

TIOGA COUNTY AGITATOR

Local Items.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 6, 1871.

New Advertisements.
Guardian Sale—J. G. Argersinger.
Here Found—E. M. Smith.
Lost Property—E. A. Fish.
Pay Up—E. R. Campbell.
New Goods—G. M. Miller.
Parsons & Co.
Thos. Harden.

NOTICE.—Dr. CLARK writes us that he will be at the CONE HOUSE, WELLSBORO MONDAY AND TUESDAY, SEPT. 11 and 12, 1871—aug. 4-7.

PICNIC.—There will be a picnic at Farmington Center on the 14th inst. No pains will be spared to make it a pleasant affair, and a general invitation is extended.

COMMISSIONER.—W. A. Stone, Esq., has been commissioned A. A. G. on the staff of Gen. H. C. Cox, 12th Div. National Guards, with the rank of Capt. Colonel.

CORRECTION.—We are happy to state that Henry Shattuck, who was reported killed in the Revolver collision, has turned up all right.—There are other matters that we have not reported, but we will report them as they come.

THE ROAD FROM Babb's to the Antrim mines has been let at $4,500 per rod. This is a pretty stiff price for this country; but the road is required to be a different affair from the one now on the ground. It is a "hog-back" along the hill side, with some "rock-work." Mr. John English has the contract.

BARN BURNED.—On Sunday morning, Aug. 27, the barn of Mr. H. B. Adams was discovered to be on fire, and the fire had made such progress that no successful efforts prevailed to save the building or contents. Farming tools, hay, grain, &c., were all reduced to ashes. It is supposed to have originated from a high tailing stove. There was a light insurance.

Augustus Redford, Esq., was admitted to the Bar at the present court term. Mr. Redford's quiet, unassuming ways and readiness to oblige, have made him many friends during his sojourn with us. Those who know him best will readily believe that giving him a share of business in his profession. We cordially wish him success.

Some fall corn was left at this office on Friday last. The stalks were over two feet high, but had only one ear, which grew at a height of five feet. We can't endorse such corn. If the whole thing was five feet high, and had two good ears, we would give it a local notice—we would not.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be a village meeting held at Liberty Valley church, at the village of Liberty, in this county, commencing on the 21st instant, to continue one week. A cordial invitation is extended to all who feel interested in a good work, to attend.

At the last Session of the Conference, the following appointments were made for this vicinity:—Butland and Columbia, Paul Smith; Jackson, C. Weeks; Tioga and Lawrenceville, W. Cochran; Mansfield, W. D. Taylor; Blossburg, H. Lankin; Charleston, G. S. Trass; Wellsboro, D. B. Buck; Delmar, J. G. Gaines and Manchester, G. B. Weaver; Westfield, W. H. Brooksfield; A. J. Blanchard; Chatham, W. H. Brockway; Knoxville, J. H. Blades; Farmington, T. L. Weaver.

All who know Dr. Beck, will be glad to see that he is to remain with us another term. The Doctor's unobtrusive, quiet, Christian life has made him many friends—outside the church as well as in it. He preaches his first sermon on the Sunday morning next.

We call attention to the double half-column advertisement of J. A. Parsons & Co., in today's issue. We rather believe in dealing with our home merchants; but such of our clients as choose to trade with the company, do so better than to give the above firm a trial.

"Charley" Mathers has returned from New York, where he has been buying himself poor future dealings with those wanting fall and winter goods.

INSURANCE.—Our young friends Wheeler & Langan, we are pleased to state, are doing a lively business in the way of insurance. They have good, reliable companies, and are very pleasant men to do business with. They are insuring at very low rates, and giving good satisfaction to their customers. Drop in and see them, over C. B. Kelley's store.

REMOVAL.—The "German School House" is being removed as we write. It is a long distance to move a school house, though we think it can be removed in less time than a new one could be built, with this advantage, that when it is on the ground, it thereupon acts as a school house all ready to your hand. While it collapses on the road, you can still build a new one all the same. If it reaches the ground intended for it, the intention is to make it an addition to the graded School building.

