

'THE LAST TANGO' TO BE SHOWN AT ORPHEUM THEATRE NEXT WEEK

FLETCHER NORTON AND AUDREY MAPLE

The agile Fletcher Norton, who hasn't been in Harrisburg since he starred in Lasky's 'Antique Shop' two seasons ago, is the co-star of an attraction called 'The Last Tango' that is to appear at the Orpheum next week.

Mr. Norton has been called the 'beau Brummell of Broadway' and those who recall his efforts at the Orpheum, or those who will see him at the Orpheum next week, are pretty sure to agree that the title fits him well.

CLIMAX TO FUNMAKING TO-NIGHT ON HALLOWEEN

Yama-Yama Girls, Father Times, Ghosts and Just Plain Masqueraders Will People the City's Streets in Grand Celebration

After being hampered by tight skirts since dame fashion decreed some years ago that they should be worn, a hundred or more girls discarded them last night for the unconventional harlequin suit, or even better than that for the male garb.

It was only Tick-Tack, the pre-Halloween celebration, and what will happen to-night can only be surmised. The harvest celebration, divided as it now is into three nights, is arranged for a climax, to-night being the occasion of the major effort to mask and 'dress up.'

Several impromptu parades were formed in the central part of the city with two drums and a cornet for music. To-night the masqueraders will have a hand and it is safe to say that hundreds of masqueraders will 'join in.'

There will not be an unusual Yama-Yama suit in the city to-night and there will be some funny combinations, such as a relic of Shakespeare's days, topped by a clown's face.

RABBIT SEASON ON MONDAY

Greenbacks Piled Nine Inches High in the Bush To-day to Obtain Hunters' Licenses

Beginning on Monday the season will be open for shooting rabbits and quail in this State. Ten days later the deer season opens. There are more than 6,000 licensed hunters in this county and more than 300,000 in the State.

Farmers have placarded their land with trespass signs for warning hunters not to enter upon them and there are few cases where the game-seekers have been granted permits to hunt. Gunners who have had their dogs in training for two weeks or more say rabbits are plentiful although the season is a little warm for such game.

Two clerks in the County Treasury began issuing hunters' licenses at 8 o'clock this morning and from that time until 11:35 o'clock, neither had had a minute's rest. More than four hundred licenses were issued to-day, bringing the total issued this season in Dauphin county, up to 6,405.

That number is within 800 of the number issued during the 1913 hunting season ending December 31, last. Treasurer Bailey decided to keep the office open this afternoon and this evening to receive applications for licenses.

The demands for licenses came so rapidly this morning that the clerks did not have time to place the receipts in the cash drawer. As each license was issued the dollar bill was swept to the side of the window and by noon the loose greenbacks were piled nine inches high.

PROPOSED RATE INCREASES

Eastern Railroads Prepare Advances to Be Submitted to Interstate Commerce Commission

Washington, Oct. 31.—Increases in freight rates, ranging from ten to forty per cent, on dressed meats, live stock and packing houses products, are being prepared by the eastern railroads for submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The present rate on dressed beef between Chicago and New York is 45 cents a hundred pounds on a minimum car load weight of 20,000 pounds. It is proposed by the roads to advance the rate to 50 cents a hundred and increase the minimum car load weight to 21,000 pounds.

Similar increases are proposed on live stock and general packing house products. Live cattle would be advanced from 30 to 33 cents a hundred pounds between Chicago and New York.

The new tariffs are expected to be filed by or before the end of November. In that event they would become effective, unless suspended by the commission, by the 1st of January.

MAKES DENIAL FOR MCCORMICK

Democratic Headquarters Says He Had Nothing to Do With Death Settlements in this City to-day issued a statement to refute the story that James A. McCormick was connected with the settlement of a mine accident case in Clearfield county in which the survivors of the victims were paid a meagre sum.

This statement sets forth that James A. McCormick, attorney for the heirs of the victims, says that the story that McCormick offered the families of the five victims $2,000 'is a deliberate lie.'

