PARDON ASKED IN FLIM-FLAM CASE

Board Is Requested to Free Man Convicted of Cheating Local Merchant

STROUP TELLS ABOUT "GAME"

District Attorney Explains Plan by Which Storekeepers Are Short Changed—Commutation Is Asked For Murderer

Senator E. E. Beidleman appeared as counsel before the Board of Pardons to-day to plead for the pardon of Mike Peterson, a young man who was convicted on September 23, 1912, of playing a flim-flam game on Harrisburg merchants and short-changing two of them out of $10. Peterson was sent to the penitentiary for from two years and six months to three years. Beidleman contended that Peterson had nothing to do with the flim-flam game, but was the innocent companion of a man who was an adept in the game and took Peterson along for company. Peterson did not do any of the work or have any of the money, said the lawyer. The man has never been in trouble before and has now served fourteen months.

"Give a young man a chance," pleaded the lawyer.

District Attorney Stroup opposed the pardon of Peterson, saying he was a bad man and that when caught all of the goods purchased from the merchants were found in his possession.

"What is this flim-flam game?" asked Attorney General Bell, of the District Attorney.

Mr. Stroup gave an elaborate explanation of how a purchase is made and a large bill tendered, and how during the process of exchange the swindler manipulates the bills so that he gets his original money and some in addition. The case will be decided late this afternoon.

Pleads for Murderer

The following cases were continued: Felix Storti, Philadelphia, murder in second degree; August Carie, Allegheny, manslaughter; John F. Vane Tempest, Berks, forgery; Vincent Figuero, Lebanon, assault with intent to kill; George Foster, Berks, forgery.

Senator Thompson, of Beaver, appeared for Alexander de Phillipis, Beaver, under sentence of death for murder, who killed his boarding house mistress in a quarrel over money. Letters were presented from Judge Holt and District Attorney Graham recommending the commutation of the sentence, and from the jurors and a large number of citizens asking for clemency. W. S. Maxey appeared for Morris Weiss, of Johnstown, in prison for arson, convicted of setting his store on fire. Racial prejudice was urged as the cause of the conviction and the man was alleged to be innocent.

A pardon was asked for Carlo Zaccari, Luzerne, who shot his mother-in-law with a small pistol, causing blood poisoning, from which she died. Six years afterward Zaccari was arrested in Rochester, where he had married and settled down, unaware of the woman's death. It was claimed that the shooting was done while the woman was beating the boy over the head with a chair.

30 Cases to Pass on

Jacob Victor, Allegheny, convicted of rape in 1908 and serving a 14-year term in the penitentiary, asked a pardon because he has lost an eye and his

Worse Than Cheeky

Tailor—Thought I'd met some cheeky customs, but—Bootmaker—What now?
Tailor—I've had to press these trousers four times, and they are not even paid for.
Bootmaker—That's nothing. I went to collect a bill for a pair of boots yesterday, and the fellow kicked me out with them.—Detroit Free Press.

An Appeal to the People of Pennsylvania

It is in the interest of the public—whose chief concern is good service and safety—that the Extra Crew Law now on the Statute books of Pennsylvania and other States be repealed. This law causes a waste of $1,100,000 annually in the employment of unnecessary men on the Pennsylvania System alone.

No one is more concerned than the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in securing maximum safety on its lines. Every train on this railroad has a full crew, and this extra expenditure adds nothing to safety or public convenience. The same money had much better be spent to remove grade crossings, improve tracks, signals, and bridges, and buy steel cars. This extra crew law, which compels unnecessary expenditures, is one of the factors which menaces the ability of this Company to pay present rates of wages to that great body of employes whose activities are needed.

The Public Service Commission should see to it that all trains are properly manned. Such action would amply protect employes and the public. We appeal to the people in their own interest, we appeal to our employes in their best interest, to ask their representatives in the next Pennsylvania Legislature to repeal the Extra Crew Law.

SAMUEL REA,
President, Pennsylvania Railroad Co.
