SAYS HUSBAND ASKED CASH

Wife, Seeking Legal Separation, Declares He Demanded Her Wages So He Could Buy Whiskey

Because his wife, Anna, would not surrender her cigar factory earnings to replenish his whiskey supply, Joe Kovacs, a former Steelton man, deserted her, so the wife testified in her suit for legal separation before Judge Kunkel this morning.

The husband, according to the wife, now is living in Chicago, having left Steelton more than two years ago. Mrs. Kovacs is unable to speak English and when asked whether her husband has contributed to her support since the date of the alleged desertion she replied through an interpreter that "he wrote to me several times and wanted me to give him my money, but I wouldn't do it."

The wife said Kovacs spent almost all of his money for liquor and wanted her wages "to get more."

Mrs. Vesta Leathery mentioned Virginia Douglass as the respondent in her suit for legal separation from John P. Leathery. The wife said her husband brought the girl to their Cumberland county farm and declared that "before that girl is compelled to go you—meaning the wife—will have to beat it."

This work will have to be done outside of the regular school work—the girls of the morning session going back in the afternoon, and the girls of the afternoon session going in the morning, one day each week. The domestic science work is in charge of Miss Stewart.

OLIVET CHURCH CALLS PASTOR

Congregation Chooses the Rev. W. O. Yates, Theological Student

The congregation of Olivet Presbyterian church last night voted to extend a call to the Rev. W. O. Yates, of Pittsburgh, to become pastor of the church, filling the vacancy left by the resignation several months ago of the Rev. Francis H. Laird. The Rev. Mr. Yates supplied the pulpit of the church recently and was well liked by the congregation.

He is a young man, unmarried, and has not before had a regular charge. He has spent four years in Siam as a missionary. Graduating from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1909. He has since been taking post-graduate work in the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh.

The Conscientious Chinese Child

One of our missionaries, writing of a little girl in the school under her care, says: "Last night Wah Noo told me she wanted to be a 'whole Christian,' as she called it. So we had a long talk and tried to think of all the wrong we had done that day and confess it to each other. She counted these wrongs on her fingers: 'I did not brush my teeth as you told me to do; I did not take off the lower sheet on the bed when I made it up, and I know I ought to always; I got angry with one of the girls at school; I did not use my soap when I took my bath; I did not try to do my example in multiplication; all the other girls did theirs wrong, so I thought I would too.'—Cor. ## 2,500 RESCUED IN VESSEL DISASTER

French Steamer Amiral Ganteaume Is Blown Up by a Mine Off Boulogne

SHIP CARRIED MANY REFUGEES

Thirty Men and Women Drowned or Crushed to Death Between the Vessel During the Rescue of Passengers by the Queen

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 26, 11:30 P. M.—It is officially announced that the channel steamer Queen rescued 2,500 passengers from the French steamer Amiral Ganteaume, blown up by a mine off Boulogne. An appeal has been made for help for the distressed people. When the steamer Queen left the scene of the accident the Amiral Ganteaume was still afloat and British destroyers were standing by.

The mail boat Queen left Boulogne for Folkestone Monday afternoon. When still in sight of the French coast her captain saw volumes of smoke and the water spout up where immediately before was an on-coming French vessel. A passenger on the Queen told the following story:

Passenger's Story of Disaster

"We made as speedily as possible to the damaged ship which then appeared to be going down by the bows. The refugees on board were terribly excited, swarming to the deck, climbing into the rigging and shouting in a piteous manner. They attempted to lower a boat but the vessel was at such an acute angle that it swamped as soon as it touched the water."

A neighboring fishing smack came to the rescue and later two French torpedo boats came up. The Queen attempted to lower a boat but seeing the enormous number of people to be rescued concluded that this course was useless. By carefully maneuvering she got along side and by strenuous exertions assisted in passing the refugees across to her own deck. The sea was choppy and both vessels were heaving, making the work extremely difficult.

Red Cross Assists in Rescue

"Some of the returning members of the British Red Cross were aboard the Queen and rendered valuable assistance. The whole of the refugees were transferred in forty minutes. A number of accidents occurred during this process, thirty men and women being drowned or crushed between the ships. One man was cut in half; another had a foot cut off and a third had both arms severed. Children were thrown wildly across by their agonized parents. Some were safely caught but others missed and fell into the sea and were drowned. Many men jumped into the sea and were rescued by the smack and the torpedo boats.

150 Belgian Soldiers Among Saved

"The effect of having 2,500 more souls on the Queen caused fears of over-weighting the ship and capsizing it.

"One man was cut in half; another had a foot cut off and a third had both arms severed. Children were thrown wildly across by their agonized parents. Some were safely caught but others missed and fell into the sea and were drowned. Many men jumped into the sea and were rescued by the smack and the torpedo boats.

County Treasurer Issues 5,000 Hunting Licenses

County Treasurer Bailey had issued 5,000 hunting licenses up until noon to-day.

Assessors Tardy in Reporting

The County Commissioners are required to send to the Adjutant General's Department not later than November 1 of each year a report showing the number of men in Dauphin county who are liable for military duty. Apparently assessors in the county have forgotten to make the proper return as but fourteen of the seventeen reports have been received up to date.

Marshall Licenses

Charles A. Klinger and Alice Markel, Washington township. Charles E. Sparver and Kathryn Masterson, Harrisburg. James E. Decker and Alice M. Kline, Harrisburg.

At the Photo-Play

Mistral, the great Provençal poet, has been likened to Robert Burns for the work he did. But Burns' task was child's play compared with Mistral's. The Scottish poet found his language fully grown and completely alive; Mistral had to create his means of expression. Provençal had lost every resemblance to a literary tongue, and the new poet-patriot had to mold it afresh, to recreate and to build up on the ruins left by the vineyard and the farm.

"Our Provençal," said Mistral, "was a country lass, ragged and wild." She is now a wonderfully beautiful creature, but it is doubtful whether all the genius of Mistral can keep her alive. The educational reformer in France does not like such irregular beauty.—Chicago News.

Rockless

Mr. Sappleigh—No, I'm not feeling very well, you know. I have thought once or twice lately. Miss Keen—Good gracious! And then you wonder why you are feeling ill. You really should not do such reckless things.—Boston Transcript.
