

"Isn't this Bowman's Store?" asked a lady who came in our Store this week; on being told it was, she said it looked so large and different that she thought she was in another Store.

New arrangement of every department on every floor and new store equipment have given more light and wider aisles—and the new Elevators make it a pleasure to shop on any floor. These are the beginning of many new things planned for better Store Service at Bowman's.

Women's Kid Gloves

$25.00 Broadcloth and Poplin Suits at $16.50

And the materials so scarce that manufacturers are buying from each other at advanced prices. The suits were made for a large retail store that met with financial reverses just when the suits were to be delivered. Our buyer happened to be on the spot when the news arrived and made an offer for them. The offer was low enough, you may be sure, but as the manufacturer wanted them shipped at once, and more important, he needed the immediate cash, he accepted and the suits are here.

- Sixty Chiffon Broadcloth Suits in the best colors—navy, Copenhagen, dark brown and Russian green—they would be unusual values at $25.00, at $16.50
- Fifty-five Poplin Suits—black, dark brown, dark green, plum, navy and dregs of wine. Splendid $25.00 suits, at $16.50
- Twenty-seven Imported Gabardine Suits—black, dark brown, green and navy—a better grade than is usually found in $25.00 suits, $16.50

In the above suits there is a very satisfying assortment of the later models and the tailoring is excellent. All sizes are among them—but notwithstanding the quantity an early visit is advisable.

Ninety-five Handsome Coats Arrived Here Yesterday from Wile—And Wile's models have a reputation from Maine to California. Beautiful broadcloths, zibylines, lustrous Meritex and Pomoires and all the fashionable plaids.

MADE HIMSELF SAFE
Young Bessemer Had a Cautious as Well as an Inventive Head
The most trivial incidents have often originated the fortunes of our richest men. Take, for example, the fortunes made out of Bessemer steel. This genius, young Bessemer, had some idea of making steel out of iron, but a poor, newly-married young man has no means of experimenting on a large scale. The story I must tell as I heard it from an intimate friend of Bessemer and is a true tale.

After Bessemer had in his small laboratory experimented with the metals and at last obtained the desired result by blowing air through melted iron he found in the bottom of the crucible a little lump of the famous steel. Now the question was how to make the discovery public. He put the lump of steel into his pocket and made his way to Nasmyth of steam hammer fame. Placing the metal on Nasmyth's desk, he told him that he had made this extraordinary discovery, which would revolutionize the whole metal world.
Then came a little incident which shows what wonderful heads these Scotch financiers possess. What do you think Nasmyth said to his excited inventor?
"Eh, mon, it's very risky to show your wonderful invention. The world is very dishonest."
To which the aspiring inventor replied:
"Right, Mr. Nasmyth. I just calculated who I was coming to see, so with my last half crown I registered the invention on my way."—London Standard.

And There You Are
"It is figured that the average woman spends 242 days gazing into the mirror between the ages of 16 and 70," said the man.
"And it is also figured that the average man spends a good deal more than that gazing after the passing woman after she's used the same mirror," replied the female companion.—Yonkers Statesman.

SCHOOLS IN ARABIA
Pupils Sit Swaying on the Floor as They All Study Aloud
In the schools of Arabia the children, with the schoolmaster, sit upon the floor or the ground in a semi-circle and each has a tablet of wood which is painted white and upon which the lessons are written. When the latter are learned they are washed out and replaced by other lessons.
During study hours the Arab schools remind one of the Chinese, for the children all study aloud, and as they chant they rock back and forth like trees in a storm, and this movement is continued for an hour or more at a time. The schoolmaster rocks back and forth also, and altogether the school presents a most novel appearance as well as sound. Worshipers in the mosques always move about while reciting the Koran, as this movement is believed to assist the memory.
The desks of the Arab schools are odd contrivances of palm sticks, upon which is placed the Koran or one of the thirty sections of it. After learning the alphabet the boys take up the study of the Koran, memorizing entire chapters of it until the sacred book is entirely familiar.

A peculiar method is followed in learning the Koran. The study begins with the opening chapter, and from this it skips to the last. The last but one is then learned, then the last but two, and so on in inverted order, ending finally with the second chapter.
Cause For Rejoicing
"Your wife used to like to sing and she played the piano a lot. Now we don't hear her at all. How's that?"
"She hasn't the time. We have two little children."
"Well, well! After all children are a blessing!"—Dallas News.