Judge Singleton Bell, also an attorney for the victims, the statement asserts, says that McCormick had nothing to do with the settlement of the cases. James B. Neale, president of the Sons of Mine Company, in whose mine the men were killed, says, according to the statement, that McCormick had nothing to do with the damage cases whatever; knew nothing about them, was only a minority stockholder and never interfered in any wise.

NO DECLARATION OF WAR YET MADE

Neither Turkey Nor Russia Has Taken Any Steps Formally Declaring Hostilities

TURKISH WATERS NOT PROTECTED

Rumor That German Commanders of Cruiser Goeben and Breslau Forced the Situation Without the Authority of the Turkish Government

London, Oct. 31, 3:55 A. M.—No declaration of war has yet been made by either Turkey or Russia and the suggestion is made from various sources that the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have forced the situation without the authority of the Turkish government owing to Germany's chagrin at the defeat on the Vistula.

According to one report the entire Turkish fleet left Turkish waters undefended and the various ships are now cruising about on the Russian coast.

The Petrograd correspondent in his discussion of the situation remarks that the Turkish army is not altogether to be despised, especially as it is entirely under the command of German officers of the highest rank.

Many German Officers in Turkey

The 'Times' Petrograd correspondent says there are a thousand German officers in Turkey at the present time. The commander of the Straits, Colonel Devor, is a German, while General Liman von Sanders commands the Ottoman troops.

The correspondent of the 'Daily Mail' in Petrograd says that the Ottoman Charge d'Affaires is still there and professes to have no information regarding the action of his government.

He also declares that the Russian Ambassador at Constantinople has not as yet been handed his passports by the Porte which only a few days ago assured the Ambassador that Turkey's neutrality was firm. It is assumed, this correspondent concludes, that Germany has found some means to force Turkey into the war.

Grand Vizier Not for War

The only message from Constantinople up to an early hour to-day was a delayed Reuter telegram sent from Constantinople on Wednesday before the recent eventualities changed the face of affairs.

The Reuter message declares that war was farthest from the thoughts of the Turkish government. It says: 'The Grand Vizier has renewed his emphatic assurance to the British Ambassador that Turkey will not embark on a mission to Berlin, Bucharest and Vienna. The object of the mission is to obtain a correct view of the status of affairs in Europe and to convince Germany of the necessity that Turkey shall not depart from its position of neutrality.'

The meeting closed last night with an elaborate banquet, at which a number of visiting Harrisburg members of the Scottish Rite were present, including Dr. William T. Bishop of Harrisburg, who, with George E. Wilbur, of Bloomsburg, and A. L. Reichenbach, of Allentown, had conferred upon them by the Supreme Council, sitting in Chicago last September, the 32d or highest degree in Masonry.

ALLIED FORCES AGAIN OCCUPY LILLE, THE GERMANS BEING DRIVEN EASTWARD

confirm the unofficial statements of last night, that the Germans had evacuated Ostend.

In the east the battle of millions continues without definite result. An Austrian defeat on the East Prussian front is reported by the Russian embassy at Washington. The latest word from the Austrian government is that reverses have been suffered by the Russians at various points in Galicia.

Turkey's hostile acts against Russia soon may place her at war with all of the allied powers. It was said at the State Department in Washington to-day that diplomatic representatives of these powers were preparing to leave Constantinople.

The German point of view of the Russo-Turkish war is presented for the first time in a dispatch from Berlin. Earlier advices telling of Turkey's attack on Russian ports and vessels apparently placed the responsibility for hostilities on the Porte, but in Berlin it is stated that it was in reality Russia which started the war. Turkey's action is said in the German capital to have been a natural sequence to the 'Russian attack on Turkish integrity.'

From London came the suggestion that since no formal declaration of war has yet been made by either Turkey or Russia, the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have acted without the authority of the Turkish government in precipitating the war. The Turkish army is said to be under the command of high German army officers.

SAYS GERMANY DICTATED TURK BLACK SEA EXPLOIT

Paris, Oct. 31, 4:45 A. M.—Only a few French papers discussed the Black sea incident and their attitude is calm and patient while awaiting further developments. Incidentally it is noted that A. H. Tzevelski, the Russian Ambassador to France, and Theophile Delcasse, the French Foreign Minister at Bordeaux, have formally discussed the event.

