O speek young lover that in all ages With lasting youth your oldest pages Glow ever, over fresh and warm. O dear old story, ever young, Pouts have painted, artists kung! Sure naught in life is half so sweet-Death cannot make you incomplete. Lovers have said those things before-Lovers will say them evermore.

TRUE MARRIAGE.

Whenever," says Chil Hamilton, man pays reverence to woman-whenever man feels the influence of any woman, purifying, chastening, abashing, strengthening him against temptation, shielding him from evil, ministering to his self respect, medicining his wearlness, peopling his solitude, winning from sordid prizes, enlivening his monotonous days with mirth, or fancy, or wit, flashing heaven upon his earth, and mellowing it all for spiritual fertility there is the element of marriage. Whenever woman pays reverence to man-whenever woman rejoices in the strength of any man, feels him to be God's agent, upholding her weakness, confirming her purpose, and crowning het power; whenever he reveals himself to her just, upright, inflexible, yet tolerant, merciful, benignant, not unruffled, perhaps, but not overcome by the world's turbulence, and responding to all her gentleness, her feet on the earth, his head among the stars; helpcroachments of frivolity, vanity, impatience, fatigue, discouragement, thelping inglier to preserve her good mature, to develop her energy, to consolidate her thought, to utilize her benevolence, to exalt and fluming her life—there is the essence of marriage. Its love is founded on respect, and increases self re spect at the very moment of merging Knowye, all good people, that I am doing shift in another. It's love is mutual Land Office flusiness. self in another. Its love is mutualequally giving and deceiving at every instant of its action. There is neither dependence wor independence. Years cannot weaken its bonds, distance cannot sunder them. It is a love which vanquishes the grave, and transfigures death itself into life."

The All Seeing Eye.

One day the astronomer Mitchell-was engaged in making some observations on the sun, and as it descended toward the horizon, just as it was setting, there came into the range of the great telessope the top of a hill about seven miles away. On the top of that hill were n large number of apple trees, and in one of them were two boys stealing apples; One was getting the applies, and the other was watching to make certain that nobody saw then, feeling that they were undiscovered. But there sat Professor Mitchell, seven miles away, with the great eye of his telescope directed fully upon them, seeing every movement they made, as plainly as if he had -been mider the tree with them. So it is often with men. Because they do not see the eye which watches, with h sleepless vigilance, they think they are not seen. But the great open eye of God is upon them, and not an action can be concealed. There is not a deed, there is not a word, there is not a tho'f which is not known to God. + Ec.

says the Louisville Courier, is venched for by him-that is, that the old lady made the reply given here, not that she was quite as old as she claimed: "When the fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry entered the town of Dawson, Ga.; in the spring of 1865, among those who welcomed them was a negro wo

Jeddo, says that Japanese mothers have greater authority over their children than the fathers, and the rights of women are so far recognized in the conntry, that a woman has wielded the scepter of the Mikados. Instruction is never forced upbu either parents or children; it is supposed to recommend itself naturally, by its own intrinsic merits; and every man and woman throb out the empire is able to read, write and cipher.

Mr. Spurgeon is about thirty-six years old, and preached 1,000 sermions before he was twenty one. For the last five years 25,000 copies a week of his sermons have been sold. Not less than 14,000,000 copies have been sold in England, besittes 300,000 in America. From one to three volumes have been published in Welsh, German, Swedish, Dutch; and Italian; besides separate sermons in Gælie, Tamil, and the Maori language of New Zealand.

A notion-seller was offering a Yankee clock, finely varnished and colored, with a looking glass in front, to a lady not re-"Why, it is beautiful," said the vender. "Beautiful, indeed! o look at it markable for her personal beauty. it almost frightens me," said the lady. " Then, marm," said Jonathan, " I think you had better take one that hain't got no looking-glass."

A few mornings since, an employer observing one of his workman stagger ing about his work, accosted him with-"What is the matter, Sam?".

"Noth-nothing, stronly I'm loaded p "You're discharged' than," was the reply. "Then of course I must go off pr rejoined Sam, and away he went.

"Well, Patrick, what have you to say about stealing the pig?" "Well, yer honor, yo see it was jist this: Pig took upon him to slape in my bit uv garden for thra nights, yer honor, and I jist

It was a saying of Socrates, that every man had need of a faithful friend and a bitter enemy; the one to advise. and the other to show him his faults. The 655 street care in Philadelphia,
