

DRUGLESS HEALING

The Hyomei Catarrh Remedy Is Nature's Own Method. It certainly would be ridiculous for you to take a pill to heal a burn, but no more so than to try to cure catarrh, coughs, croup or head colds, by dosing the stomach.

London, Nov. 3, 7.55 A. M.—An imperial manifesto on the outbreak of the war with Turkey has been issued in Petrograd, according to the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company in the Russian capital. It reads as follows: "In the sterile struggle against Russia, Germany and Austria have incited Turkey into taking arms against this empire. Immediately after the treacherous attack of the Turkish fleet the Russian Ambassador received orders to leave Turkey."

BIG WAR ORDERS FOR THE BETHLEHEM STEEL WORKS

South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 3.—It was reported here on reliable authority yesterday that the Bethlehem Steel Company had received a big order to furnish the British government with projectiles for various sized army guns. On the top of this rumor, four Englishmen arrived yesterday and took headquarters at local hotels. They are inspectors of ordnance. They are John H. Brown, Andrew Wiles, Ernest Hutchings, William Breun and E. W. Davies, all of London.

It is said they have made arrangements to remain here two years. At the Bethlehem steel offices yesterday one would vouchsafe the mission of these men, or whether Charles M. Schwab had received a big order from the British government.

It is stated, however, that the mission of Mr. Schwab and his chief lieutenant, Arch Johnston, to England was at the request of Lord Kitchener.

Iron Cross for the Kaiser. London, Nov. 3.—An Amsterdam dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company says: "A Munich telegram states that King Ludwig, of Bavaria, in the name of the other German princes, has asked Emperor William to accept the Iron Cross in honor of the German army. The Emperor, in expressing his thanks, said he would accept in recognition of the determination and bravery of all the German tribes in the fight for German honor."

BRITISH EFFORT HISTORIC IN CHECKING THE GERMANS

London, Nov. 3, 3.20 A. M.—Telegraphing from Calais under date of Sunday, the correspondent of the "Daily Mail," says: "The British army has endured a historic ordeal in checking the German attempt to advance on Calais. The German offensive has crumbled into Stalemate, but the empire should know that the victory at Ypres has been purchased at a price as high as any previously recorded in any British battle history."

"The dream of our army suffered and the gaps must be quickly filled if the German repulse is to be turned to good account. Everytime they advance the Germans seek to check their fire on our allies and concentrate their entire attention on the British troops. It is believed that the British have half a million Germans opposed to them in the Ypres fighting."

"It is reported that the German Emperor himself was present to stimulate his troops."

WAR TRADE CONTINUES BIG: EXPORTS OVER $4,000,000

New York, Nov. 3.—Exports from the port of New York yesterday reached $4,067,000. While this was more than $2,000,000 less than the corresponding day of last week, it was still substantially larger than the normal for this period of the year. There was sent abroad 47,403 bales of cotton, the largest amount shipped in any single day since the beginning of the war.

The activities of agents of the belligerents are making themselves felt in practically every branch of trade. Wellington, Sears & Company, of Boston, have an order from the French government for 500,000 yards of cotton duck, and are said to be making 1,000,000 yards for the British army. Germany has bought more than 25,000 bales of cotton in the South within a week. These purchases followed the declaration of the British government that cotton in neutral bottoms will not be seized.

Sargent Still in Tyrol

London, Nov. 3.—John S. Sargent was painting in the Austrian Tyrol when the war began, and according to the Manchester "Guardian," there was some anxiety among his friends, despite the fact that he is an American citizen. That anxiety is now relieved by the news that Sargent's work has not been in any way interrupted, and that he proposes to return to London next month.

Resumption of Beer Sales to Troops

Petrograd, via London, Nov. 3, 4.50 A. M.—The newspaper "Novoye Vryeme" severely criticizes the decision of the government to allow a resumption of the sale of beer in a modified form, from November 14, as being at variance with the Emperor's decision and calculated to revive the dormant national appetite for strong drink.

