

Steelton News*'WEIN-LESE-FEST' WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY NIGHT

German Quartet Club Members Will Hold First Annual Celebration in Honor of Close of Wine Making in Germany

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Wein-lese-fest, or close of the wine making in Germany and Austria, announced this morning that the program is about completed for the first annual show of this kind in Steelton by the members of the local German Quartet Club and that the practices in vogue in the mother country will be followed Monday evening when the entertainment will be held in the club hall, Front and Washington streets.

The hall will be handsomely decorated with ripe grapes and other fruit which will be fastened to an improvised grape arbor. Guarding this arbor will be several policemen and the comedy part of the entertainment will consist of several persons stealing this fruit, their arrest by one of the guardians of the law and then a mock trial before a judge and jury to be selected by the audience.

At the conclusion of the mock trial a dance will be held to music furnished by the Liberty band, under the direction of Bandmaster Zala.

GAVE NEWLYWEDS JOY RIDE

Neighbors Entertained Mr. and Mrs. William Acker Tuesday Evening

About forty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Acker, who were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock by the Rev. J. H. Royer at the Methodist parsonage, gathered at their newly-furnished home, East End, Tuesday evening and gave the newlyweds a joy ride. Mrs. Acker before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth M. Gross, of Bismarck, Lebanon county.

The Crucible of Fate

Dr. Ross Lowell's professional duties are so exacting that he is obliged to somewhat neglect Cecile, his vivacious girl-wife. She suffers innumerable disappointments in broken engagements and grows somewhat dissatisfied with her lot. Through Maude Leigh, her chum, she meets Richard Burnett, an actor and movie idol, and is dattered by his marked interest in her. Maude casts Cecile for leading part in an amateur theatrical she is giving, and Burnett, infatuated with Cecile, agrees to direct the production of the play. The continuation of this drama is graphically portrayed in motion pictures at the Standard Theatre to-night.

CAPITOL HILL*WELFARE AND EFFICIENCY CONGRESS AT CAPITOL

A Wide Range of Subjects to Be Discussed at Meeting to Be Held in This City November 17, 18 and 19

Copies of the program to be observed at the Pennsylvania Industrial Welfare and Efficiency conference, to be held at the Capitol on November 17, 18 and 19, are now being sent out by John Price Jackson, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, showing the wide range of subjects to be discussed. The first day will be devoted to general and sectional business, during which Commissioner Jackson will tell of the workings of his department during its first year, and there will be talks on safety, fire prevention, industrial hygiene and industrial welfare. The evening session will be devoted to safety organizations.

The second day will be a repetition of the first sectional discussions, and in the evening there will be talks on motion pictures, safety pictures and fire prevention. Safety, fire and industrial topics will be taken up again the last day and in the evening there will be a safety exhibit. An excellent exhibit of the latest and best types of safety devices will be on exhibition as a practical illustration bearing upon the discussion of efficiency and safety methods. Representative men from the various industrial centers of Pennsylvania will be present, and the attendance is expected to be very large.

WAGNER'S "PARSIFAL"

Its Cold Reception at First Moved Hans Sachs to Fury

When Wagner's "Parsifal" was first performed in Bayreuth, the critic Hans Sachs was almost the only one of all the writing fraternity to welcome it as a great work of genius. To the ears of the others it rude realism sounded unmusical. They wanted melody like that Verdi was turning out in Italy, Bizet in Paris and a few minor composers in their own Berlin.

But Sachs was a man of broader mold. He heard the great music of "Parsifal" with unprejudiced ears and recognized the genius of the man. He shouted it abroad in his writings and became furious at a world that would not, perhaps could not, find pleasure in the dramatic voices of the orchestra, its vivid emotionalism and marvelous appeal to the aesthetic nature that is in every man and woman. He knew that the Germans were merely refusing to listen, save for melody, and finally he told them that even in the melodic field Webner was the greatest of them.

Sachs has written eloquently of Wagner's melody, beside which the melody of the Italians in the pallid, anaemic, insignificant. Only now and then, he said, were the Italian melodists other than artificial. Wagner's melody was the spontaneous song of a musical heart. The "Good Friday Spell" was the most exquisite song of praise ever written by any man, no less a song because it was wordless, sung only by the violin and woodwinds.—Detroit Free Press.

