

First of all

put one right over the fence and score for yours truly via Prince Albert, tobacco that made three men smoke a pipe today where one smoked before, and put new notions into men who know what a real makin's cigarette can taste like!

Why, to fire up a jimmy pipe packed with P. A. or to pull on a P. A. makin's cigarette is just about, just about! Never was such tobacco, because no other tobacco can be made like the national joy smoke

Sooner or later you'll go to this wonder-smoke as little apples grow on trees. Just can't help it, like! P. A. is so good and true, such chummy tobacco, that men just go happy about it. You get it into your system without losing any more time that you'll strike 18 kt. gold just as soon as you fire up a jimmy pipe or roll up a makin's cigarette with P. A.

Also, get these few remarks; Prince Albert is produced by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. Prove that at the cost of a dime before you do the next thing!

Also, nail this: Just you be game enough to lay a dime against a tidy red tin—and cheer-up your smokappetite!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere. Tidy red bags (handy for cigarette smokers), 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; also hand-some pound and half-pound humidor.

AMERICAN MAGNATES IN PEACE TALK FOR 3 HOURS

Each Has His Say and Several Admit Later That Success Seems Probable—May Oust Farrell of Yanks To-day

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Magnates of the American League met yesterday and stories flew thick and fast. The magnates themselves denied that there was a chance of baseball peace if the Federal Leaguers demanded recognition as a major organization. At the same time it was declared by others that plans for peace were afoot and that they probably would be carried to a successful termination before many days had passed. Before going into their first meeting the club owners in Ban Johnson's organization declared that they were of a peaceful nature, but that under no conditions would they recognize the third leaguers.

Peace was the big question. But the standing of Frank Farrell, president of the New York club, will be the important one to-day. Mr. Farrell did not arrive until late, nor until the other club owners had been in session for almost three hours.

After the meeting it was declared that the big question at to-day's meeting would be the disposition of the New York club. But, according to all the talk flying about last night, the disposition of that team hinges upon what may be done in the way of peace.

It likewise was announced that Hugh Jennings would not be reprimanded and would not be fined. This at the request of Connie Mack. The boss of the Athletics said that Jennings had called him up and apologized and that he did not think the sorrel topped manager deserved further humiliation. It was so decided.

Eltscheid Out For Season Gettysburg, Nov. 6.—The team went through the Fordham game in good shape, only a few injuries which will cause any trouble. However, it is definitely announced that Eltscheid, the big fullback, cannot get back into the game any more this season.

Britton Willing to Stop Will Sell Cardinals for Half a Million Dollars

St. Louis, Nov. 6.—Buyer Britton, president of the St. Louis National League ball club, will sell the Cardinals for $500,000, players, plan and good will. This was the price that he set last night when told of the peace plan which is said to have been discussed at the American League meeting in Chicago, whereby the St. Louis Federals will be asked to buy either the Cardinals or the Browns.

AMUSEMENTS

MAJESTIC
To-night, "The Escape."
To-morrow afternoon and evening, "Under Southern Skies."
Tuesday evening, November 10, John Drew in "The Prodigal Husband."
Thursday evening, November 12, Mr. Fannie Ward in "Madam President."

ORPHEUM
Every afternoon and evening, high class vaudeville.

COLONIAL
Daily continuous vaudeville and pictures.

"The Escape"
"The Escape," by Paul Armstrong, makes its initial bow to Harrisburg theatre-goers to-night, and is heralded as a play with a purpose and it has, Mr. Armstrong has shown in the play the follies of unwise and unhealed marriages and the fatal result.

John Drew
For his appearances on tour Mr. Frohman has sent with Mr. Drew the Empire theatre cast intact. Miss Martha Hedman, agreeably recalled for the charming impression she made on American playgoers when brought to this country two seasons ago by Mr. Frohman to appear with John Mason in Bernstein's "The Attack" and who last season was leading woman for Sir George Alexander at the St. James' theatre, London, is seen as the young girl to whom the prodigal owes his reformation. The surrounding company includes such capable and popular players as Ferdinand Gottschalk, Henry Crocker, Clinton Preston, Harry Leighton, Walter Soderling, J. Homer Hunt, Grace Carlyle, Helen Hayes Brown, Rose Winter, Josephine Morse and May Gaylor. The play is in three acts, the trio of settings being exquisite specimens of the scene-builder's art. Needless to add, "The Prodigal Husband" has been produced with all the customary Frohman good taste and painstaking attention to detail.

Fannie Ward in "Madam President"
When dainty Fannie Ward, who will be seen at the Majestic Thursday evening in the French farce comedy, "Madam President," was appearing in New York in the same play, Alan Dale, the famous dramatic critic of America said among other things: "Fannie Ward in 'Madam President' would make a Sphinx laugh."
Miss Ward is spending the summer at her home in London. Recently some friends referred to this unique comment of the American's critic and one of them said, "Why don't you try it on the Sphinx?" "I'll do it," impulsively said Miss Ward and she left the same week for Egypt. In a letter to her manager, Charles Dillingham, recently, she wrote: "I have several photographs taken standing at the foot of the Sphinx, and would you believe it, when I read some of my lines from 'Madam President,' they tell me the creature, or whatever it is, actually changed expression and the photographer vows he heard the 'mysterious party' laugh."