DENIES RUSSIANS FIRED FIRST SHOT

Czar's Minister Refutes Allegation Made in Telegram From Turkish Grand Vizier

TOO LATE FOR POURPARLERS

Russian Official Says Only the Immediate Expulsion of All German Military and Naval Officers From Turkey Would Avert Impending Crisis

London, Nov. 3, 3.42 A. M.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says: "In reply to a telegram from the Turkish Grand Vizier, expressing regret at the rupture of the good relations existing between Turkey and Russia, owing to an attack by the Russian fleet, Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, denied that the Russian fleet was the first to fire and said he feared it was too late to enter into pourparlers of any kind with Turkey."

The telegram from the Grand Vizier was read to Foreign Minister Sazonoff by the Turkish Charge d'Affaires. It said: "Convey to Sazonoff our deep regret at the rupture of the good relations between the two powers which has been caused by the hostile acts of the Russian fleet. You can assure the imperial Russian government that the Sublime Porte will not fail to seek an opportune solution to this question and will take all measures to prevent a repetition of such incidents."

Sazonoff can declare to Sazonoff that the Ottoman government has decided to forbid the Turkish fleet entering the Black Sea. We hope in turn that the Russian fleet will not cruise near our littoral.

In the interest of both countries I firmly hope that the imperial Russian government will show in this affair the same spirit of conciliation."

Foreign Minister Sazonoff in his reply formally denied that the Russian fleet had been the first to undertake hostilities and he expressed the belief that it was too late to enter into pourparlers of any kind. Sazonoff added that only if Turkey had immediately expelled all German military and naval officers in Turkey would it have been possible to enter into negotiations with a view of providing satisfaction for those who had suffered by the treacherous acts of aggression on the Russian coast.

As the declaration of the Turkish charge altered nothing in the existing situation the Russian foreign minister informed him that he would receive his passports on Monday.

At the request of Great Britain, the dispatch adds, France and Russia have given similar assurances.

Myrtle-Harder Stock Co. Having established itself firmly with the local theatregoers by its presentation of "Elevating a Husband" to two performances yesterday, the Myrtle-Harder Stock Company offers to-day at both matinee and evening performances at the Majestic Theatre, David Belasco's wonderful play, "The Girl of the Golden West." This is one of the biggest pieces ever undertaken by a stock company, and the production carried by the Myrtle-Harder folks is in every way adequate. The settings for the piece are laid in the beautiful golden west with its grand mountain peaks and valleys, its fascinating sunrise and sunsets, the quiet glimmering moonlight, and all the atmosphere to blend with the story of the gold hunters of '49.

Tomorrow's play will be "Stop Thief." Election returns will be given between the acts at to-night's performance.

John Drew

John Drew, fresh from an engagement at the Empire theatre in New York which had its beginning at the opening of the present season, will be presented by Charles Frohman at the Majestic Theatre for one performance only, Tuesday evening, November 10. Considerable interest attaches to Mr. Drew's present visit since he comes in the comedy with which he is credited with having scored another emphatic and artistic Drew success, "The Prodigal Husband," by Dario Nicodemini and Michael Morton. The actor's new role is said to be one of the best he has had in recent years.

Charles Frohman has surrounded the distinguished player with a splendid supporting company. In the role of the youthful Simone, the girl to whom the prodigal owes his awakening, there appears Martha Hedman, recalled for her artistic success two seasons' ago with John Mason in "The Attack." Other roles are in the hands of Ferdinand Gottschalk, Henry Crocker, Clinton Preston, Harry Leighton, Grace Carlyle, Rose Winter and Josephine Morse.

