

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE IN STATE

Number of Cases in Pennsylvania. According to Live Stock Sanitary Officials

QUARANTINE IS ESTABLISHED

State and Federal Authorities Act in Conjunction in Efforts to Wipe Out the Disease—Quarantine Does Not Apply to Horses

According to officials of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board in Harrisburg to-day, cases of foot and mouth disease exist in Pittsburgh, West Chester and Grater's Ford and there are two herds in Lancaster county under suspicion. Agents of the Board, acting in conjunction with the Federal authorities, have established a strict quarantine and animals will be released from stock yards under surveillance only for purposes of immediate slaughter. All cattle imported into the State from Buffalo or Chicago are being traced by agents of the Board.

State Veterinarian C. J. Marshall has established temporary headquarters at Pittsburgh, where he is handling the quarantine for the western part of the State and keeping in close touch with the eastern part of the State by long-distance telephone. Although this was a legal holiday, the offices of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board at the Capitol were kept open.

No Quarantine on Horses. Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 3.—It was stated here to-day that the live stock quarantine against the foot and mouth disease does not apply to horses, and that shipment of horses for European countries was being continued. The horses are "dipped," that is, they are walked through a liquid calculated to protect them from the disease. Twenty-eight carloads of horses were forwarded to seaboard points during the night.

Many Cattle Being Destroyed. Washington, Nov. 3.—Officials of the Department of Agriculture were notified to-day that the foot and mouth disease in the Middle West had been discovered in the cattle herd of Notre Dame University. The entire herd of 300 blooded cattle will be destroyed immediately and the carcasses buried in lime to prevent spread of the contagion. Half the appraised value of the herd will be borne by the Federal government and half by the State of Indiana.

The Carranza, Villa and Zapatistas alike greeted the choice with "vivas" and cheers.

TO PLAN RED CROSS SALE

Committee Will Meet To-night to Arrange Campaign For Disposal of Christmas Stamps

Coincident with the closing to-night of the great statewide political campaign, another crusade, national instead of statewide, will be opened. Preliminary steps for launching here the 1914 Red Cross Christmas seal sale will be discussed by the general committee at the residence of Chairman John Fox Weiss.

Mr. Weiss, who headed the campaign last year which placed Harrisburg among the record-breaking cities of the country for the number of stamps sold, has called the committee to meet at 7:45 o'clock, but because of the fact that it is election night, the meeting will be very brief.

Harrisburg already has received its first consignment of the Christmas seals—300,000—the largest number ever sent in the first consignment. Mr. Weiss says he is confident that these seals will be disposed of by Christmas.

The general campaign plan will be similar to that of last year, when a score of different ideas were followed out successfully. The public schools, secret societies, Boy Scouts' organizations, churches and the merchants of the city and the suburban towns will be among the mediums through which Harrisburg's general committee will dispose of the stamps.

Chief among this year's campaign features will be the series of "Merchants Days." This plan was adopted last year, but because of the brief time the results were not so large as might have been possible in a greater time allowance, and for this reason the idea will be worked out much earlier.

In brief, the plan is to set apart one day during the crusade as a certain class of merchants' day, such as "grocers' day," "bakers' day," etc., when these merchants will be given stamps to dispose of.

The Boy Scouts will be enlisted especially in this work in helping to distribute the seals.

DUNCANNON

Turbine Wheel at Grist Mill Yields Four Buckets of Bels

Duncannon, Nov. 3.—The Rev. A. S. Pasick, district superintendent, of York, delivered a very excellent sermon in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Samuel Rumbaugh, while running his grist mill at King's Mill, about a mile west of this place, one day last week, noticed the turbine wheel losing in speed and upon investigation found that a number of eels were entangled in the wheel. This was due to the water being so low that the eels were unable to get over the breast of the dam and thus followed the stream of water. About four bucketsful were taken out of the wheel.

TAGS TO PREVENT MIXING OF BABIES AT BIG NURSERY

Infants Will Be Numbered When Parents Leave Them to Attend Tabernacle Meetings—Children's Booster Choir to Be Organized Saturday

A novel method of keeping the babies from getting mixed up at the nursery and rest room attached to the Stough tabernacle, will be put in use when the institution opens for business this evening. All parents bringing babies to the tabernacle must leave them at the nursery. Each baby will be tagged, and the corresponding number given the parents. Then, for instance, if number 23 begins to cry lustily while papa and mamma are enjoying the sermon in the tabernacle, an attendant will tip-toe to the section reserved for parents of tagged babies and whisper: "Number 23 wants its owner at once."

There will be a system in arranging everything during tabernacle meetings. The promenade with which women take off their hats when Professor Spooner gives them the word is especially pronounced.

Associate Goes Home to Vote. Members of the Stough party are making themselves acquainted with local committees, and the campaign will soon be on in real earnest all over the city. The evangelist's preaching, he himself declares, is only a small part of the campaign work. Associate Cartwright is to-day in his home in Ohio, where he has gone to cast his vote.

Prayer meetings were held at 9 o'clock this morning in hundreds of homes in all parts of Harrisburg, the first of the morning meetings which will continue all week days except Monday and Saturday, throughout the campaign.

Friday night will be "Home Night" at the tabernacle. Dr. Stough will preach on "Home Makers and Home Breakers."

BOMBARDING OF FURNES DID NOT PREVENT REVIEW OF TROOPS BY POINCARÉ

Paris, Nov. 3, 3:41 A. M.—A bombardment of Furnes in Belgium, 26 miles southwest of Bruges, by the Germans, did not prevent the review there yesterday of the French and Belgian troops by President Poincaré of France, King Albert of Belgium, and Alexandre Millerand, the French War Minister.

While the shots of the German guns, apparently directed against the railroad stations at Furnes, were exploding at frequent intervals, the President, King and Minister of War were in the neighborhood of the Hotel Deville. To the strains of the "Marseilles" and the "Brabanconne," the national airs of the two countries which were given with much spirit, the soldiers of France and Belgium passed by. All the men displayed the greatest enthusiasm.

Later President Poincaré, Minister Millerand and Joffre had a long interview with the King to whom the President expressed fervent admiration for the Belgians and best wishes on behalf of France.

Before the review President Poincaré and his party paid their respects to Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, at the royal residence. On leaving the President passed the afternoon among the French troops operating the Ypres front.

President Poincaré was in Dunkirk Sunday evening where he saw Lord Kitchener, the British Minister of War, and Premier Charles De Broqueville, of Belgium.

ROCKEFELLER RELIEF SHIP SAILS WITH LARGE CARGO

New York, Nov. 3.—The American steamship Massapequa, chartered and loaded by the Rockefeller Foundation to convey food to starving Belgians, sailed for Rotterdam this afternoon. The Massapequa, with a cargo representing an expenditure of $300,000, is the first of several ships to sail for Belgium relief at the expense of the Rockefeller Foundation. Less than thirty-six hours were required for loading, the stevedores working night and day stowing away the supplies as fast as they arrived. Original estimate of the cost of the cargo was increased, it is said by about $30,000 by reason of heavy purchases and a sudden advance in the market price when sellers learned that Rockefeller money was being spent.

The Massapequa was taken from her regular run, New York to the West Indies and is expected to make the trip to Rotterdam in about sixteen days. All supplies on board are consigned to the American consulate at Rotterdam. By him and an organized relief committee, the food will be distributed. Those who are able to pay will be charged actual cost for the food and to others it will be distributed free.
