AMUSEMENTS

MAJESTIC
All this week, the Myrtle-Harder Stock Company in six late New York successes.

Tonight, "Elevating a Husband." To-morrow afternoon and evening, "The Girl of the Golden West." Wednesday afternoon and evening, "Stop Thief." Thursday afternoon and evening, "What Happened to Mary." Friday afternoon and evening, "The Escape." Saturday afternoon and evening, "Under Southern Skies."

ORPHEUM
Every afternoon and evening, high class vaudeville.

COLONIAL
Daily continuous vaudeville and pictures.

Myrtle-Harder Stock Co.
The famous Myrtle-Harder Stock Co. opened their week's engagement this afternoon with "Elevating a Husband," Louis Mann's great play. Everything was hustle and bustle at the Majestic theatre all morning long. Large vans have been carting the scenery and stagecraft to the stage of the Majestic theatre where the Myrtle-Harder Company will hold the boards for the entire week.

The company, with their two carloads of scenery arrived yesterday afternoon from Cumberland, Md., where they played last week, having broken all previous records at the Maryland theatre, the total receipts being $2,645 on the week, which only goes to prove that when the patrons get what they want they will go after it, and when they go after what they want from the Myrtle-Harder Co. they always get what they go after. The one great trouble with some of the theatregoers nowadays is that they are too skeptical; they do not believe that a popular priced organization can produce the goods (so to speak) and, therefore, will not give them a hearing. Put aside all your skepticism, please, and see to-night and see "Elevating a Husband" and you will see the play is half over, you will say, "Well I must order my seats for to-morrow night," "because I don't want to miss this company's performance of 'The Girl of the Golden West.'" We've heard so much about that play and now I'm going to get to see it for one-third of what my friend had to pay and I'll bet it will be just as good, then I will have the laugh on him." Other plays to be presented during the week are "Stop Thief," "Cohan & Harris' great crook play; 'What Happened to Mary,' a nautical play full of heart interest; 'The Escape,' Paul Armstrong's story of unwise marriages, and 'Under Southern Skies,' Lottie Blair Parker's beautiful Southern romance.

John Drew
The success of the collaboration of Michael Morton and Dario Nicodemini in making John Drew's present success during the week are "Stop Thief," "Cohan & Harris' great crook play; 'What Happened to Mary,' a nautical play full of heart interest; 'The Escape,' Paul Armstrong's story of unwise marriages, and 'Under Southern Skies,' Lottie Blair Parker's beautiful Southern romance.

At the Orpheum
The natty and agile Fletcher Norton, who distinguished himself in Harrisburg before, playing a leading role in Lesky's "Antique Shop" returns to the Orpheum to-day, co-starring with beautiful Audrey Maple in a gigantic dancing spectacle called "The Last Tango." It will be remembered that Mr. Norton interpreted the role of the lover in the "Antique Shop" when he broke the magic vase and released his sweetheart. Then a dance ensued, which was the climax and close of the act. To-day Mr. Norton returns to the Orpheum, playing the role of a cabaret idol, a general adventurer and ne'er-do-well, who is in love with and loved by the pet of the Paris public, the role essayed by Miss Maple. Gorgeous scenery, a splendid chorus and fascinating and interesting story, make "The Last Tango" a notable headliner. Of course the principals are the act's greatest assets. Mr. Norton is known as the Beau Brummell of Broadway and incidentally it will be remembered he was the husband of Valteska Suratt, who appeared at the Orpheum several weeks ago. Miss Maple is clever and a noted beauty, although this will be her first Harrisburg appearance. The Langlons, vaudeville's celebrated fansters, return in a screaming comedy "On the Boulevard;" the Werner-Amorous troupe, a spirited trio of singers, dancers and piano players promise to create a small sensation, and other interesting turns will be contributed by Leo Beera, Kingston and Ebner and Wilson and Larson.

At the Colonial
Dispensing with the morning and early evening picture performances, the Colonial to-day inaugurates its big opening as a popular priced vaudeville theatre. There will be no show whatever until 2 o'clock when the doors open for the first vaudeville performance, which will begin at 2.30. One complete performance of four Keith acts and the usual program of first run licensed films will be shown in the afternoon. At its close the playhouse will again be dark until 6.30 in the evening. From 7 o'clock on there will be two complete performances and those coming in late on the first show will be privileged to remain over into the second as before.

Gerard Gardner and company, presenting a decidedly laughable and clever comedy called "Dooley and the Diamond," head the vaudeville festivity booked for the first half of the week. The Bradshaw will present a wonderful gymnastic exhibition on the same bill and friend Rita Redford, who has won many friends in Harrisburg before, will offer a budget of tuneful songs. Daley and Kramer, comedy triller and dancers, will round out the roster.

Moore to Receive Election Returns
The Moose home at Third and Boas streets will be a busy place Tuesday evening. Members of the lodge have been invited to receive the election returns first hand. A direct wire will run into the home.

