ATTEMPT TO BURN HOUSE

Plot of Incendiary Discovered in Time to Prevent Big Fire

Waynesboro, Oct. 23.—The police here are making a determined effort to locate the person who yesterday morning made an attempt to fire the two and one-half story double frame house, on Philadelphia avenue, occupied by the families of Christian Minsch and John Graft.

Six lighted candles, one each in many sections of the Graft house, and all surrounded by kerosene soaked carpets were found by neighbors, who broke into the home when they discovered smoke issuing from all the windows and doors. One of the candles had burned down sufficiently to ignite the oiled carpet. The Graft family was out of the borough at the time.

WHY SUFFER ANY STOMACH DISTRESS

When Mi-o-na Is a Quick and Effective Remedy.

If your stomach is continually kicking up a disturbance, causing distress after eating, heartburn, coated tongue, gas, sour taste of food, and you feel blue, irritable and nervous, you are suffering from indigestion and dyspepsia. It is needless for you to suffer, and now is the time to quickly stop the distress and regulate your upset stomach.

Simply get from H. C. Kennedy, or any drug store, some Mi-o-na tablets—a simple prescription that does more than give quick and lasting relief. Mi-o-na soothes the irritated lining of the stomach and stimulates the flow of the digestive juices so that what you eat is quickly converted into healthful nourishment, then you are well and strong, and no longer worry about trifles or have restless nights.

Do not allow indigestion to wreck your health and happiness but get some Mi-o-na tablets at once—they are cheap and harmless. adv.

afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the cemetery at Newville.

OUTLINES HIS REFORM PLANS

Palmer and McCormick Invade Home City of Penrose and Plead With Citizens to Prevent Senator's Re-election

(Special to the Star-Independent.) Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 23.—Some one yesterday sent to Dr. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, a series of questions while he was on the platform at Latrobe. He answered them without pause or hesitation, evidently to the satisfaction of his cheering audience. Dr. Brumbaugh's direct statement that he had no agreement, expressed or implied, with the liquor interests, organized or unorganized, was especially marked by applause.

In the allotted time Dr. Brumbaugh could only reaffirm the pledges of his platform, which brought to him what he termed the "credentials of 253,000 of his fellow-citizens."

"When I am chosen Governor," he said, "I will be Governor and nobody else. I shall earn the salary that is paid to me, and I shall insist upon any State must earn his salary by honest work. If he doesn't earn it, I'll fire him. No power or influence will be strong enough to keep an unworthy man in his job a single day."

Brumbaugh at Greensburg

In his Greensburg speech Dr. Brumbaugh said in part:

"I am absolutely convinced that this great State of Pennsylvania should see to it that laws are enacted that are as humane and beneficent and far-reaching in their provision for the care of our working people as the wisdom of the Commonwealth can produce. This includes the whole program of social service and civic welfare."

"I believe in a good, sane, sensible and effective workmen's compensation act. I regret that the last Legislature failed to enact such a law, and I shall insist that the incoming Legislature shall speedily crystallize the wish of the people in this matter into the law of the Commonwealth, and if elected Governor I shall assuredly sign such an act."

"Our liability act is not sufficiently far-reaching in its provisions as to guarantee to the widows and orphans of those who are fatally injured in our industries the protection which the corporate power of the State should guarantee to them. It may be that by taxing these corporations or in some other fair and equitable manner the money may be put into the hands of the Commonwealth itself and paid by the Commonwealth directly to those who by law are entitled to receive it. It ought to be possible for a man toiling in Pennsylvania to know that if by unavoidable accident he should lose his life in his service to his family in earning for them bread, that they because of his sacrifice shall never want for bread."

"Pennsylvania can point with pride to her already splendidly organized departments of health, and we must go beyond this and with all forms of preventive and precautionary measures safeguard the strength and promote the earning capacity and the happiness of our people who toil with their hands."

Praises Health-Department

"The people of this Commonwealth should be permitted in each county to settle for themselves the question whether or not licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be granted in the country. This in my judgment is a duty which the Legislature and the Executive alike owe to the people of Pennsylvania, and in my primary platform, as well as before the people in this campaign, I have steadily stood, and shall continue to stand, for this form of local option. It is a part of the propaganda for the safeguarding of the health and the strength of our people, and is the natural outgrowth of the teaching in our schools."

"Pennsylvania can well rejoice in her splendid record of support to our charitable institutions; but the method of distributing the money is both unbusiness-like and unscientific. We give enough but we do not give it wisely. This money should be distributed in a purely nonpartisan way, on such a basis as to promote the largest possible good and relieve the greatest amount of suffering. No hand should ever reach into the sources of support for the helpless and needy of the Commonwealth or divert from them any relief or assistance which the good heart of the Commonwealth always has generously provided for. Under wise supervision the State has an absolute right to know that its money is accomplishing the thing which the people intended it should accomplish."

"If I understand aright the dignity and the responsibility of the office of Governor, it is my solemn duty so to administer the laws as to make it easy for the people to do right and hard for them to do wrong, and with singleness of purpose and solemn devotion to duty to serve in an honest and capable way the best interests of all our people. My love for the State, my respect for its splendid past, my unbounded confidence in its glorious outlook for the future alike make it both a privilege and a pleasure to render to the people the best service I can possibly bring to them."

THE "RECORD" AND THE WAR

Philadelphia Newspaper Doesn't Let Europe Crowd Out Other News

About three-quarters of the newspapers of the country seem to be laboring under the impression of late that there is little of consequence going on anywhere in the world but the European war. A notable exception is the Philadelphia "Record," whose editors preserve a just sense of proportion in the presentation of news, as usual. The war is getting all the attention it deserves in the "Record" in the shape of full and satisfying accounts from all the foreign sources, but it is not allowed to overshadow reports of other events, at home and abroad, in which well-balanced newspaper readers are interested. Freedom from sensationalism has served the Philadelphia "Record" well in this war situation.

"Record" popularity is perhaps accounted for by "Record" versatility. The Philadelphia "Record" covers every phase of human activity in its varied departments, and stands in the good graces of every member of the family. It is fair, clean, reliable, bright and entertaining. It is a level-headed all-around newspaper for intelligent people who want trustworthy news of all happenings worth reading about, served in attractive form. Adv.

What the coffee trade think of the harmfulness of the coffee-drug, caffeine, is shown in their efforts to get rid of it—to get a coffee that doesn't contain caffeine!

When they do succeed in getting rid of some of the caffeine drug-content, the result is a weak, "clover-tea" decoction that few appreciate.

But after all their efforts to rid coffee of part of its caffeine, how about the other coffee-drug, "tannin"—about 2-2.5 grains to every cup of coffee?

Tannin is the drug used to tan hides with. Do you know what it does to your stomach? Probably not. Here is what good authorities say about it:—

"Tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion."
"The caffeine and theine in coffee and tea are cerebral stimulants, and the tannic acid is an astringent, affecting especially the muscular fibers of the intestinal walls."

"Tannic acid is universally condemned by all authorities as a hindrance to digestion and health."

Why keep on running the risk of serious interference with health. Why not quit a table beverage that bears in its train a lot of trouble like nervousness, headache, heart, stomach, bowel disturbance, insomnia, etc.

Thousands, suffering from these ills, find it easy to quit coffee when they have at hand the delicious, nourishing beverage—
