

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
The following names, persons, firms, &c., have been admitted to the bar—subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention:

FOR ATTORNEY.—
J. M. MITCHELL, Wellsboro.
For Associate Justice.—
GEO. H. DAXTON, Nelson.
ISAAC STONE, Delmar.
A. N. BOSSARD, Oscoda.
L. B. SMITH, Bloomsburg.
CLARENCE COOPER, Wilkes-Barre.
B. T. BENNETT, Tioga.
M. ROCKWELL, Jackson.
For County Commissioners.—
D. C. LEECH, Windham.
CHARLES COPPERICK, Belmont.
For District Attorney.—
J. O. STRANO, Westfield.
J. W. ADAMS, Mansfield.
J. H. HORTON, Bloomsburg.

June 14, 1871.

TIOGA COUNTY AGITATOR.

Local Items.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1871.

New Advertisements.

Hardware—Lutes & Kohler.
Road Letting—Wm. W. Baber, et al.
Disposition—Hoyt Tubbs, et al.
Administrator's Sale—Rachel Partidge.

CAN KEEP A HOTEL.—If any of our readers happen to get lost over at Pleasanton as we did, let them try the United States Hotel C. B. White proprietor. He can make things comfortable for his guests, without scalping them in the bill.

The ladies of the M. E. Church, will hold a supper on Wednesday evening of this week, at the residence of Mr. Darby, on Water Street. Ice Cream will be furnished.

NEW ROAD.—We call attention to the contemplated road from Baber's to the Antimine mines, an advertisement concerning which we publish to-day. The road is an important one, and we trust it will be put in working order at the least possible delay.

BROOKFIELD.—A correspondent writes us a very good letter, which we should like to print, but do not have the writer's name; and is common with other newspapers, we make it a rule not to publish anonymous communications. We must have the author's name—not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith, and as a measure of prudence.

THE BAND.—We are informed that the Wellsboro brass band has been reorganized. Those who feel an interest in having the band organization kept up, will doubtless use their influence to every way to make it a permanent institution. The set of really fine instruments purchased by the corporation, at an expense of some $500, should be loaned by those who can afford to call for music, on short notice.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—On Friday afternoon last, about half past five o'clock, as Mr. John E. Smith, of Charleston, was returning home from Catlin Hollow, and when within ten rods of his residence, lightning struck one of his horses, killing him instantly. Mr. Smith, his brother and little son were in the wagon at the time, and escaped unharmed. The other horse was greatly frightened, but was unharmed.

We are compelled by facts to believe that the above named horse, in the instant of the horses' death, half an hour before the lightning reached him. And we would observe, further, that this is the only country we know of where the heavens can kill a horse "quicker than lighting."

MANSFIELD.—While at Mansfield on Saturday last, we gathered the following items. An old gentleman, by the name of Luther Brewster, was killed by the gun, on Thursday morning the 13th instant, a mile and a half beyond Mansfield. The funeral took place on Saturday last.

The rain that fell on Friday afternoon and evening, raised the river so rapidly, that a large quantity of logs belonging to Mr. Bailey was carried away.

Meers, Lutz & Bailey are doing a splendid business in the hardware line, having two stores in full operation. They keep a general assortment of stoves, and all kinds of hardware, which they are selling at low figures. See advertisements elsewhere.

F. M. Spencer, whom everybody knows to be one of the leading artists in the county, is now doing work that is a credit to his skill and talent. His picture on exhibition in his room, considerably that he is master of his business. His patronage extends throughout the county, and his business, we are pleased to learn, is continually on the increase.

Lutes & Kohler's hardware store and Mr. Blackwell's house were struck by lightning on Sunday the 9th instant; both buildings receiving but slight damage.

Many of our readers will remember several crazy jests that were exhibited in the booklets of Dr. Young & Co. last winter. One of these was the counterfeit presentation of the poet and humorist, John G. Saxe; and this, after being in the booklets awhile, was forwarded to the original, and elicited the following letter from the poet to the artist:

ALBANY, N. Y., May 20, 1871.—Dear Sir.—The crayon picture of myself, which you sent me a few days ago during my absence in New York city, I am all delighted with it. Of course I am but a poor judge of the like, but I have some knowledge of art, and can truly praise its artistic merit, which is good indeed. (My wife is not at home) declare that, as a portrait of their father, it is one of the best ever taken of that (to them) interesting personage.