TURKISH WARSHIPS AND RUSSIAN SHORE BATTERIES IN FIGHT AT SEBASTOPOL

the suburbs of Arras. This resulted in failure, as did other movements against Lihons and Leques-en-Santerre.

"On the center, in the region of the Aisne, we made slight progress to-day to the north of the forest of Aigue, as well as at certain points on the right bank of the Aisne between this forest and Soissons.

"At Amont-de-Vailly an attack directed against those of our troops who were in possession of the heights on the right bank of the Aisne also resulted in failure. The same outcome attended several night attacks delivered in the heights of the highway des Dames.

"In the region of Rheims, between the Argonne and the Meuse, there was noticed yesterday a recurrence of activity on the part of the enemy's heavy artillery. The bombardment by these pieces, however, did not show any appreciable result.

"On our right wing an offensive movement of reconnaissance by the enemy on Nomeny was repulsed.

"In the Vosges, in addition to the fact that we have recaptured the heights which dominate Mount Sainte Marie, we have made progress in the region of Ban De Sapt, where we occupy the positions from which the artillery of the enemy has been bombarding the town of St. Die."

The renewed assaults of the Germans, which have led in the last few days to the most violent fighting of the war, are still progressing with fury almost unparalleled, but there have been no changes of importance at any point along the 300-mile line of battle. Official reports to-day from Berlin and Paris agree that the deadlock still prevailed. Here and there minor advantages have been won but the main positions are being held on both sides with dogged tenacity, notwithstanding the bitterness of the fighting and the enormous sacrifices of life.

The confidence of Germany as to the ultimate result is reflected in the words of Emperor William. "Under all circumstances the enemy will be beaten," he said in addressing one of his regiments.

Berlin states officially that the situation is regarded as the most favorable for some time, although it gives no new details of the fighting. The French statement is equally hopeful in tone. The allies are said to have made slight progress at various points, including the blood-soaked fields of Flanders, in the vicinity of Dixmude. On the center and right of the allied lines assaults of the Germans are said to have been repulsed.

The German and Austrian forces in the east, compelled to retire before the Russian advance, have taken up new positions and a renewal of general fighting impends. Austrian successes on the Russian left flank are claimed in Berlin.

Apparently Turkey is now definitely involved in the general war. What the allies described as the "last chance" for Turkey to keep out of the struggle by disavowing responsibility for the acts of her Black Sea fleet has not been accepted and the British government to-day handed his passports to the Turkish ambassador, following similar action by Russia. Meanwhile the Turkish fleet continues its acts of aggression. The Goeben and Breslau, German cruisers acquired by Turkey, and four Turkish torpedo boats are reported to have renewed their bombardment of Russian towns in the Crimea. The presence is reported of Turkish gunboats at the entrance of Gulf of Suez and Turkish troops at an Arab village on the gulf.

Bulgaria, faced with the bitter alternative of opposing her former protector, Russia, or fighting with her enemies, Greece and Serbia, if such joins in the war, has decided, according to a message from Sofia, to remain neutral. No word has been received regarding the decision of Greece and Rumania, whose participation in the war is regarded as not unlikely on account of the actions of Turkey.

Heavy fighting has been resumed along the Austro-Serbian border. According to official advices from Vienna, the Austrians crossed the Save and Drina rivers, drove back the enemy and occupied several towns. This is disputed by Servians, who state that the Austrian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

All accounts agree that the loss of life in the fighting of the last fortnight has been tremendous, owing presumably to the fact that the fighting has been largely in the open, exposing large bodies of troops to the deadly work of modern instruments of war.

INDICTMENTS IN NEW HAVEN CASE

Henry K. McHarg, Edward Milligan, F. F. Brewster and F. P. Maxwell. These twenty-one men are charged, in the language of the indictment, as follows:

Language of Indictment
"With having combined and conspired together with other persons to monopolize commerce consisting in the transportation business."

Every State Is Concerned
The indictment enumerates a large number of corporations (approximately 160) whose business, it is charged, was to be monopolized. The late J. P. Morgan is named in the bill as one of the conspirators. Among the officers and former directors of the New Haven and also mentioned as conspirators, but not indicted, were:

Edward N. Reed, Charles P. Clark, Chauncey M. Depew, Lucius Tuttle, Charles S. Meller, Royal C. Taft, Richard A. McCurdy, H. McK. Twombly, Alexander J. Cassatt, Timothy E. Byrne, Edward G. Buckland, Oleg E. Thorne and Marsden J. Perry, and divers officers, agents, attorneys and employees of the New Haven Company whose names are to Grand Jurors unknown.

Monopolization of Commerce
After naming the 160 corporations, the indictment charges that the conspirators used certain of them, including the New England Navigation Company, the Boston Railroad Holding Company, the Billard Company and the New England Steamship Company, through their influence, credit and funds to impose upon the other corporations contracts and working arrangements which would insure monopolization of commerce "in harmony with the designs of such conspirators."
