While visiting his habitation a short time since, our attention was called to a large over grown Brahma rooster, whom it is said, when he crows, the whole neighborhood is thrown into commation. He discribed as follows: 1

On the hiff-side when the sun was low, Not many months ago, A mighty Brahma's awful crow Broke on the deep tranquility.

But hill side saw another sight, When the rooster rose at broad day light, To exterminate in deadly fight The short-legged China's majesty. Then rushed the dreadful battle's tide,-Then flew the feathers far and wide,

But louder than all else beside, The Brahma crowed triumphantly. In quick succession all arrayed, The neighborhood were quite dismayed, Curs'd the unusual serenade,

In terms of great severity. The battle's ended-new once more, Peace is restored as heretofore, And thanks arise to Heaven o'er . The cessation of such hostility.

Dear dame, you mistake me, if you think I dread the hardships of life—that is, the struggle for competence or character: they are my best friends. Work is my great relief; each day "I chain my seif anew to the carrof labor," and thank God there is work to be done. I like work for its own merit I detest illeness for its vicious influences: leisure I would now indulge merely for the variety which it gives to the landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to be seen to landscape in which the late is to be seen to landscape in which the late is to be seen to landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to be seen to landscape in which the late is to be seen to landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to the landscape in which the late is to be landscape in which the late is to the publishers, Messagn for Observer. "EUREKA" Smoking Is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meorschaum Pipes are daily packed.

Classed by all who consume is as the "finest of all;" it is made of the choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its affects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourselves it is all it claims to be, "The finest of ALL."
