NEW COLORS IN VOGUE

Military Uniforms Inspire the New Frocks—The Blending of Fabrics

New York, Oct. 23. Naturally costumes designed under such warlike conditions as those which have existed in Paris, the last few months, cannot fail to reflect the spirit and thought of their creators. In the gowns which have reached us since the mobilization of the army, military effects are supreme. A great deal of infantry red is used in these gowns, blue, dust brown and a new gray, which has been created and only named "battleship gray." This gray is the shade that warships are painted when in active service. It is a color which blends with the atmosphere until before the observer knows it the ship has faded into the color of the fog and of the sea and can be seen no more.

A Smart Dress Developed in Battleship Gray Broadcloth Combined With Black Satin

On many of the gowns designed for Americans the brassard appears upon the sleeves. It is not applied but is a strip of cloth inserted between the upper and lower part of the sleeve on which a conventionalized symbol is embroidered in self color, gold or multi-colors.

At the Orpheum A. G. Delamater's beautiful production of "Freckles," dramatized from the popular novel by Gene Stratton-Porter, author of "A Girl of the Limberlost" and "The Harvester," will be presented at the Majestic next Thursday, matinee and night. Neil Twomey is responsible for the dramatization and Antol Friedland, the celebrated Viennese composer, has supplied the incidental music and song numbers.

At the Colonial Those who delight in artistic musical acts find a treat, indeed, in the act of the Three Musical Ellisons, offering a picturesque musical novelty as the leading feature of the new bill that came to the Colonial yesterday. The Ellisons are virtuosos of a variety of musical instruments and in the half-light of the stage they give a musical performance that must delight lovers of exquisite harmony, as well as admirers of artistic stage pictures. James Kennedy and company are offering a comedy playlet called "Jack Swift" that is laughable throughout and the other Keith hits include Mahoney and Tremont, in songs, comedy and dances, called "At the Department Store," and the Aerial Barbers, sensational athletes, give a thrilling performance in mid-air. To-day's program in moving pictures is made up of an interesting array of first run licensed films. Adv.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases from week to week. Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat and which does not build up good health tissues. Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner and absolutely restores health to all the organs. If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, H. C. Kennedy will return your money without any quibbling. Adv.

BREAKS A COLD, OPENS CLOGGED HEAD AND NOSE

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Severe Colds or Grippe in Few Hours

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge of nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. If acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. adv.

ribbons. This tunic floated away from the figure giving a breezy effect to the costume and the skirt glistened through the sheer net in a fascinating manner. A charming little Cossack hat of black velvet was perched slightly on the side of the head, on which an American beauty's nose was laid carelessly on the side, a little to the back. The Redingote and Moyen Age style hold sway for the street dress of serge, gabardine, repp or broadcloth. In the dress illustrated a battleship gray broadcloth is combined with black satin. The upper dress, in one piece with the skirt, is of battleship gray broadcloth, on all the edges, with black braid. The inset vest and the skirt is of black satin. A narrow belt of the broadcloth is placed around the dress just below the waist. A cunning little hat is worn with the frock which reminds one of an Indian tompee with strips of stiff ribbon tied together in the center and spreading out, like similarly tied bunches of arrows. This is a unique model which is smart if placed properly upon the head. These days, a hat may be shir, but if the wearer has not a proper sense of the correct manner of wearing it, it might as well be a Turkish fez or an old-fashioned tricorne.

New, indeed, is the second illustration. The coat is of velvet, with collars and cuffs of imitation Persian lamb. The lower portion is cut away, square, in the front, giving an especially smart frock to the coat. A skirt of striped serge is shown with this coat. These striped serges are soft in color and are serviceable, as well as stylish, for the separate skirt to wear with shirtwaists or blouses. Plaids, in the same soft and shadowy colorings are, also, shown and are most attractive. These combine smartly with a corresponding plain color.

Wonderful evening wraps were designed in Paris just before the mobilization of troops, and in them are reflected the sumptuousness of the Middle Ages. Wonderful satins and velvets are embroidered, or brocaded, in designs which remind one of Heraldic devices worn on the garments of the crusaders and the robes of the clergy.

