TURKEY CAUSES A SENSATION IN U.S.

Officials Think Her Entrance Into War May Draw Balkan States Into Conflict

WOULD CUT OFF FOOD SUPPLIES

Military Experts of Opinion That Turkey's Action Will Greatly Embarrass Russia at the Outset—War Strength of Ottoman Empire

Washington, Oct. 30.—Turkey's entrance into the war, though not unexpected, has caused a sensation in official circles here because of the probable far-reaching effect of this action. The probability that the Balkan states may be drawn into the conflict, thereby cutting off a vast quantity of food supplies which it had been expected, would go to the maintenance of the Northern European countries during the war, has brought home to officials here a realization of the close and intense interests of the United States in the latest development.

Neutrality's Slight Thread

Since the outbreak of the European war dispatches from Ambassador Morgenthau have told of the slight thread on which Turkish neutrality hung. He has reported the rise and fall in the strength of the war party, the efforts of the large commercial interests of Turkey, already weakened by previous wars to preserve Turkey's neutrality and of the critical conversations between the Turkish Foreign Office and the diplomatic representatives of the belligerent countries.

Diplomatic representatives in Washington of the allied powers have believed from the outset that as soon as Turkey had fully prepared her army and navy for the conflict she would cast the die for war.

Cautioned by the Powers

Great Britain, Russia and France have, through their ambassadors, made it plain to Turkey, it is understood, what the consequences of her entry might be. The Anglo-French fleet which has been comparatively unopposed in the Mediterranean would bombard the ports of Asia Minor, Greece would probably join the allies against Turkey and the Balkan states drawn into the general imbroglio with the prospect that Italy might be found fighting Turkey as well.

That the conflict might extend to Egypt, Persia or Arabia with the possibility of the Japanese fleet supporting operations of the allies, has been discussed here in quarters friendly to the allies. When reports were current of unrest among Mussulmans in India it was made clear that Japan would offer her services to Great Britain.

The Greek navy, with its two American built battleships, formerly the Idaho and the Mississippi which must be reckoned with, are superior to the Turkish cruisers in armor and armament.

Egypt May Be Drawn In

One of the uncertain elements in the political side of the problem is the effect upon the great Moslem population of India. It is pointed out, too, that there are probabilities that Egypt would be drawn in through her political and religious affiliations with Turkey, thus affecting British suzerainty over Egypt and the control of the Suez canal, a very necessary link in the British chain of communications between England and the great Indian empire.

From a purely military point of view it is believed that Russia would have little to fear from an attack by the Turkish army.

FREE MINERS' SCHOOLS OPEN

Wiconisco and Lykens Among the Places Where Instruction Is Given

The free schools for miners are now open throughout the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, and according to the State Department of Public Instruction the indications are that the enrollment, when compiled, will show an increase over last year. More mine workers are taking advantage of the courses of instruction which won them almost a score of mine foremen's certificates and almost a hundred assistant mine foremen's certificates from the State last year as well as many hundred promotions from the companies.

The full list of schools, which opened on dates ranging from the middle of October to the present, includes those in Nanticoke, Glen Lyon, Wanamie, Alden, Mt. Carmel, West Coal, East Coal, Brady, Sagan, Kulpont, Exchange, Shickshinny, Nesquehoning, Wiconisco, Lykens, Shamokin, Ellsworth, Centralia, Lost Creek, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Minersville and Pottsville.

TURKEY'S FULL WAR STRENGTH

The full war strength of Turkey's army is 300,000 trained men, according to statistics here, but in addition it is believed that there are about 400,000 irregulars, some of whom actually have joined the army while the rest are ready to do so.

The regular army is composed of 15 army corps, most of which are in the East. The infantry is said now to be the strongest branch. The artillery lost many of its guns during the recent Balkan war.

Turkey's naval strength consists of three battleships, four cruisers, three torpedo gunboats, ten destroyers, ten torpedo boats, twenty-eight small gunboats, a coast defense ship and some auxiliary craft. The battleships are old and none has guns larger than eleven inch.

Two of the four cruisers are the Goeben and Breslau, recently secured from Germany.

The ten destroyers range from 266

KUNKEL IS ENDORSED BY PHILADELPHIA "RECORD"

Another Influential Newspaper Advocates the Elevation of Harrisburg Judge to the Supreme Court Bench of the State

The Philadelphia "Record" this morning joined the other influential newspapers in that city that have endorsed, without qualification, the candidacy of Judge George Kunkel, of Dauphin county, a candidate for promotion to the Supreme Court, and urged that he be supported at the polls next week.

