BELIEVE FIGHTING AGAINST INVADERS

Opinion Prevails in London That Battles in North Belgium Are Adverse to Germans

LATTER SAID TO BE RETREATING

Report That Kaiser's Troops Have Evacuated Ostend and Are on Way to Bruges—British Ships Said to Be Shelling the City

London, Oct. 22, 10.30 A. M.—Reports that the Germans had evacuated Ostend and were retreating toward Bruges and that the West Flanders army, from the vicinity of the coast south to Courtrai, was being hammered into a zigzag line by the combined efforts of the British navy and the British, French and Belgian troops, seemed to coincide at so many points to-day that in the absence of claims of any advances from Berlin, opinion here was that the fighting among the canals of North Belgium, which followed the German rush from Antwerp, had been generally against the invaders.

At any rate the Germans at one point have been driven back as far as Thourout and some dispatches say that their communications in the middle of West Flanders have been so disorganized that troops from Ghent are marching direct to Courtrai rather than join their comrades to the north who are in danger of being cut off.

Evacuation of Ostend Not Confirmed
The evacuation of Ostend was not confirmed this morning but from Berlin itself came a report that British ships were shelling that town while another dispatch said that the guns of the war vessels had destroyed the village of Slype on the canal between Ostend and Bruges, where it is said the Germans have their headquarters. At Slype, only a few miles northeast of Ostend, a British fleet achieved a victory over the French.

It is clear now that ships have been playing an important part in the warfare along the coast. The admiralty officially announces that the monitors Sverne, Humber and Mersey not only bombarded the German position south of Ostend but landed detachments of marines with machine guns. It is reported from other sources that eleven war vessels in all are taking part in the operations but what they are is not announced.

Dodge Submarine Attacks
Curiously enough the monitors retain that title from "Lincoln's cheese box" of Civil war fame and so far, apparently, they have been able to dodge submarine attacks, though as reported on Tuesday at least 12 torpedoes were discharged at them without one finding

SAY ALLIES' POSITIONS WITHSTAND ONSLAUGHTS

Paris, Oct. 22, 6.55 A. M.—The latest dispatches from the battle front in France and Belgium told just enough to make the public eager for more. The allies' positions having been everywhere maintained against the onslaughts of the enemy, to-day's official statement of the war office was the object of hope on the part of the French.

Meanwhile the fighting forces, before resuming the contest, sought anew to discover the weak spot in the lines of one another. The maxim of Napoleon's memorial, "Do not attack in the front the positions you can obtain by turning" is apparently a maneuver to which the Germans are adhering in what appears to be a supreme effort.

In this battle of the north the allied armies, supported by an English squadron, have thus far successfully withstood repeated and fierce attacks of the enemy.

The fields of battle in Belgium, Flanders, Picardy, Champagne, Argonne, Lorraine, Vosges and as far as Alsace, continue to be the scenes of combats where the allies have made gains but a real decisive result is yet awaited.

BOMB-THROWING HELPED BY AMERICAN PETROLEUM

London, Oct. 22.—Under the heading, "America and German Bombs," the "Chronicle" prints an appeal to the United States to stop the sale of petroleum to Germany. The meaning of the caption is that American oil will be used, if it reaches Germany, to propel bomb-dropping Zeppelins. The "Chronicle" says:

"It cannot be a comfortable thing to the American public to know that it is supplying Germany with instruments of barbarism. Germany is leaving no stone unturned to obtain American supplies of petroleum, and there is little doubt that she is succeeding, to some extent, at least.

"Let the American journalists ask the citizens of the United States whether they will tolerate longer the departure from their shores to Scandinavia and Holland of vessels laden with millions of gallons of oil destined for Germany."

London, Oct. 22, 8.35 A. M.—A Norwegian steamer which arrived at Los Palmas, Canary Islands, according to a dispatch from that place to Reuter Telegram Company, reports that she was visited by a German cruiser whose captain declared he had sunk eleven British and French and one Italian steamer.

