

TSING-TAU FALLS AND JAPS WIN

Desperate Assaults in Which Bravery of Forces at Port Arthur Is Paralleled

CAPITULATION PROCEEDINGS

Japanese and German Officials Open Conference and Decide on the Terms of Surrender—The Casualties Reported in the Engagement

Tokio, Nov. 7, 9:15 P. M.—After desperate assaults, in which the Japanese in the face of heroic resistance rivalled the bravery of their forces at Port Arthur, Tsing Tau surrendered at 9:20 o'clock this morning. At that hour Governor Meyer-Waldeck, following the hoisting of white flags on the forts, sent an officer with a flag of truce to the Anglo-Japanese lines.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the Japanese and German officers opened a conference at Moltke barracks when the formalities of capitulating were concluded.

The Japanese officers pay unstinted tribute to the bravery of the Germans who fought tenaciously to the last. Unofficial reports are that the Germans blew up what was left of their forts before surrendering and practically the whole town is in ruins. A Japanese torpedo boat flotilla that entered the bay found that nearly all the ships had been destroyed.

The Japanese Casualties

An official bulletin places the losses killed in the siege at 1,327. British took an important part in the victory and two British officers were wounded. No statement of the German casualties is available but it is believed that they were heavy.

The Minister of War states that the lessons learned from the siege were: First, the destructiveness of the new heavy guns that the Japanese used from the first time, and second, the effectiveness of the aeroplane observation service whereby the methods of the defense were discovered. The prisoners who will number, it is said, between 6,000 and 8,000, will be brought to Japan.

The official version of the Anglo-Japanese victory issued by the Japanese war office to-night follows:

Official Version of Victory

"A general bombardment on October 31 permitted the occupation on November 1 of the first attacking position—36.5 metre hill, 3,000 feet south of our previous position and bounded by the Shi-Ho and the Shunkas-Ho. We entrenched and prepared for a further advance and on November 4 were progressed to a second position at Pompano on the Fusans-Ho, where we met a galling fire, yet never flinched. The heavy artillery moved closed and co-operated with and protected the infantry.

"On the night of November 6 we occupied the third and final attacking position in front of the entanglements that screened the forts. General Yoshimi Yamada's command advanced from the center and forced its way through three heavily wired defenses, crossed the intervening ditches and charging courageously captured the center fort. This held General Horinuki occupy the northerly fort.

"The right wing under General Yehoyi and the British right center led by Lieutenant Colonel Bernardston jointly charged and early on November 7 completely occupied forts Itis, Moltke and Bismarck, forcing the enemy to fly flags of surrender."

Tokio, Nov. 7, 3:50 P. M.—Tokio is celebrating to-day the fall of the German fortress at Tsing-Tau after an actual siege of a few days more than three weeks.

It was in the middle of September that the real attack began although preparations for the taking of the German stronghold in Asia were begun immediately after war was declared by Japan on August 15.

The final and successful attack on Tsing-Tau began shortly after midnight Friday morning and the first inroad by the allied forces, which was largely instrumental in the fall of the place was the taking of the middle fort of the first line of defense. This was accomplished by a brilliant charge of infantry and engineers led by General Yoshimi Yamada.

Simultaneously with the charge of General Yamada others were made, the troops marching forward with cries of Baza! Taitungchen, the fortification on the east fell at 5:35 in the morning. Chungchiawa was captured soon thereafter with its two heavy cannons.

A detachment of the first line occupied the Itis, Bismarck and Moltke forts at seven in the morning and then the enemy hoisted the white flag on the weather astronomical station adjoining the governor's office. Another white flag was hoisted on the coast forts at the mouth of the Haipo at 7:30 o'clock.

The closing hours of the siege of Tsing-Tau and the fall of the fortress there are briefly and dramatically described in official reports by Vice Ad-

OFFICIAL COUNT IS CUTTING DOWN FRAZER'S MAJORITY

Returns Thus Far Received, However, Indicate That the Western Man Has Been Elected Judge By About 10,000

The members of the committee that managed Judge George Kunkel's campaign against Judge Robert Frazer, of Allegheny county, for Justice of the State Supreme Court, to-day contented themselves with comparing official returns, sent in from a few of the sixty-seven counties, with the unofficial figures printed earlier in the week. These showed some gains for Kunkel, but Frazer still has a material lead. Judge Kunkel's friends are hoping the receipt of additional official returns will show further gains for the Harrisburg man.

The official count was completed in Dauphin county at 11 o'clock this morning, although only the vote on the Supreme Court candidates had been compared and totaled at that hour. That showed Judge Kunkel received 21,459 votes in Dauphin county, a handsome testimonial from his home county friends, as against 1,271 received by his opponent Judge Frazer, or a majority of 20,188 for Kunkel. The unofficial figures compiled on Wednesday, following the election gave Judge Kunkel 21,433 and Judge Frazer 1,266, a majority of 20,167 for the local candidate. Kunkel thus was shown to have received twenty-one more in Dauphin county than had been indicated unofficially.

