For the Woman Who Demands the Better Kind of Gloves

From the best known European makers of gloves comes this complete showing of fine quality kid gloves.

On the very eve of the opening of the war both France and Germany contributed their best grades of street and evening gloves to our stock so it is with pardonable pride that we point to the excellent qualities to be found in these items:

Women's kid gloves with two large pearl clasps; made in black with wide Paris point embroidery and in white with wide Paris point black embroidery with black sewing. The skins in these gloves are the finest procurable. Pair, $2.25

Women's two-clasp kid gloves of best quality suede; in grey. Pair, $2.25

Women's two-clasp kid gloves in black, white and colors with Paris points and wide embroideries. Pair, $1.50 to $2.00

Vogel's Minstrels

An occasional visit of a minstrel show is a good thing for the theatre-goer. Wearied by a continuous course of problem plays, lurid melodramas and musical comedies, the stately presence and sparkling conversation of the interlocutor appeals restfully to him, while the familiar quips of the end man are hailed as old friends returning from a long journey and it is all very lovely.

Twenty horses are used in Robert Campbell's production of Klaw & Erlanger's "The Round-Up," which comes to the Majestic next Monday and Tuesday, with matinee Tuesday, and to prevent the sound of hoofs on the floor, the management carries what is said to be the largest single piece of cocoa matting ever woven. It is made in even strips, eight feet wide, six feet in length and four inches thick. These strips are then made into one piece by lacing them together with cord lines. Laced together the mat covers a space of seventy by fifty-six feet, and in the last act, the round-up scene, several bucking ponies are ridden in an exhibition of horsemanship, without the sound of a hoof except as it would be heard on the turf. The stage mat, on account of its bulk, occupies the most of the space in two cars. Adv.

At the Orpheum

Always abreast of the times, Lew Dockstader, the celebrated minstrel comedian, who has rarely failed to seize upon live topics for his material, is the leader in the program at the Orpheum this week. Dockstader thrusts his shafts of satire at Mr. Roosevelt. He is alive to the issues that have given the former President the spotlight for the past few years and most of his patter is clean cut and full of meaning. He appears in the familiar khaki costume and his smile displays the prominent teeth of the tourist. For fifteen minutes Dockstader talked and if Colonel Roosevelt would have been present he could not have restrained hearty laughter at Lew Dockstader's impersonation of himself, which is so clever in all the details that it is positively artistic. Also Johnny Dooley and Yvette Rugel, former stars of "The Housewarming," are here to delight this week. To the hilarity of all Mr. Dooley goes through ridiculous gestures, sometimes landing on the other side of the footlights, sometimes almost under curtain and graceful is no name for it, that is with all apologies to Mr. Webster's definition of the word. Miss Rugel is pretty and petite and is just as pleasing as Dooley is funny and awkward. They were a hit. Lucy Gillette proved herself to be a juggler of jugglers. Her feats are wonderful and her manner so pleasing and the staging of her act so unusual that she entertained every minute she was on view. The news of the Orpheum's fine show will travel. It is worthy of capacity audiences all week. Adv.

At the Colonial

Expecting a vaudeville bill of unusual calibre, patrons of the Colonial turned out in big numbers yesterday to witness the first bill of improved vaudeville. Four acts and all of them really good Keith acts, were presented. The fact that the pictures are shown before and after the vaudeville bill, seemed to strike a popular note with the audience. For the first half of the week a fine little musical comedy called "The Bell Boys and the Belles" is the headliner. James Kennedy, who won favor at the Orpheum several seasons ago, is there also, presenting a comedy called "Jack Swift," assisted by a capable company. Two other entertaining features round out the roster. At each performance during the first half of the week the management is exhibiting a reel of pictures showing the parade of the firemen's convention. The event in moving pictures is just as interesting as the parade itself and many in the audience are recognizing their friends. Adv.

TO HONOR WIZARD EDISON

Lights Will Be Turned On At Noon To-morrow—Cars Will Stop a Minute

At high noon to-morrow the ornamental lights in the business district will be switched on and the trolley cars all over the Harrisburg railways system will be stopped momentarily as a tribute to the genius of Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard.

For one hour the Harrisburg Light and Power Company will keep every cluster and standard electric light in the commercial area aglow. For one minute every trolley car on the big railways' system will pause. The grammar school children of the city will take in the observance of "Edison Day" by submitting essays on the great inventor for cash prizes aggregating $25. At 4 o'clock to-morrow the competition ends. It is believed 500 pupils will submit efforts. The compositions will be submitted to a board of judges and upon their findings the electric light company, the donor, will distribute the prizes. There are six awards offered, a first prize of $10, a second of $5, and four of $2.50 each. "Edison Day" will be observed musically too, if a suggestion of some of the local music houses is carried out. This is to have music firms or individuals handling or owning Edison music machines play an appropriate record during the day.

Eagles to Hold Big Smoke The Fraternal Order of Eagles is completing arrangements to give a smoker and a concert by the Commonwealth band, at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, October 22. The smoker will be given in the hall at Sixth and Cumberland streets, refreshments will be served and a number of other features have been arranged for. The program committee is composed of the following: Harry Kurzenkabe, John G. Bless, Jonas Bless, Scott Cornelius, J. L. Redman, George E. Younsling and William Place.

Elected to Sphinx Club

The following were elected to the Sphinx Scientific Club of Harrisburg Academy: Dana Gurnette, Lane S. Hart, Jack Holmes, William A. Smiley, Arthur K. Snyder, Charles K. Saltzman and John S. Wallis. The next meeting will be Friday night, November 6, at 7.30 o'clock.

Addressed By L. H. Kinnard Several hundred persons were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Telephone Society of Harrisburg, held in the Board of Trade building last night. They were addressed by L. H. Kinnard, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Mr. Kinnard spoke on general efficiency in electrical work.

Open Campaign at Palmyra

Palmyra, Oct. 20.—The Prohibitionists of Lebanon county, opened their campaign last evening with an open air meeting here. There were speeches by the Rev. J. W. Edelman and Attorney Elmer E. McCurdy, the party's candidate for Congress, and the Assembly.

Mastery of Music

The mastery of music never just "came naturally" to any human being. The world has never known a more industrious worker than the illustrious Franz Schubert. Yet, if to any one in the world music "came naturally," it seemed to come to him. When the school principal asked his harmony teacher how young Franz Schubert was progressing, the teacher said: "He is a wonder. Whenever I explain anything new to him he always seems already to know it. He must have received his knowledge straight from heaven." Yet, in spite of such superb gifts, there was never a harder worker than he. And don't you think that we, with our lesser gifts, should follow his example? If he, with all his heaven-sent genius, could not succeed without strenuous daily labor, how can we hope to accomplish anything worth while without ceaseless, patient and conscientious toil?—Woman's World.

Pay as you go is an excellent motto unless you have no baggage; then it's pay as you come.
