BERKS WELCOMES DR. BRUMBAUGH

Biggest Hall in Democratic City of Reading Overflows When He Speaks

MAKES PLEDGE OF GOOD ROADS

Republican Candidate for Governor Repeats That He Will Not Be Bossed—Again Makes Clear His Stand for Local Option

(Special to the Star-Independent.) Reading, Pa., Oct. 23.—Before an enthusiastic audience that filled the auditorium, this city's largest hall, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican nominee for Governor, last evening declared that if elected he will be free and unfettered to serve the people. He said his nomination on the Personal Liberty ticket had been unauthorized and that he repudiated it. He promised to look out for the farming interests of the Commonwealth, to pay special attention to the construction of good roads and to develop the rural school system so that boys and girls will realize that it will be to their best interests to remain on the farm.

"I have traveled over the roads of Pennsylvania," said the candidate. "I am more in more than one way. If elected Governor I will handle the road problem like a business proposition. I will get rid of the red tape and delay. I will install good judgment and commonsense.

"I am a free candidate. If elected Governor I will be just as free. I am an unfettered, unpledged man for this office. I will run the affairs. I will give the people the same kind of service as I have given them in my school work."

Pledged to Aid Workers

Referring to other features of the campaign, Dr. Brumbaugh said: "This is not merely a campaign to win an election; that is a mere incident of the campaign itself, so far as I am concerned. This is a campaign to bring to pass for the people of this State things which they need and which they have a right to have in their legislative and administrative officials. I stand here with a clear conviction that the Republican party of this State is able to give to the people at the coming session of the Legislature a larger program of social service with a guarantee and assurance that they can make good on the propositions laid down on their platform and do it better than any other party now asking for your franchise."

As to a workmen's compensation act and amending the employers' liability act, which are likely to come before the Legislature, Mr. Brumbaugh said: "I stand here to say that if I am chosen Governor I shall do my utmost in every way I can in favor of a just, equitable, honest law in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania who toil."

Position on Local Option

The speaker made clear his position on local option, as follows: "I believe also every county in this State should have the right and privilege to decide whether or not local option shall prevail in its county. There can be no question on my position on this subject. I have taken that position and have frequently made this statement all over the State so that everyone who wishes to know the truth knows where I stand and if he does not know that now I know that it would take until doomsday because you cannot convince a man who does not want to be convinced."

During the day Dr. Brumbaugh spoke at Womissing, Shillington, Wernersville, Womelsdorf, Rehersburg, Bernville, West Leesport, Kutztown Normal school and Blaindon.

After the Reading meeting Dr. Brumbaugh was whisked to Lebanon for another address and then back to Wernersville, where he spent the night as the guest of J. Howell Cummings, president of the Stetson Hat Company, of Philadelphia, at the latter's country home on South Mountain.

Questions Dr. Brumbaugh

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 28.—Vance C. McCormick, Democratic and Washington nominee for Governor, last night at Shamokin and at a later meeting at Mt. Carmel, discussed Dr. Brumbaugh's statement that he did not know the liquor men of the State are back of the Personal Liberty party. Mr. McCormick, with Congressman Palmer, "Farmer" Creasy and other Democratic State candidates, came here from Philadelphia last night.

Concerning party management, Mr. McCormick asked several questions of Dr. Brumbaugh, saying: "You have failed through all your campaign to say one word against the real boss of your party organization."

"Now is your opportunity. I ask you again, in the face of the disclosures, and more to follow, what is your position upon Senator Penrose? Will you say just one word in favor of the man who has exerted his utmost in your behalf? Or will you, perchance, repudiate, just once, the alliance which has been set up between you and Senator Penrose and all the evil forces that are behind both of you at this time?"

"Even your political sponsor, Congressman Yare, has had the courage to defy him at least once in public. Surely you will not be less courageous. Tell us, Dr. Brumbaugh, are you for or against Senator Penrose?"

2,000 Cheer Penrose

Allentown, Oct. 28.—Declaring that the Republican ticket would win a sweeping victory at the election next Tuesday, and that the attacks of Colonel Roosevelt on candidates of the Republican party and his support of a Democrat for Governor, would not affect the result, Senator Boies Penrose was widely cheered by a crowd of more than two thousand voters who packed the Lyric theatre here last night. Republicans here say that the attendance and enthusiasm of the meeting showed that Colonel Roosevelt, who spoke at Allentown Monday, had no impression on Senator Penrose's following in Lehigh county.

The Republican candidates made a whirlwind tour through Lehigh county. Lehigh is a political storm center. Senator Penrose declared that the meetings he had attended and the assurances of support he had received from Democrats had convinced him that he would carry the county.

T. R. HEARD IN ALTOONA

Colonel Says He Is No Demagogue, but Is Working to Prevent Discontent in Society

(Special to the Star-Independent.) Altoona, Pa., Oct. 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in speaking in the interests of the Democratic-Washington fusion ticket at the Jaffa Temple last evening, declared of Republican leaders that they were slow to recognize changing conditions.

"I know, for I've worked with them," Mr. Roosevelt observed. "During the thirty years of my public life I've had to hammer at those men. I have time and time again said to them, 'if you don't do something for the people, you'll catch it.' The most I could get out of them was an occasional 'I guess you're right.'"

The former President went back to his cow-punching experiences in North Dakota for illustrations in support of a workmen's compensation law for this State. He declared, in part: "If Mr. Crow or Mr. Penrose would visualize men working on cattle trains in blinding snowstorms, as I have seen them, they would realize the need of a workmen's compensation law."

Colonel Roosevelt spoke of "certain men who like to talk about demagogues. If they feel severe towards me," he declared, "they call me a demagogue; if they regard me severely, they call me an anarchist. To my mind, the saddest thing about Mr. Penrose's candidacy is that these, my critics, pillars of the religious, financial and social world, support it.

"I am not a demagogue, nor are those working with me demagogues. We are, on the contrary, trying to prevent the growth of a wild and vicious discontent in society."

Mr. Roosevelt's schedule began at McKeesport and ended here with two largely-attended meetings. It included speeches at Monongahela City, Donora, Charleroi, California, Brownsville, Scotsdale, Greensburg, Latrobe, Blairsville, Intersection, Bolivar and Johnstown.

The Colonel's audiences ranged from several hundred persons at miner towns to packed auditoriums at Johnstown and this city.

SURVIVORS OF STEAMER SUNK BY MINE ARRIVE IN PORT; STORY OF DISASTER

Fleetwood, Eng., Oct. 28, via London, 4:18 A. M.—The trawler City of London, arrived here early to-day with the survivors of the British freight steamer Manchester Commerce which struck a mine late Monday night off the North coast of Ireland and sank.

Captain Payne and thirteen of his crew were drowned while thirty others were saved by the trawler Second Officer Gee told the story of the disaster. He said:

"The explosion occurred twenty miles north of Tory Island on the main trade route from Manchester to Canada. The ship began to sink at once and was beneath the waves seven minutes after striking the mine.

"The officers and crew exhibited the greatest coolness under the circumstances. We were able to launch only one lifeboat when the ship gave a sudden lurch and went down. The captain and officers who were at the moment preparing to launch the other boats were compelled to jump into the water to try and save themselves by swimming to the single boat already launched. Several of them were carried down with the ship.

"I was swimming for twenty minutes before I was picked up. The last I saw of the captain he was giving orders for launching a second boat. I took command in the solitary lifeboat and we picked up all the survivors and then cruised about for a long time when satisfied that there were no more to be saved we hoisted an improvised sail. We had gone 42 miles when we were picked up by the trawler."