"It is a fine sitting, and placed among the art treasures of my drawing room, and the best wish and expectation for an artist, I am very cordially yours,

John G. Saxe.

"Obsey Thompson" is now established in this village, in a room over Kelly's store, and all who go to look on, are good judges, and say oil-will do well to look him up, through.

He has a gift in the way of fancy fictions on tales that deserve appreciation and encouragement. It is a fine sitting, and placed among the art treasures of my drawing room, and the best wish and expectation for an artist, I am very cordially yours,

John G. Saxe.

The WEATHER, CROPS, ETC.—Having a soft ride for horticultural, domestic, and kindred pursuits, we have probably taken notes of the weather, crops, atmospheric phenomena, &c., to a greater extent than most men in this region, and we have had opportunity for you to note climatic differences in the belt of country between 40 and 45 degrees north latitude, that enable us to speak a word concerning that part of the Appalachians lying north of the high range of hills that marks the boundaries of the "Northern tier." It is a frosty region. We

ROUND TOP CHEESE FACTORY.

—This is the amount of milk received at this factory in the month of June, 1871, in pounds:

W. Shumway	15,160	G. R. Rabell	696
B. G. Clark	15,160	J. S. Lamb	1,652
J. S. Bills	15,160	J. S. Lamb	1,652
P. F. Clau	4,273	G. Webster	2,012
Eugene Clark	5,021	S. Morgan	2,037
W. Peake	5,021	A. K. Philpomond	2,070
W. Peake	4,490	O. Coddodge	1,637
E. Kimball & Co.	3,903	H. Peake	1,772
S. Mills	3,924	J. C. Hart	1,772
A. Thompson	5,183	V. D. Jones	1,850
P. Van Horn	7,394	V. R. Jones	2,843
P. Beckus	5,803	Thomas Peake	1,465
W. Clark	5,803	J. C. Morgan	1,701
A. W. Walker	1,701	H. Morgan	1,025
Total,	128,122

Chancery Blotter, Proprietor.

GRADED SCHOOL 1871-2.—The Directors of the Wellsboro Graded School, desire to call attention to the advantages offered for the next year. Thus far their most sanguine expectations have been more than realized. The success attained during the past year, has been as great and so universally acknowledged, that it is now freely conceded, that not even the R. R. is important to Wellsboro, or excites so much interest her.

Potatoes will be above, and corn, oats, rye and wheat about to the usual average. Some fields have been injured by the frost of June 30, and the hailstorm of July 3d was destructive along its central track; but it was limited in extent and those in the fields, have hardly been seen in making a crop.

Our dairymen and stockgrowers have no reason to fear or complain; and, on the whole, we venture the assertion that the aggregate value of farm products in this country will be found rather above than below the usual average.

There is a notion prevalent among our farmers that their lines are cast in hard places; that the rough climate, and broken, stone and gravelly land surface, make farming a hard and wearying—not to say unprofitable business. There is a foundation of truth in this, that deserves notice.

We have traveled somewhat in the West, we came to see things in a different light. We found that every country has its drawbacks; that the absence of timber, scarcity and cost of fuel and distance from markets, low price of produce, poor water, and liability toague or severe damage, than compensated for the job, ready cleared land. The roads, too, were long ribbon-like, and all the labor of a man at $1 per acre, was not enough to clear a quarter of an acre.

After living for some time in the West, we came to see things in a different light. We found that every country has its drawbacks; that the absence of timber, scarcity and cost of fuel and distance from markets, low price of produce, poor water, and liability toague or severe damage, than compensated for the job, ready cleared land. The roads, too, were long ribbon-like, and all the labor of a man at $1 per acre, was not enough to clear a quarter of an acre.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

Mrs. Hart has recently tendered the position of preceptor in two of the oldest and best families of New York, at a salary twice that which she receives here.

Prof. Chas. O. Thompson will have charge of the Department of Fine Arts.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.

Under the wise system of Graded Schools we have our endowment of all the property in the Borough—at least $300,000—an endowment greater than that of any Academy or College in the State, or in the United States.

Hence the advantages offered need only be limited by the demand and enlightened liberality of our people.

The Principal, Prof. A. C. Winters, has had an extended tour of travel, experience and travel, which is quite creditable to him.

And the advantages offered will be second to none in all departments and grades preceding a College course.