At the Orpheum

Pennsylvania's new Governor will be tangoed in to the tune of "The Last Tango" at the Orpheum Theatre to-night. And tangoed, if you please, by no less than Fletcher Norton and Audrey Maple, who with a great supporting company are presenting an exceedingly clever musical drama of this title at the Orpheum this week and who will accordingly be the feature artists of the Orpheum's midnight election matinee. A complete second performance of the Orpheum's fine bill will be gone over, beginning at 11 o'clock to-night, and between each act the very latest election reports of Pennsylvania will be given. Interesting fights in other states will be included in the announcements also. Many election enthusiasts have already made their reservations at the Orpheum, where they can enjoy the comfort and entertainment of the theatre and at the same time be as well posted on affairs political as if they were walking about the streets.

The audience will know that Mr. What's-his-name is elected before the close of the second show. But in booking the bill of fare for this week there is certainly a nice bouquet due the Orpheum management. Such a fine array of Keith talent hasn't been seen at the Orpheum and clever is the adjective that fits them all. The news of the Orpheum's great bill will spread.

At the Colonial

Rita Redfield, a positive Harrisburg favorite, offering a dainty singing specialty; Anthony and Mack, clever character comedians in a bright routine of wholesome nonsense, and Swain's Cockatoos, a gorgeous group of cockatoos in a pictorial bird display, are the clever Keith hits grouped about "The Movie Models," a fine variety skit that is the big feature of the bill to hold forth at the Colonial during the first half of the week. "The Movie Models" is clever and diverting throughout and is a real vaudeville surprise act that must not be disclosed here. Fine moving picture features are also announced for to-day.

VICTIM OF MERCURY IS DEAD

Man Succumbs at Time Poison Usually Kills, Protesting to Last He Took Tablets by Mistake

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Twelve days after swallowing bichloride of mercury tablets, and with the scheduled certainty of an execution, death came last night to ex-Lieutenant Adolph Langhorst in the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital. The condemned man was conscious throughout. His final day, however, was a period of such intense pain that opiates were administered to relieve him. He faced his fate with the same bravery credited his conduct under fire by comrades who served with him in the Philippines in 1889 and 1890.

Edema of the lungs was the immediate cause of death, and contrary to the usual rules in cases of bichloride of mercury poisoning, Langhorst was fully conscious until the last. Instead of producing the stupor of uremic poisoning, the drug in his case, attacked the elementary tract, setting up an inflammation which finally spread to the lungs. Langhorst's wife, who had been with him from Saturday until yesterday morning, was at her home in Baltimore when he died. The hospital officials expect that she will here to-day to claim the body and remove it to Baltimore for burial.

Langhorst entered the hospital under the name of John McGraw, and only last Saturday, when he began to weaken perceptibly, did he send for his wife and his old companion of the Philippine service, Attorney C. Stuart Patterson, of this city. Mr. Patterson revealed his identity.

As late as Saturday and Sunday the man was fairly comfortable, and spent several hours chatting comfortably with his wife and exchanging reminiscences with Mr. Patterson of the fighting days of 1889 and 1890. He insisted all along that he had taken the mercury tablets by mistake.

HUMAN INTEREST STORIES OF SCENES ALONG RUSSIAN FIGHTING LINE IN GALICIA

London, Nov. 3, 3.11 A. M.—The correspondent of the "Morning Post" in Petrograd sends the following: "Rumors persist that Przemysl, in Galicia, has been taken, but these reports are untrue. What really happened is that the Russians captured 4,000 of the garrison, with a large amount of arms and equipment when the garrison attempted a sortie. Cholera and typhus are reported to be raging at Przemysl. "The number of women coming back wounded from the Russian front proves that the contingent of adventurous females on the fighting lines is considered. These women as a general rule cut their hair, assume a soldier's uniform and get away secretly with the connivance of friends among the soldiers. Others start alone on various pretexts, such as seeking injured relatives, and then don male attire when they reach the front.

"A Cossack girl trooper, Helen Chobya by name, went with the full knowledge and permission of the authorities, having long been distinguished as a horsewoman, swordswoman and marks-woman.

"Colonel Tomilobskaya's daughter, who in male uniform on the Augustow front, distinguished herself as a scout leader, has been wounded three times."