Philadelphia newspapers this morning carried stories to the effect that, with two counties missing, the unofficial figures gave Judge Frazer a lead of 10,150 over Judge Kunkel. Members of Judge Kunkel's campaign committee now admit that Judge Frazer has a lead over the Dauphin county candidate, although they say it is not so much as 10,000.

Comparisons with the unofficial returns on the judgeship candidates that were obtained by the Associated Press and printed earlier in the week, when seven counties were missing, show that the unofficial returns in four counties gave Judge Kunkel 1,439 votes more than he actually received. In one county his total was overestimated by 78, bringing his actual increase over the unofficial figures in five counties down to 1,361.

Judge Frazer was credited by the unofficial returns with fewer votes than he actually received in three counties, while in two others his totals were overestimated. The returns from which comparisons were made include those of Dauphin, Cumberland, Franklin, Erie and Centre counties.

Frank E. Ziegler and Benjamin J. Umberger, who recorded the official vote here, began this afternoon making comparisons of the votes other than those cast for judge, but they will not begin totaling these votes until Monday.

THIEF AT TABERNACLE

Unsuccessful Attempt Made Last Night to Get Away With Team

Burgess J. Fred Hummel, of Wormleysburg, one of the ushers last night at the Stough tabernacle, almost lost his horse and carriage, in which he had come to the city. He found early in the evening that his team was gone, and started, with Detectives Ibach and White, to look for the thief.

They met Dispatcher L. M. Davis, of the Harrisburg Railway Company, bringing back the horse and carriage from State street, where he had recovered it. The thief had jumped from the carriage and escaped when he saw Mr. Davis chasing him.

Verbeke Withdraws Resignation

Marion Verbeke, who recently resigned the clerkship to the Dauphin County Jury Commissioners, to take effect November 1, it was learned to-day, has reconsidered his decision and will continue to hold the position. Mr. Verbeke decided to remain after he had been requested to do so by the Jury Commissioners. With the president judge of the Dauphin county courts, the commissioners next month will put nine hundred names of Dauphin county electors in the jury wheel, a list from which the 1915 jurors will be selected.

ALL IS QUIET AT DIXMUDE, SAY FRENCH

Allies Have Successfully Repulsed German Attacks According to Paris

BRITISH DRIVE THE ENEMY BACK

Counter German Attacks Said to Have Been Repulsed Along the Entire Front—Other Assaults Detrimental to Kaiser's Forces

Paris, Nov. 7, 3:01 P. M.—The official announcement given in Paris this afternoon says that the situation is relatively quiet on the river Yser below Dixmude.

The statement sets forth that French and British forces have successfully repulsed German attacks along almost the entire front. Reference is made specifically to Dixmude and Dischote, where counter attacks were repulsed; to the southeast of Ypres, where the French have assumed the offensive with the British and Neuve Chapelle where the British forces drove the Germans back with day and night attacks between Arras and the Oise have been checked and near Valley the French recaptured positions previously wrested from them. In the Argonne other attacks were repulsed and here the French claim progress. Northeast of Verdun two villages have been captured, and to the southeast of St. Mihiel the offensive movements of the enemy failed according to the French statement. Also on the right wing the enemy sustained losses around Nancy.

"Between Armentieres and the canal of La Bassée the British army, on its side, repulsed a violent attack on Neuve Chapelle. Between the canal of La Bassée and Arras as well as between Arras and Oise, several counter attacks delivered by night and by day, have been checked. We even made some slight progress in the region of Vermelles and to the south of Aix-Noulette.

"On the center, in the region of Vailly we continued during the day yesterday to recapture ground previously lost by us. In the Argonne fresh attacks on the part of the enemy were repulsed and at the end of the day our troops made progress at several points.

"To the northeast of Verdun we have taken possession of the villages of Haucourt and of Nogeville.

"In the wooded region along the heights of the Meuse southeast of Verdun and in the forest of Arment, southeast of St. Mihiel, the offensive movements of the enemy failed. Some trenches in the vicinity of Saint Remi were carried by our troops.

"On our right wing the attacks of the Germans on the advanced positions of the Grande ouronne of Nancy (the line of fortified positions surrounding Nancy) resulted in perceptible losses for the enemy. A surprise attack undertaken by the enemy against the heights which dominate Mount Sainte Marie resulted in complete failure."