Correct Street Suit in Which Striped and Plain Serge Is Combined and Trimmed Effectively With Persian Lamb Cloth

A magnificent wrap of cardinal red velvet had large collar and cuffs of sable, rich in its baroque luxuriosity, with a cape-like panel, rounded at the bottom, falling from under the collar almost to the bottom of the wrap. This cape was divided into four parts through the center, somewhat like a crusader's shield. The proper placing of an artificial flower is a stunning and ultra touch to the fall and winter frocks. The flower on the hat is oftentimes duplicated in the flower worn at the belt or on the waist. In evening frocks a flow-

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat and Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Out Kidneys—Drink Plenty of Water

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritable, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generation to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in your blood; longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

BRYAN AT BALDHEAD DINNER

Secretary Invited to Attend Novel Gathering in Connecticut. Winsted, Conn., Oct. 23.—Secretary of State Bryan has been invited to attend the third annual dinner of the Baldhead Club of America at the Hotel Winchester here on Thursday of next week. The invitation read: "Dear Sir and Brother: So fast the years roll round the time is again at hand for the solemn ceremonies attending the annual square meal of that polished fraternity whose shining domes of thought protrude and tower above the foliage that merely affords shade, shelter and vain adornment. Those unnumbered domes will reflect back the glare and glimmer of the electric lights and throw upon the ceiling of the banquet hall a hundred and fifty glittering reflections to dance and dazzle in a way that will put your eye out."

Passing It On

A Sunday school teacher, after conducting a lesson on the glory of "Jacob's Ladder," concluded by saying, "Now is there any little girl or boy who would like to ask a question about the lesson?" Little Susie looked puzzled for a moment and then raised her hand. "A question, Susie?" asked the teacher. "I would like to know," said Susie, "if the angels have wings, why did they have to climb up the ladder?" The teacher thought for some moments, and then looking about the class asked: "Is there any little boy who would like to answer Susie's question?" "Everybody."

Modern builders of safe deposit vaults should study ancient Egyptian construction. It beats our all hollow. Remember that it is of very little use to have a good heart if your manner is harsh and unkind.

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This Old Time Skin Healer Is Used Just Like Any Cold Cream

With the first application of bold-sulphur the angry itching attending eczema ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream. For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the eczema right up and it is often years later before an eruption again appears on the skin. adv.

AID FOR REFORMED MISSIONS

Considered at Meeting of Synod in Session at Allentown. Allentown, Pa., Oct. 23.—Foreign missions and Sunday schools were the principal subjects of consideration at yesterday's sessions of the Eastern Synod of the Reformed Church. The Committee on Foreign Missions reported through its chairman, the Rev. Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg, of Philadelphia. It was mentioned that there are fifty-three missionaries including wives, and 131 native workers in the service on the field. Resolutions urging larger support for mission work were adopted, and there were ringing remarks along the same line by the Rev. Dr. A. R. Batholomew, of Philadelphia, general secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, and the Rev. Jacob G. Rupp, of Allentown, field financial secretary of the board. The Synod voted $25,000 toward the building fund of the Allentown College for Women, the girls' school under the charge of Synod. Citizens of Allentown and vicinity recently subscribed $75,000 to the fund, conditioned on the appropriation by the Synod of $25,000.

KILLS SELF ON GIRL'S GRAVE

Suicide Believed Echo of Murder of Miss Schroeder in 1902. Jersey City, Oct. 23.—An unidentified man, about 50 years old, committed suicide in Bay View cemetery, Jersey City, by shooting himself behind the right ear. His body was found lying on the grave of Miss Janet Schroeder, 18, who died in Port Jervis, N. Y., from a bullet wound in the head. She was buried October 3, 1902. The police say the young woman was murdered in a lover's quarrel and the grave in which she was buried was purchased in the name of James Ellis. On two pawtickets found on the man's body was the name Ellis. There was nothing in the clothing of the suicide to lead to his identity. The man was 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighed about 170 pounds, had light complexion, gray hair and mustache.

BRAVING AERIAL ICINESS

Easier for the Balloonist Than for the Man in an Aeroplane. I am often asked why the aeroplane, which has reached at its very highest a little over 18,000 feet, brings back its aviator even from a much lower point, often almost exhausted with cold, when the balloonist floating for hours at a height of over four miles is not overcome by low temperature and hardly inconvenienced. The answer is simple. The aviator rushes upward from the earth, cutting his way in ascending spirals ever against the wind of his own swift blast and the roaring blast of his propeller. He is the epitome of action. He is man's supreme defiance of nature's precedents. The nervous strain is something fearful as the machine claws up the side of nothingness toward a mark in the heavens, invisible yet all compelling, the mark another man has set—the altitude record. Out of sight of the waiting crowds, no longer even a dot in the sky, he may meet opposing air currents, blinding cloud banks that muffle him so that he cannot see the tips of his own wings. He may be forced to buck against adverse conditions so that he keeps circling round and round with the barograph lashed to the side of the machine scarcely moving, and then he thinks about the last man's mark and sets his teeth—and sets the mark higher in the heavens.