To all that he said in praise of the judge we gladly give assent. It is many years since any member of the judiciary in Pennsylvania has rendered such valuable service to the State as Judge Kunkel did by the able and impartial manner in which he presided over the trial of the Capitol grafters. His wise decisions on disputed points left no loopholes for successful appeals, and the conviction and imprisonment of the faithless officials proved a powerful demonstration of the supremacy of the law and justice at a time when it was greatly needed.

In all his judicial career Judge Kunkel has shown the same high standard of public service, so that he is rightly regarded as one of the best Common Pleas judges in the State. It is also to be said in his favor that his candidacy is non-partisan. Of his opponent, Judge Frazer, of Allegheny county, this cannot be said, for he is distinctly the favorite of the Republican Organization. While his record is clean, there is still the stamp of the Machine upon his candidacy. As between the two, voters who believe in keeping the judiciary out of politics should give their preference to Judge Kunkel. It is also to be said in his favor that he is considerably younger than Judge Frazer, and that the State may therefore expect from him a greater length of service.

In voting for judges it is well for electors to remember that the ballot is non-partisan, and that a mark in the party column does not count. The cross must be placed opposite the name of the candidate, and in this case it should be given to the name of Judge George Kunkel.

HARRISBURGER'S CAR BURNED

J. E. Rice One of Those to Lose Auto in Hagerstown Disaster

(Special to the Star-Independent.) Hagerstown, Oct. 30.—Compilation today of a complete list of the 53 automobiles destroyed in the Antietam garage fire last Wednesday, said Harry E. Baker, manager of the garage, shows that the greatest value of the machines was $72,700, with $29,500 insurance. Twenty-eight auto owners carried no insurance.

At least one Harrisburger suffered loss through the fire. J. E. Rice, of the capital city, had stored in the garage a new 1914 model Franklin six-cylinder car, valued at $2,200. It was among the uninsured autos that were destroyed.

The walls of the four-story Baldwin hotel, that was almost destroyed by fire, will be razed to the second floor level, so that business may be resumed at the hotel bar, in the bowling alleys and billiard rooms and in the theatre on the first floor.

The hotel building is to be rebuilt. It was learned late today. Antietam hall and the garage also will be rebuilt, so Owen D. Sherley, the owner, said today.

W. P. C. Cockey, of Baltimore, a former Harrisburger, it became known today, had a narrow escape from the burning hotel Wednesday morning. He knew nothing of the fire, he said, until a porter almost beat down the door to his room in the hotel.

"I finally realized there was a fire I dressed as hurriedly as I could," said Cockey. "Suddenly all the lights in the hotel went out. I started into the hall, but was driven back by the dense smoke. The heat was terrific. While moving about in the dark, I struck my head against something and cut a deep gash in my scalp.

"I finally got to the head of the stairs. I heard some one call from below asking if there was anybody above. I answered and three men rushed up and grabbed me."

The article was removed from the inner surface of Porney's right thigh and placed on the surface of burned right hip of little Paul. The wound is as deep as the hip bone.

The lad has hosts of friends in the city who keep his sickroom filled with flowers. Many send him fruit. His friends from Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school and the public school he attends see him regularly when the physician allows it and at other times boys and girls gather outside his window and talk to him.

Many gathered there this afternoon and Patrolman Balthasar kept a close watch on the house to see that they did not get so close to the window as to disconcert these engaged in the operation.

"DON'T COUNT THE ENEMY; BEAT HIM," SAYS RUSSIAN

London, Oct. 30, 7.11 A. M.—A Petrograd special to Reuters Telegram Company says:

"In the recent fighting near Przemysl two generals reported to their commander, the Bulgarian General Radko Dimitrieff, who is leading the Russian army investing Przemysl, that they were unable to hold out owing to the overwhelming numbers of the enemy. General Dimitrieff replied with an aphorism which will doubtless become history. He said: 'Don't count the enemy; beat him.'"

No action has been taken yet as to repeating last year's appropriation of $140,000 for free vocational schools, part of which was devoted to the reimbursing of two-thirds of their expenses to such of these schools as qualified for State aid, as the Legislature does not convene until January, but there have been no changes in the provisions of the act of May 1, 1913, under which this appropriation was made.
