A. C. WINTERS, A. M. SUPERINTEND-ENT OF GRADED SCHOOLS, And Principal of High School.

T is the determination of the Directors to make the course of instruction as thorough and systematic as can be found in the State Commencing with the primary department, the pupil must master every year's allotted work, before being admitted to the next higher. The best of teachers will be employed in every department, the most approved methods of in-struction used, and the best of care exercised over the pupils in school and out. The Bran School offers these advantages: The Principal is a graduate of the Rochester University, New York, a gentleman of large experience in the best conducted schools of the country, who has spent two years in Europe and speaks German. French and Italian. He i qualified to give superior instruction in History, Fine Arts and the Ancient Languages. Instruc-tion in Higher Mathematics, the Sciences, Bookkeeping and Marie, will be equal to that of the best anademies.

The Board hope to soon be able to secure in-struction in Painting and Drawing, by a lady who has had several years' instruction by the best masters in Germany, and who has practised in the Galleries of Berlin, Dresden Munich and The best school is the cheapest school. Canadian Winter Sports.

Of the richer classes of Canada, it is well known that a set of people more When the cold is most keen and the Canadian river is turned into a mass of joined icebergs, and is no longeran easy when the Grand Trunk railway, that Canada, means to be stuck half way, be run into a snow drift, to be bumped ing under you, to be rolled down an embankment, and roasted alive at its spades and picks. At their head wuz pass over to them-then Canadians men drest in gray, which I recognized make merry; then, American freedom ez ex Confederit officers, who wuz a from social restraints, joined to English bodily hardihood and vigor see what they can both do together to beguile the every man uv em with an expreshun situation. Montreal people tell you that, when you have seen a fancy ball in in contentment. In Canada, skating is ous business, one of the trials of life. one of the tests of personal merit, and offers one of the most conspicuous fields for the winning of honor and renown. Thus Canadians will say of some belle. whose claims to distinction they wish to uphold, "She may not be as pretty as A-, nor as pleasing in manner as B-, but her skating is perfect!" Or of some beau, "He is'nt handsome, and he is'nt agreeable; but you should just see him waltz upon skates!" Bethe middle of the calf, drawing it closer | wuzn't satisfied. Nothing can roll upon wheels in a Canadian wintereverything glides upon runners, to the music of tinkling bells. And then is the time of "muffins;" that is, when a unu, availing himself of he custom of the country, has secured a young lady for the season, to share with him his sleigh-driving and other of the national amusements, in Canadian phrase she is called his "mussin." The origin of the term seems to be wrapped in obscurity; Canadians will not address themselves in earnest to its investigation; and no more serious suggestion can be got from them, than that the things may have been so called "because fellers are always burning their fingers with them."

Of the sport of "toboggining," one of the most curious points is the greatness of its celebrity in Canada, contrasted with the almost absolute ignorance of its name beyond the frontier. - "A toboggin," says a late work upon Canada by a Canadian, "is a light Indian sleigh, made of very thin wood, curled over in front, and used chiefly by pleasure parties in sliding down hillsides covered with crusted but lightly packed snow." A toboggin is made to hold at least two persons, and as, in the practice of the sport, these two persons are usually of different sexes, some light is thus thrown upon the great esteem in which it is held by Canadians. The sitter in the back seat of the toboggin steers, with his hand. Any want of care or skill on his part, is pretty sure to lead to an upset. However, as the sleigh is light, and the selected snow. bank probably not very hard, such upsets are only the occasions for more merriment, and sometimes do good service by calling forth the talent of some clever caricaturist. The cones of iceand snow which, fed by the constantspray showers, grow up at the foot of the falls of Montmorenci, make a famous toboggin ground for Quebec. The larger of these cones sometimes becomes nearly a hundred feet high; but there 's a smaller one, which all except the most venturesome prefer for toboggining. After they have toiled up to the top, they intrust themselves to their miniature sleigh, and slide down at full speed, gaining a velocity which sometimes carries them, it is said, half a mile or more over the level ice surrounding the cone. Of the social effects of such a national pastime, it is almost needless to speak. What could be more likely to break through formality, to make the acquaintance between two persons ripen into the most genial symgether down into the snow? When still be a question for the philosopher. why it should flourish among the best

Rubbing the hands, after doing a day's washing, with a handful of fine relatin to the success uy the Dimocracy salt, takes out that withered look and all the soreness. This is well worth remembering, as all know the discome fort of stiff, and clumsy hands.
