If we know the little losses, Soroly grievous day by day, Would we then so often chide him For his lack of thrift and gain? Leaving on his heart a shadow-Leaving on our lives a stain.

If we knew the clouds above us, ·Held but gentle blessings there, Would we turn away all trembling. In our blind and weak despair? Would we shrink from little shadows Flitting o'er the dewy grass, If we knew that birds of Eden

Were in mercy flying past? If we keep the silent story, Quivering thro' the heart of pain, Would we drive it with our coldness,

Back to haunts of guilt again? Life bath many a tangled crossing, Joy hath many a break of woo; But the cheeks tear washed, are whitest And kept in life are flowers by snow.

Let us reach into our bosoms, For the key to other lives, And with love toward erring nature, Cherish good that still survives;

So that when our disrobed spirits, Soar to realms of light above. We may say, "Dear Father, love us, E'en as we have shown our love."

> [For the Agitator.] SOLDIERS' HOME.

October 26, 1870, was memorable in the history of the Soldiers' National Home, near Dayton, Ohio. The occasion was the annual visit of the Board of Managers of the National Asylum of Veterans, together with a part of the Military Committee of Congress. The main incident of the day was the dedication of the beautiful chapel of the Home, just finished, and which is said to be the first church erected by the U. States government to the peculiar service of Almighty God. The church occupies a beautiful situation. It is built of blue and gray sandstone, quarried by the veterans on the grounds.-The roof is of slate. It has five windows on each side, 41 by 17 feet, and one in the east end, 14 by 27 feet. These are most beautifully painted. The ex- of Wellsboro and vicinity. terior of the building is 54 by 84 feet .-The tewer is to be 147 feet high. The main room is 48 by 71 feet, and from the floor to the arch measures 45 feet. The pulpit and its furniture are in good style, and the pews and upholstering are plain and neat. The walls are most beautifully frescoed. The building is heated by two furnaces, and lit up at night with gas, patent reflectors being located in the arch of the audience room. The basement is used for a school room for the veterans. - Had the church been built by contract, it is supposed that the cost would have been not less than eighty thousand dollars. Everything connected with the Home has been furnished without any tax .-Adams & Chandler, of New York, presented the beautiful silver communion service. John Ronzer & Brothers, of Dayton, presented the pulpit; Chadwick & Sweet, of Dayton, presented the furniture of the church, with the upholstery work: Jay Cook, of Philadelphia, the carpet and matting; Mrs. Putnam, of Lowell, Massachusetts, to whom the veterans have already been so much indebted, on that day made another present worth $600.

The dedication took prace at 3 o'clock P. M. After the reception of the Board of Managers and distinguished guests, the exercises were opened by Chaplain Earnshaw.

The following distinguished gentlemen were present: Gen. B. F. Butler and wife, Gen. Martindale and wife, Senator Ames and wife, of Mississippi, Gen. Cavender, of St. Louis, General Negley, of Pittsburg, Gen. Osborn, of Chicago, Dr. Wolcutt, of Milwaukee, Hon. Amasa Cobb, of Wisconsin, Col. Claucy, of Washington, Col. Maxwell, that we can please in Price and quality, and if of Cincinnatti, Gen. M'Connell, of Cincinnatti, President Andrews, of Marietta College, and others.

The pulpit was occupied by Chaplain Earnshaw, Rev. H. D. Moore, of Cincinnatti, Rev. E. B. Snyder, of Indiana, Rev H. F. Colby, of Dayton, Rev. Irwin Magee, of Dayton, Rev. Doctor Wright, of Urbana, and others. The dedication sermon, of an hour and 20 minutes, by Rev. H. D. Moore, from Haggai, 2d chapter, 7th verse, and Phillippians, 2, 9. The sermon was scholarly and eloquent. The scope of the address was the great character of the man Christ Jesus. Altogether the dedication was full of interest.

Improvements continue to be made, by the erection of additional buildings, and by increasing the attractions and beauty of all their surroundings, until in a few years no one who visits the West will feel that he has completed his tour, till he has seen the National Soldiers' Home, near Dayton, Ohio.-The institution itself is one of which the nation might well be proud. It is the gift of the country to her defend-

Thus closed one of the best and happiest days ever enjoyed at the Soldier Home. It is called the best finished church in all the West. Reader, if you should ever pass through Ohio, don't fail to call and see the Home, and come to church, for we are not sectarian.-The door is open for all Christians. SYLVANUS DUNHAM.

There seems to be a general disposition to favor the movement for the amendment of our State Constitution, Many leading public men, and a large number of our brethren of the press, favor it, and in all probability the Legislature will act upon the subject at an early day in the coming session. A private letter from ex-Governor Curtin, now Minister to Russia, after stating that he has not participated in political discussions since his residence at St. Petersburg, says:

"But I cannot refrain from encouraging you in the important reform you treat so tuly and forcibly in your last letter. I am rejoiced to learn that an earnest effort is about to be made to secure a general revision of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, by calling upon the people of the State to exercise their sovereign power thro' the channel of a reform convention. Surely, such a movement must meet with the cordial apsuch a movement must meet with the cordial approval, and enlist the positive efforts of the best men of both parties, for the necessity of there'reform is painfully apparent to all. It is not in any sense a question of party polities, and it should be preserved from the dangers of mere partisan direction. The revision of the fundamental law of a great Commonwealth like Pennsylvania, after the lanse of a third of a control sylvania, after the lapse of a third of a century, embracing a decade of matchless progress, is a work of no common magnitude.

"It is most vital to our vast and varied matenial interests, and equally so to our future honor and advancement, that the people should beenabled to perfect their sadly needed reforms in the bled to perfect their sadly needed reforms in the most unbiased and dispassionate manner; and therefore special elections, as far removed as possible from the annual political struggles, should be held, not only for the election of delegates to the convention, but also for the ratification or rejection of the amendments which may be mandments which may be mandments which may be mandments which may be mandments.

rejection of the amendments which may be ma tured and proposed. Such a convention at this time could not fail to elevate the character of our legislation, and to redeem our political system from many of the debauching influences which have become so closely interwoven with it. It would enforce a just deference to the popular will in the enactment of laws and in the exercise of all delegated powers; and when the will of the people is respected, the good name and prosperity of the Commonwealth are never imperiled.
