FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR NEWS.

res, (the Bourbou candidates for the French throne,) are not permitted to remain in Paris. The receipt of the news of the recogni-tion of the Republic by, the .U. States, was received with the greatest enthusi-asm by the people. The Swiss Minis-ter, under instructions from his govern-ment, recognized the new Republic on the 9th Jules Fatro replied to Ministhe 9th. Jules Favre replied to Minister Washburne on the 9th.

He says he considers "it a happy au-guy for the French Republic to have oblained her first recognition from the United States, who founded their wise and careful institutions on independent ence and civil virtue, and in spite, of the terrible ordeals, which they have passed through, conserved with unsha-ken firmness their faith in the great principle of liberty, whence issue dignity and prosperity. Nations desiring nity and prosperity. Nations desiring, to become masters of their desting, must follow the course pursued by you, must take as symbols, love of industry and respect of the rights of all. "This is the programme of the government just established here from an unfortu-nate crisis, the result of the follies of demotism? but at this moment we can iade. despotism? hut at this moment we can have only one chie-co deliver the nation from the enemy. There again we have the benefit of your example and your persevering courage. In the ac-complishment, of this, task, we count upon the support of all men of heart, and all governments interested in the triumph of peace. String in the jus-tice of our cause, we have a firm hope of success, and the adhesion of the gov-ernment of Washington gives us confidence. The members of our government, request that we make known to you their gratitude, and beg you to transmit it to your government." Gen: Wimpffen, who shoceeded M-Mahon in command of the French arny at Sedan, issued an address, dated September 3, in which he says: "Soldiers: On Thursday you fought against a force greatly superior in numbers, from daybreak until dark. You resisted the enemy with the utmost bravery. When you had fired your last cartridge, were worn out with fighting, and not being able to respond to the call of Generals and officers to attempt to rejoin Marshal Bazaine by-the road to Montmedy, you were forced to re-treat on Sedan. In this desperate effort, but 2,000 men could be got together, and your General: deemed the attempt utterly hopeless and impractiva-ble. Your General found, with dcep regret, when the army was re-united within the walls of the town, that it had supplies neither of food nor animunition; could neither leave the place nor defend it, means of existence being alike wanting for the population, was therefore reduced to the sad alter native of treating with the enemy, I sent yesterday to the Prassian head-quarters, with full powers from the Emperory but could not at first bring myself to accept the conditions imposed by the energy.
