'Scribe," wherein I am made to personate the principal character. Scribe's inventive talent is brilliant. To illustrate, I will give a plain statement of all the facts from which my conspiracies, foul plots, &c., against the people of Liberty and Inckson, were manufactured. While in Washington this spring, I called on the Second Assistant Postmaster General, for the Obliging; 0, Polite; 10, Neat. Any boy who purpose of trying to secure daily mail service ctween this place and Rearing Branch. I was we examined them, to see if there were any that stated that he had a history of Tioga journty, might be dispensed with, without material injury | which he promised to publish, and doubtless to the mail facilities of the people on said route. I pointed out three; among them the route from Liberty to Trout Run. I was asked if I thought such a change would be acceptable to the people his place filled by some boy who is getting ready of Liberty. My answer was: "I do not know; better write and ascertain their feelings on the subject." A clerk was ordered to do so; and notwithstanding Scribe's assertionito the contrary, such letter was received and answered by the Postmaster, before the change was made. I will only notice one other of Scribe's marvelous flights of fancy. No petition was ever gotten up for daily mail service between Roaring Branch, Blossburg and Liberty. The petition for daily mail service between Roaring Branch and this place, was before the Department several days before I visited Washington. And I have never written, nor caused, nor counseled to be written, any petition for daily mail service between this place and Liberty. A petition for that purpose was handed to me by the mail carrier, signed by about fifty inhabitants of Liberty, with a request that I would sign it and procure other signatures to it, and forward it to the Department. I received the petition at 12 M. At 1:30 o'clock, on the same day, I received notice from the Department that said route iwas established; and the Postmaster at Liberty, I prosume, received notice of the same, at 4 P. M .-In my ignorance, I did not conceive the necessity

Since writing the above, I have learned, by gentleman from Liberty, that Mr. Good Authority has reported that the names on the petition have been attached to a petition for the discontinuance of the route from Liberty to Trout Run. Mr. Scribe, and all his relations, are well aware that said ronto was discentinued before the said potition was signed. I do not fool disposed to decorating soldiers' graves, was duly observed in this place. The business places were closed, and that Mr. Good Authority, from whom he appears to have gleaned most of his information, for his statements are all false and slanderous. Turn him out, or you will lose your good name. J. P. TAYLOR, P. M.

TROY.-One great need that our peo plo have, is the want of some kind of a fire "extingulsher." Notwithstanding we have had some pretty big fires, no one seems to think that if we had had some sort of an engine, a great amount of property might have been saved which was destroyed. If they had had some kind of fire apparatus when the last fire broke out, it could have been stopped in the first store. To be sure. when buildings are burned and built up again, they are a great deal nicer than the old ones; but then it costs to build, and it don't pay to be burned down and built up again every five or ten years. We may expect any night to wake up and find all Troy burned down, because we have nothing to put a stop to the flames.