At the Orpheum
The Orpheum's current offering that has generally been declared the most artistic of the season, is nearing its closing performances. That "The Last Tango" is far different from the average musical comedy is an acknowledged fact, and that the talent in principals and chorus both are unusually clever, is admitted by the most critical. Mr. Norton, of course, is the star of the piece and he is certainly a gifted and pleasing player. He is an excellent singer, the most agile and graceful dancer Harrisburg has seen and he is looked upon as being the best dressed young man on the vaudeville stage. Mr. Norton is simply dashing in the role of a general adventurer, a part which fits him better than any role he has been seen here in.

At the Colonial
"The Movie Models," is a comedy surprise vaudeville production that heads the offering for the last half of the week at the Colonial, that should be seen by every follower of the popular type of entertainment. Six clever people present the turn and it is really a comedy success of the first water. And there are noteworthy supporting parts such as Swain's excellent, a wonderful beautiful pictorial, bird display; Anthony and Mack, two character comedians in parodies and bright gags; and Tom Fuma, the contortion wonder. The moving picture features that the Colonial is exhibiting these days, are the very height of the film makers' art.

MYSTERY IN BROKEN LEG
"Iron Fastenings," Fair Owner Said, Had Given Away
New York, Nov. 6.—With a limp in her gait, a young woman walked through Albany avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday and was wearing Prospect place, when she stooped, gasped then hopped on her left foot to a fence, to which she clung.

"I can't get home. I have broken my leg," she said to Patrolman Egan. He ran to a phone and sent in a call for an ambulance from Swedish hospital.
"How did you break your leg?" asked Egan.
"I think some of the iron fastenings gave way," said the woman, who described herself as Miss Anna Gaffney, of No. 635 Sterling place.
When Dr. Penton came he discovered that Miss Gaffney had an artificial leg which had temporarily gotten out of order. She was removed to her home in the ambulance.

SWAPPED VOTE FOR SEVEN
Candidate Langham a Mathematical Blacksmith-Politician
Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 6.—John G. Langham was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for member of Assembly Tuesday. He is a blacksmith in the village of Fleming. He did not vote for himself, but did valiant work in increasing his vote. As neighboring farmers came to have their horses shod, he said:

"Now, you're a Republican and I am a Democrat. If I show your horse I can't get over to vote. You promise me to vote and I'll promise not to vote." Invariably the customer agreed. Langham made this bargain with seven Republicans, none of whom voted. That made a net gain of six votes for Langham.

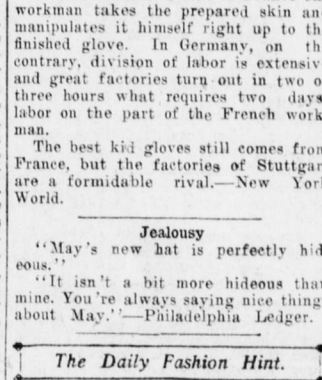

Kid Gloves
The majority of the fine kid gloves used in this country are imported from France. The superiority of French kid gloves over all others, according to an importer, is due above all to the perfection of the skins, the kids being reared in villages by poor peasants who own only a few goats and therefore take great care of them.

Another reason is that in France one workman takes the prepared skin and manipulates it himself right up to the finished glove. In Germany, on the contrary, division of labor is extensive and great factories turn out in two or three hours what requires two days' labor on the part of the French workman.

The best kid gloves still comes from France, but the factories of Stuttgart are a formidable rival.—New York World.

Jealousy
"May's new hat is perfectly hideous."
"It isn't a bit more hideous than mine. You're always saying nice things about May's."—Philadelphia Ledger.

TO WATCH CENTRAL HIGH'S DEFENSE WITH INTEREST

Second Game With Steelton Will Prove How Local Team Can Cope With Technical High's Similar Method of Attack

How Central High has perfected its defense against the peculiar shift play employed by Steelton will show up on Cottage Hill field to-morrow afternoon when the two teams clash for the second time this season. If the local team can meet it with any degree of success it will enhance Central's chances on Thanksgiving Day for Tech's method of attack, unless it be changes in the last two weeks of play, will resemble the Steelton offense somewhat.

In the two recent exhibitions given on the Island Park grounds of the Harrisburg Tri-State club by Steelton against Central High and by Tech against Lebanon, it would seem that the Blue and White backs had their attack in better shape than Tech. The Steelton shift was better timed and the interference for the man with the ball did not halt but kept on going, the center snapping the ball to the runner at just the right time to continue the rush.

It afforded splendid interference. In a measure Tech used the same method against Lebanon although the backs cast for the interference had to stop momentarily before the ball was snapped or be "off sides," thus losing a little speed. It was sufficient, however, to crumple the Lebanon defense.