The 'Figaro' declares that Germany evidently dictated the exploit in order to provoke the Orient what it hopes will be a diversion and that the direct responsibility of the Porte does not yet appear to have been established.

The 'Petit Parisien' says that, first of all, it is necessary to know if the sudden, brutal attack has been approved by a majority of the Ottoman government. At the same time it calls attention to the fact that German authority over the Young Turk party is such that their marine is dominated by Admiral Liman von Sanders. The other papers counsel calmness and coolness in examining the situation.

NO KNOWLEDGE BY PORTE OF RAID ON RUSSIA PORTS, SAYS TURKISH MINISTER

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Turkish Minister of Finance informed the French Ambassador at Constantinople yesterday that the raid of Turkish warships on Russian seaports took place without the knowledge of the Ottoman government and presumably under the influence of the German officers and crew. This information was conveyed in a dispatch to-day from Ambassador Morgenthau to the American government.

Mr. Morgenthau added that the Russian Ambassador received instructions at 3 a. m. yesterday to demand his passports and made an effort to see the Grand Vizier, who, pleaded illness and did not receive him.

The Russian, French and British Ambassadors, according to the same dispatch, are preparing to leave Constantinople together to-night.

Great Britain several weeks ago, when the Turkish situation apparently had reached a crisis, asked the United States to care for her interests in case of emergency, it was believed today the nation referred to by officials, was France. Ambassador Jusserand had a talk with Mr. Lansing yesterday and it was thought to-day he conveyed information received by his government of the state of affairs at Constantinople and the preparations being made by foreign diplomatic representatives of the triple entente to leave Turkey.

Although there still was a view in some quarters that German officers and Turkish commanders of the war party might have forced the situation on the Grand Vizier and his counselors, nothing was contained in official dispatches which could be construed as supporting that theory.

TROPHIES OF THE GERMAN CRUISER KARLSRUHE FOUND NEAR THE BAHAMAS.

LAUNCH OF THE KARLSRUHE AT NASSAU, BAHAMAS

The Karlsruhe and the Emden are at it again. Every now and again you will read this phrase in the newspapers when referring to the two ubiquitous German cruisers and their raid on the British merchant marine. They may truly be called the 'Flying Dutchmen,' as they are no sooner seen in one place than they are reported in another, and invariably follows the official news of another British ship being added to their prey.

The Karlsruhe and the Emden are sister ships. The latter has been operating in the Indian and Pacific oceans, and up to the present time she has twenty-one British vessels, captured or sunk, to her credit. The Karlsruhe seeks her prey in the Atlantic, and up to now she has sunk or captured thirteen British ships.

The Karlsruhe, a war ship of a trifle more than five thousand tons, first came into notice at the outbreak of the war, when she was reported in the vicinity of Sandy Hook, apparently in wait for British ships. Since then she has been variously reported in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, San Juan, Puerto Rico and in the Caribbean Sea. Her last appearance is believed to have been in the vicinity of Nassau, in the Bahamas, where these trophies, pictured above, were picked up. One photograph shows one of the Karlsruhe's launches and the other a life belt which was found in it.

LIFE PRESERVER FOUND IN THE LAUNCH

Does the finding of this little launch, floundering about in the open sea, presage the destruction of this Nemesia of the British merchant marine? Who can tell?

PRINCE LOUIS OF BATTENBERG, WHO QUIT AS ENGLISH SEA LORD

PRINCE LOUIS OF BATTENBERG

Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg was received by the King and resigned his post as First Sea Lord. This action, it is believed, is the outcome of the campaign waged against him because of his Austrian birth and his connection with the House of Hesse.

It is said Prince Louis's action was entirely voluntary. King George, as a mark of his personal appreciation of the Admiral's long service, directed that he be sworn in at once as a member of the Privy Council.

Outside of the fact that he was born in Austria, the chief argument his opponents made against him was that he is the brother-in-law of Prince Henry of Prussia.