FRENCH MAKING PROGRESS ON THEIR EASTERN WING

On the Battle Front, Via Paris, Oct. 21, 11.56 P. M.—Much progress has been made recently by the French on their eastern wing, where the positions are of the greatest importance for the future campaign. Fighting goes on there night and day. Three battalions of German infantry, in trying to force a passage through the Vosges, encountered strong detachments of French engineers and artillery, who had taken up a position during the night. The Germans deployed in order to surround the Frenchmen, but the French 3-inchers opened fire and did terrific execution, finally causing what remained of the German force to retreat hurriedly.

There has also been furious fighting at Roye, where the French recently sustained at least a dozen German charges. They finally compelled the Germans to retire with great losses.

GERMAN SOLDIERS DILLED TO DEATH FOR PILLAGING

Bordeaux, Via Paris, Oct. 22, 1.15 A. M.—President Poincaré yesterday received Attorneys Pinchon and Pista, counsel for the two German soldiers, Bruggeman and Schruock, who were sentenced to death on a charge of pillaging. The lawyers asked the President case of the condemned men and based their request on the ground that the two soldiers acted on orders from General Von Der Moltz and Lieutenant Von Stietzenroten.

The attorneys asserted that the officers should be prosecuted and condemned by default when, according to law, the sentence of the two soldiers would be commuted to one of imprisonment.

Set October 30 for Attack

Paris, Oct. 22.—A dispatch to the "Matin" says that the Japanese have set October 30, the Emperor's birthday, as the date of the grand assault against the German fortress at Tsing-Tau. The same dispatch said that 6,000 Japanese soldiers already have been killed in the fighting in Kiao-Chau.

German Spy Not an American
London, Oct. 22.—The alleged German spy who was believed to be an American citizen and whose case came up for a hearing at the Wellington barracks, London, yesterday, is in reality a German subject by the name of Lody. Germany Releases Japanese
Washington, Oct. 22.—Plans for the release and departure from Germany, in the near future, of 50 Japanese held prisoners there since the declaration of war by Japan are being worked out successfully with the German Foreign Office by Ambassador Gerard. Arrangements are being made to have some of the prisoners escorted to border points by American Consuls.

RUSSIAN TROOPS DISPLAY ENERGY

More Swiftly to the Defense of Warsaw and Save City From Bombardment

SIBERIAN BOYS FIGHT BRAVELY

Official News Bureau at Petrograd Reports a Number of Fierce Combats, in Which the Germans Are Said to Have Suffered Severely

Petrograd, Oct. 22.—The official news bureau, in a statement reviewing the fighting around Warsaw, says: "The Russian troops displayed exceptional energy in coming to the defense of Warsaw and saving the city from a German bombardment. The Russian concentration was effected with greater swiftness than was called for by strategical reasons.

"Documents taken from prisoners who were captured during the fighting near Warsaw show that the Germans were confident of entering that city between the fifteenth and seventeenth of October.

Siberian Regiments at Front
"The Siberian regiments arriving at Warsaw were immediately sent to the front, but before they were warily hailed by the population, which was greatly impressed by the martial appearance of these young soldiers. During their bayonet charges at night, in the forest of Motchidlovsk, the Siberian soldiers took many prisoners belonging to the Twenty-first German corps.

"The Seventeenth German corps and some of their reserve corps, who attempted to push forward in the region between Blonie and Prouschkoff, suffered severely. It was there that the Siberian troops, together with other Russian forces, inflicted terrible losses on the enemy. Many villages in the vicinity were taken and retaken in hand-to-hand fighting.

Eight Days' Fight on the Vistula
"In engagements near Kozenica the Caucasian regiments also gave proof of extraordinary courage. For eight days these regiments were fighting on the left bank of the Vistula, in the marshes where the trenches were constantly under water. Here they sustained the fire of the enemy's heavy artillery, but all the German attacks were repulsed.

"Several regiments suffered severe losses and one regiment had three commanders seriously wounded, one after the other.

"The direction of the great battle going on to the south of Przemysl, which has been under way for six days, is in the hands of General Broussiloff. The Austrian losses have been enormous.