FLOWERS OF THE LATTER SUMMER.—A lady who wishes her name suppressed, has favored us with a bouquet, which we mention with pleasure because of its rare beauty and fragrance. They have good, reliable companies, and are very pleasant men to do business with. They are insuring at very low rates, and giving good satisfaction to their customers. Drop in and see them, over C. B. Kelley's store.

THE CATAWISSA RAIL ROAD.—We are advised, from reliable sources, that the stone road is to be pushed forward without delay. It is a long distance to move a school house, though we think it can be removed in less time than a new one could be built, with this advantage, that when it is on the ground, it thereupon acts as a school house all ready to your hand. While it collapses on the road, you can still build a new one all the same. If it reaches the ground intended for it, the intention is to make it an addition to the graded School building.

A NEW COAL VEIN OF unusual promise has been discovered on the ridge between Dutch Creek and the Catskill mountains, and is three miles above the old English settlement.—As we are informed, the vein was struck on the land of John Ardel, and in the vicinity of the large tract owned by Peter Herdic. Cutting through the "reputed depth of the vein above the surface of the ground is about 100 feet, and will have a splendid vein of coal 6 feet thick, which will do. The point of the vein is, that this vein lies in a region which geologists have decided to be barren of coal. And this is not the only ridge in this region where coal exists contrary to geology.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—A Quarterly Convention of the I. O. of G. T. will be held at Wellsboro, on the 13th and 14th, of September next. The Convention will meet at 10 1/2 A. M. on Wednesday the 13th, 1871. The following papers will be discussed:

1. Is the drinking of wine consistent with Christian character? 2. Social drinking. 3. The science of the press in the temperance reform. 4. The cost of the liquor traffic to non-temperance. 5. The duty of the church in regard to the temperance cause. 6. By what practical action on the temperance cause best be promoted?

Public address on Wednesday evening at the Court House, by Rev. D. D. Buck D. D. The convention will continue on Tuesday, and the speakers are invited to attend. Tioga Aug. 31, 1871. J. P. DANFORTH, Secy.

I. O. of G. T.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Wellsboro Lodge No. 61, on the occasion of the death of C. Kaselle Kimball:

Resolved, That in the removal of our brother, C. Kimball, from the world to the higher than we recognize the hand that, while it over-shadowed us with grief, yet doth all things well.

Resolved, That we extend our united and heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted family and to the friends of our deceased brother, whose following will be comforting and faithful.

Resolved, That our lodge room be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, in memory of the deceased.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and be published in our local papers.

THE CONCERT.

In common with our fellow citizens and citizens who paid their dues, we attended the concert given in aid of the new school building, at the Cone House, on Tuesday last. We were well prepared to criticize or commend, as to us seemed just; and, on the whole, we are inclined to commend—at least the vocal part of the performance. The voices were good, the pieces were well rendered, and we have not heard a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

Not that we glibly: not at all; we have not heard of a sweeter soprano than the Misses Adams can boast. As regards the ballad singing, we have never heard a truer voice for the original "Sweet Bell Binger" who could entertain an audience especially with the ballad "We are no blood, with regret, the inevitable Yankee feature of advertising in this performance, as we have noticed it before in concerts, churches, and with humility he spoke—religious gatherings. In this instance, however, we have not performed on the really well played cabinet organ, to wit, "TUNE ORGAN FOR SALE." We suggest that, at the next concert, this ticket be taken from the organ and posted on the "bells."

MARRIAGES.

BEGAN.—Charles, with the 25th inst. by Rev. G. S. Trass, Mr. Thomas Francis Regan to Miss Ursula Barnes, both of Middlebury.

MARTIN.—On the 25th inst. by Rev. G. S. Trass, Mr. A. S. Brewster to Miss Adeline Hall to Miss Christine Beckmann, both of Wellsboro.

DEATHS.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.

BRADFORD.—At Cortland N. Y. July 23rd, Mrs. James P. Bradford, wife of W. H. Bradford and third daughter of N. Smith Esq. of Sullivan Tioga Co. Pa. aged 25 years, 7 months 12 days.