

KAISER'S FAST CRUISER AND HER BIGGEST PRIZE

THE GERMAN CRUISER KARLSRUHE

The German cruiser Karlsruhe captured and sank the British steamship Van Dyck five hundred miles east of Para, Brazil, on the morning of October 28.

Two hundred and one passengers and the crew of 210 were landed safely at Para by the German steamship Assuncao.

Despite the fact that twenty British and French war ships are reported searching for the Karlsruhe, she has so far managed to elude her pursuers. And since the beginning of the war has been a decided menace to British and French shipping to the West Indies and South America.

The German cruiser has captured and destroyed seventeen British ships. The Van Dyck, the latest prize of the Karlsruhe, is her biggest capture. She was the property of the Lampert & Holt line and steamed between New York and Buenos Ayres. She was a vessel of 2,800 tons and one of the largest in the South American service from American ports.

THE VAN DYCK

The Karlsruhe is a modern protected cruiser of the first class, commissioned in 1913. She has a displacement of 3,000 tons and a speed of twenty-seven knots. Four hundred and fifty-six feet over all, she carries a crew of 373 officers and men. Her main battery consists of twelve 4.1 inch guns.

LILLE PICTURED AS BURNING AND BATTERED DURING WAR

London, Nov. 6, 3.45 A. M.—The correspondent of the "Daily News" in the north of France under date of Thursday telegraphs as follows:

"The main fighting is now proceeding further south around Arras and on the frontier line a few miles east of Noyon.

"Lille is burning and battered. The allies have been in and out of the city and our shells set the town alight at the western end. If we cannot bound the enemy out we must drive him towards Flanders with flame and smoke.

"It is reported that Emperor William with his staff is directing the whirlwind from Tournai, Belgium, with Boulogne and Calais as the object via Hazebrouck and Stomer where, if the Germans can break through, there is a clear road to the coast. The battle here will not be decided for several days."

FATE OF THE BALKANS HANGS ON BULGARIA'S MOVE IN WAR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Officials at the Greek legation here are waiting with intense interest a declaration from Bulgaria, as to whether she will side with the Turks or the allies, or continue her neutrality. It is freely admitted that Bulgaria's sword in the balance may turn the scales of war for the rest of the Balkans.

It was pointed out at the Greek legation that Turkey's belligerency need not affect Greece, since the two countries are not co-terminus and the danger zones about the Islands of Mytelene and Chios, whose occupation by Greece has been the chief cause of the Young Turks' greater navy movement, are well guarded by allied warships in the Mediterranean.

It has been stated by Minister Seliemann, however, that the participation of another Balkan state in the embroglio would mean immediate warlike action of the Hellenic government.

BIG ORDER FOR WAR SHOES: PITTSBURGH FIRM GETS IT

It was stated that the company expects to receive part of an order for 500,000 shoes which the English government will give out next week.

The shoes are to have soles seven-eighths of an inch thick, with Hungarian nails driven in the heels and soles. They weigh about four pounds and are said to last for a year. The price is $3.25 per pair.

KAISER'S ESCAPE FROM BOMBS WAS MIRACULOUS

London, Nov. 6, 3 A. M.—A correspondent of the "Times" in Northern France gives further details of Emperor William's escape from bombs at Thielt, Belgium.

"For five days," says the correspondent, "Emperor William was present at the operations on the Neuport-Ypres line. Last Sunday the Emperor with some of his aids arrived by motor car at Thielt, where apartments had been reserved for him at the hotel and where dinner was waiting.

"The Emperor's personal baggage already had been deposited in the bedroom in which he was to spend the night. The Emperor, in his hurry, did not dress for dinner and immediately after dining instead of retiring to his room, hurriedly left the tavern with two aids and motored to the other end of the town where other rooms were engaged.

"Twenty minutes later six bombs fell on the hotel and the Emperor's baggage in his room was completely destroyed. Two of the aids who had remained at the hotel were killed and their motor car which was waiting in the yard was wrecked."

Eat Sauerkraut This Winter

Much of it is being shipped to foreign countries, and sauerkraut is being made in large quantities, many predicting that the high cost of living will be taken advantage of and the people will eat sauerkraut during the winter.

READ WHAT THE EDITOR OF THE Ladies' Home Journal

SAYS ABOUT THIS GREAT WORK:

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL THE CURTIS PUBLISHING CO. PHILADELPHIA. Edited by EDWARD W. BOK.

"Why I like this illustrated edition of the Bible is because everything about it has been well done and seems to have been done in the right spirit. The Book itself has been approached by the annotator with reserve and intelligence, and by its artists with sympathy and knowledge. It has not been made into a meaningless picture book. The pictures here serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more; they intelligently explain it, and many a hitherto obscure passage will assume to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures. Popularizing the Bible is a risky experiment in the hands of many, but it has been made a splendid achievement in this case. EDWARD W. BOK."

Above is shown refugees who fled from Antwerp sleeping in an old barn in the little village of Roosendaal, Holland. Hay was used as bedding, while shawls and blankets protected them from the cold night air. A correspondent who witnessed the scenes at Roosendaal writes the following:— "There is no class distinction among the refugees, for in one barn I found two women and a young girl dressed in the costliest of garments sitting upon the straw covered floor, while next to them slept a humble peasant grandmother with her infant grandchild, whose mother was lost in their flight out of Belgium."