He may come back so stiff with cold that he cannot stir from the seat, but a good deal of it will be due to the intensely abrupt gratification had gets away with it entirely unscathed. Meanwhile the balloonist has been "wafted to the skies," if not "on downy beds of ease," at least on an air mattress, with a gas bag going up in docile agreement with laws governing the expansion of gas. The carburetor freezes at a lower temperature than the balloonist's water bottles, because vaporizing liquid in itself produces cold. But I have had water bottles freeze in a balloon often enough, and the temperature has been around zero. The balloonist, however, instead of sending it over the side from the scoop in a fine cloud, you have to break up the stony mass with a hammer lest a chunk fall on somebody's head below. One day when we were shivering in the thickest of ulsters and drinking hot soup with a relish, we could have looked over the edge of the basket and seen the farmers in Iowa having sun-strokes in the hayfields—that is, if we had recognized either sun-strokes or farmers, for at that height a man—who is always hiding under his hat—looks like a period on this page.—Augustus Post in American Magazine.

On the Level Sam and Luke, browsing around, crossed the pasture. The judge's bull saw them, and Sam beat him to the fence by a single stride with nothing to spare. Luke, a bad starter, didn't try for the fence. He stuck to the open. He led the bull around the field on the first lap, while Sam, from the fence, urged him to "a l'il bust er speed." On the second lap Sam exhorted him, "Run, nigger—you ain't half runnin'!" The third time, Sam yelled, "Make ha'se!" Luke risked all in his answer. "Gaww, man," he gasped, "you doan think Ah'm throwin' dis yer race, does yerf?"—New York Post.

They tell me that them there city sharps bunked Lem Jones again," said Sl. "That's right," replied Hi. "He read an advertisement that said you could cure your deafness if you sent $2 for the secret. So Lem sent $2 and got a card that said: 'Get Arrested and You'll Get a Hearing.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them. With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and that a teaspoonful given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. adv.

LORIMER AGAIN INDICTED

With Five Others Accused by State of Bank Wrecking. Chicago, Oct. 23.—William Lorimer, former occupant of a seat in the United States Senate and president of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, four other bank officials and John K. Seagraves, chief clerk in the office of the State Auditor, were indicted in the State courts yesterday charged with conspiracy, embezzlement and larceny in connection with the closing of the bank. The other defendants were C. B. Munday, vice president of the bank; H. W. Huttig, director; Thomas McDonald, cashier, and Charles G. Fox, vice president. The La Salle Street Bank and Trust Company was closed by the State bank examiner June 12. Lorimer previously had been indicted in the Federal court.

RUBBERNECK LEGGINGS

Chicago Women Will Wear Them When the Winds Begin to Blow. Chicago, Oct. 23.—When Chicago's typical high winds set in late this fall, winter and spring, the corner Johnnies are scheduled for a disappointing surprise. The women are adopting a legging which will extend to the knee or higher. Mrs. Alla Ripley, president of the Fashion Art League of America, recommends these mousquetaire leggings to be in thin velvet, to button on the outside up as far as desired. Along the edge and at the ankle may be a dainty band of fur. This is being adopted particularly now by Chicago women. Short skirts may be worn with this legging by the most modest.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS

Tests They Must Pass Before Uncle Sam Allows Them in His Army. Nor is it an easy matter to secure the privileges of a war correspondent with the United States army in the field. First, the applicant must present proper credentials from the publication he represents with a photograph as well as an account of his career, stating the nature of the work he is expected to do at the front and certifying to his trustworthiness as a newspaper man and his personal fitness to accompany the army.

With this must go a certified check of $1,000, payable to the adjutant general of the army, which is to cover his expenses of equipment and maintenance. He must also give a bond of $2,000 to guarantee his living up to all of the rules of the army. If these are violated the $2,000 is to be payable to any charity which Secretary Garrison may name. The correspondent must also take the military oath of loyalty to the United States and agree to abide "in letter and in spirit" by all the regulations of the army. Specific precautions are taken to keep out adventurers, and only men with bona fide credentials and actual newspaper careers are to be admitted to these privileges.—Oswald F. Schuette in Leslie's.

OUCH! LAME BACK. RUB LUMBAGO OR BACKACHE AWAY

Kidneys cause backache! No! They have no nerves, therefore cannot cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain. Rub old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin. adv.
