An archer of six or seven years went into a barber shop in Racine, Wis., and ordered the barber to cut his hair as close as shears would do it. He was asked if his mother ordered it that way. "No," said he, "but school commences next week, and we've got a school marm that pulls hair, and I'm bound to fix her this term, you bet."

"It is a pleasant thing to reflect upon," says Dickens, "and furnishes an apt answer to those who contend for the gradual degeneration of the human species, that every baby born into the world is a finer one than the last."

WELLBORO, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1870.

A proposition to tax United States bonds, was summarily defeated in the House of Representatives at Washington, on the 3d inst.

We call attention to an article on the census, in another part of this paper, furnished by H. D. Deming, one of the enumerators.

By studying these instructions, our people will save themselves and the census officers much trouble. We earnestly urge all our citizens to read and preserve all we publish on the subject from time to time.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES. In this age of cheap books, nothing is more to be lamented than the fact that many persons having a taste for reading, have no books to read, and the known many a youth to read, and read again and again, and useless-books, of very little consequence to any one, merely for want of something better, and to satisfy their hunger for mental food.

Mr. Bright's bill in Parliament, extending the right of suffrage to certain classes of women, was defeated, by a majority of 129. The result is said to have been received with surprise.

It is easy enough for a body of men, constituting the sovereign power, and monopolizing the right of suffrage among themselves, to vote down such a proposition as this: How it would have been, had there been any women as men to pass upon the question, is another matter entirely.

At a meeting wherein the question of woman suffrage was debated, the ladies neither took part in the discussion, nor voted on the resolution.

At a meeting of the Legislature, the subject of woman suffrage was discussed, and the ladies were invited to take part in the discussion.

ings. A government clerk finds his monthly wages reduced by a retention of the percentage provided by law, with no opportunity to deduct before-hand the cost of little luxuries, of which, in most cases, no receipt is made in making up the yearly balance sheet.

June 7.—The House passed a bill giving artificial limbs, or the price thereof, ($75 for a leg, $50 for an arm), to soldiers disabled in the late war, once in five years. The Senate passed the bill, but struck out the provision granting money commutation.

June 8.—In the Senate, there was considerable excitement over the San Domingo treaty. It seems a certain Mr. Hatch, of Connecticut, was imprisoned in San Domingo, for interference in some political affairs which President Baez did not like.

June 2.—There was a very interesting debate on the Income Tax question in the House, a result of which we take from the Tribune:

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co. The advantage and attractions of this Line for investment purposes, are many and important.

1. It is based upon one of the Great THROUGH LINES between the SEABOARD and the WEST.

2. The SECURITY IS ALREADY GUARANTEED, the greater part of the line having been successfully running operation.

3. The Local Traffic, from the unrivaled Agricultural regions Grand Iron and Coal deposits adjacent, must be large and profitable.

4. The enterprise receives Important Concessions and privileges from the States of Virginia and West Virginia.

5. It is under the management of efficient and well-known Capitalists, whose name are guarantees for its early completion and successful operation.

6. The bonds can be held either in form; they have thirty years to run, both principal and interest being payable in gold.

7. They are of denominations of $1000, $500 & $100, bearing interest at the rate six per cent, in the payable May 1st and November 1st.

From our intimate acquaintance with the affairs and condition of the Company, we know these securities to be peculiarly desirable, and suitable for safe investment, and surplus Capital available for investment, and surplus Capital available for investment, and surplus Capital available for investment.

Holders of United States Five-Twenty are enabled to procure these Bonds, bearing the same rate of interest and having a longer period to run, and to realize a large increase of capital in addition.