Portmaneau Names

The reports in the American press of the movements of troops on the Mexican border are bringing to light some curious "portmaneau words" as names of towns. For example, there is Texarkana, a town in Arkansas near the Texas line. Texico is a town in New Mexico near Texas, and Texoma, a town in Texas near Oklahoma. Other strange looking blends of state names in the west are Calexico, Calada, Uvala, Kanorado and Wyuta.—Westminster Gazette.

For the Collection Box

Jimmy, aged four, had been sent upstairs by his mother to get 10 cents, which she intended to use for the purchase of postage stamps.

Not knowing exactly what a ten cent piece looked like, Jimmy called downstairs, "Mother, is 10 cents a little piece of money?"

"Yes, Jimmy, the smallest piece of money in my purse."

"Oh, I know now, mother! Church money!"—Judge.

BIG CONVENTION PLANNED

Leaders of Negro Race Will Attend Annual Gathering Here of Pennsylvania Colored Baptists

The Pennsylvania Colored Baptist state convention will meet in this city Wednesday, October 21, to Monday, October 26, in the St. Paul's Baptist church, State and Cameron streets, of which the Rev. E. Luther Cunningham, S. T. B., is pastor.

Twenty-three years ago this great body was organized in this city and in the church, and during these years has grown to be the largest religious organization of negroes in this state.

It includes some of the largest and strongest negro churches, pastored by some of the most prominent leaders of the race. The president, the Rev. Dr. E. W. Johnson, has guided the affairs of the body for the last fourteen years and has been instrumental in doing a great work in the home and foreign field.

The amount raised for missions last year was more than $3,000 and in addition assistance was given to the educational work being assisted in Lynchburg, Va., and Downingtown, Pa.

Dr. Johnson is pastor of one of the largest churches of the denomination in Philadelphia and is recognized as one of the most powerful and effective of negro preachers.

Among the leaders of the race who will be present at this convention and make addresses are R. C. Woods, Lynchburg, Va.; Miss Nannie H. Burroughs, president of the National Training School for Women and Girls, Lincoln Heights, D. C.; the Rev. Dr. William A. Credit, pastor of Cherry Memorial church, Philadelphia, and president of the Downingtown Industrial School; the Rev. Dr. C. F. Fox, president of Aged Ministers' Home, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. T. C. Messer, president of Fair-baby Home, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Dr. William Beckfield, field secretary of the National Baptist convention; the Rev. Dr. L. G. Jordan, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board; the Rev. W. G. Parks, vice president-at-large of the National Baptist Convention; the Rev. Dr. E. W. Moore; Alexander Gordon, W. F. Graham, J. C. Jackson, W. W. Brown and others.

Addressess of welcome will be made by Mayor Royal; John C. Nissley, president of the Harrisburg Baptist Association; the Rev. W. S. Booth, pastor of the First Baptist church; the Rev. J. Francis Lee, S. T. B., pastor Wesley A. M. E. Zion church; D. P. Gerald, Mrs. Mabel Grammon and Mrs. Sarah Payne. The church has made elaborate preparations for the entertainment and comfort of the delegates.

Your Castle of Thought

Your Castle of Thought is the most sacred possession you have.

It is your real estate, your house of prayer.

You are the agent. Shall you let in disorderly tenants?

Shall you harbor Doubt, a sickly tenant, to infect well meaning tenants? Doubt is about the worst tenant you can admit. Turn him out.

Doubting some one, any one, never gets you anything.

If the one you doubt is unworthy, then that is his problem, not yours. Give him this to read and let him come and take treatment.

Come and get your thought changed, and all things will be made new.—New York Sun.

A CONVENTIONAL CASE

And So the Eager Suitor Decides Not to Be Eccentric

A proposal was imminent, and they both knew it. He talked politics for awhile, but that topic was soon exhausted. Finally he reached for her hand.

"Dearest!"

She said nothing.

"You know that I love you."

More silence.

"I want you to be my little wife."

Her silence must have given her a slight chill. He switched off to practical talk.

"I get $25 a week, Mabel, and I feel that you think well of me. How about it?"

The girl looked at him steadily.

"George," said she, "I like you well enough, but I'm going to talk to you frankly. Listen. You want me to marry you on $25 a week. I have no interest in the home. I play bridge for money. I smoke cigarettes. I require expensive clothes and continual excitement. I can't cook. I won't learn. I know very little that would be useful. Now, under these conditions do you still want me?"

The young man smiled indulgently.

"Certainly I want you," he answered.

"Why should I have a wife any different from so many other men's wives?"—Philadelphia Record.