LEVIES ON "LAST TANGO"

Sheriff's Office Attaches Property of Concern Playing at Orpheum This Week

Scenery, costumes and other effects of the "Jerry Hart's Attractions," a company staging "The Last Tango," the headliner at the Orpheum this week, this afternoon were seized by Deputy Sheriff William Hoffman, on an attachment issued out of the Prothonotary's office.

The proceedings were brought at noon to-day by Miss Audrey Maple, the star of the playlet, who is making a claim for $162.50 for back salary. The star charges that under a contract made with the Hart Company in September last she was to receive $175 a week. She brought suit when an effort was made to reduce her salary, she said.

Sheriff Hoffman made a levy on the company's paraphernalia at 1 o'clock this afternoon although he removed nothing from the theatre and did not make an effort to prevent the company from staging its afternoon performance.

To Sheriff Hoffman and District Attorney M. E. Stroman, who is representing Miss Maple, representatives of the Hart Company now in Harrisburg hinted that the suit will be settled. In the interim the show went on this afternoon and the regular performance will be given this evening. Unless the case is settled late to-day the company will not be permitted to remove its paraphernalia from the city, Hoffman said.

Mystery in Dead at Steelton

John Hughes, colored, residing at 44 Furnace street, Steelton, employed at No. 8 open hearth furnace, was found dead in the mill this morning by Martin Ferguson, another employe. Coroner Eckinger held a post mortem this afternoon. Hughes was married and leaves a widow and four children, the youngest but two weeks old. It was at first supposed that gas caused his death, but he was not in a part of the mill where gas from the furnace is prevalent and that led to the coroner's investigation.

M'NAIR'S EXPENSES $464.14

Defeated Democratic Candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs First to File Financial Statement

The first election expense account was received at the State Department to-day. It was from William McNair, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, who was endorsed by the Single Taxers of the State at a meeting held at the Board of Trade building here long before the primaries were held, and afterward carried the Democratic primary.

Mr. McNair received altogether $160, the bulk of which was from personal friends, but $40 of it was from the Philadelphia Single Tax Association. He expended $464.14, mainly for traveling expenses, postage, printing and telephone charges, and he gave the Democratic State committee $50. He still owes $8 to a press clipping bureau.

Twelve counties have made returns of the election to the State Department, as follows: Cameron, Clinton, Cumberland, Fulton, Juniata, Montour, Northumberland, Potter, Schuylkill, Snyder, Union and Wyoming.

The delay in computing the vote in some of the larger counties will probably prevent the exact official vote from being announced for several weeks. As yet there have been no notifications of contests to hold back the returns.

SEEMED LONG TO THE INDIANS

Carlisle "Arrow" Says Redskins Paraded 14 1/2 Miles With Firemen Here (Special to the Star-Independent.)

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 7.—When the Carlisle Indian school band marched with the Washington Fire Company, of Mechanicsburg, in the big firemen's parade in Harrisburg last month, it seemed to the Redskins that the six-and-one-half mile route of the parade was actually fourteen and one-half miles long. One of the bandmen writing in to-day's issue of the Carlisle "Arrow," the Indian school newspaper, referring to the parade, says:

"The boys spent their leisure moments in various ways; some visited different places of interest, others walked around and took in the sights. We certainly had enough of the latter experience later in the afternoon. We were in the second division and we marched about fourteen and one-half miles. At the start we halted a few times, but when once started we kept up a steady tramp.

"When on the home stretch the parade halted a few minutes and we found out that the twelfth division was just starting and there were two more waiting for their turn to march. The parade was fourteen and one-half miles in length and we arrived home in Carlisle very glad indeed that the strenuous day was over."

THOUSANDS OF KIDDIES AT TEMPLE

Big Booster Chorus of Boys and Girls Gets Start at To-day's Mass Meeting

PARENTS TOLD DUTY LAST NIGHT

Evangelist Says Questions Should Be Asked When Young People Start Courtship Instead of Matter Being Made a Joke

Boys and girls from all parts of the city poured into the tabernacle this afternoon to see and hear Evangelist Stough, the man they have heard their elders talking so much about. The mass meeting for children was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, but the school children were on hand long before that hour, and conspicuous among them were Boy Scouts who turned out in full uniform to aid in the ushering.

Evangelist Stough spoke to the children on "Railroad Signals." This is the only lecture he will give especially for children in Harrisburg. One of the objects of the meeting was the organization of a children's "booster chorus," and this work was effectively begun. It is expected by Prof. Spooner, musical director in charge of the organization, that there will be at least 1,200 children enrolled. These children will occupy the seats in the choir loft at the tabernacle on certain nights in place of the adult chorus, they will sing at children's meetings, and will render their songs through the streets of the city and in the homes before the close of the campaign.

Sermon Brings Forth Sobs

In his sermon at the tabernacle last night Evangelist Stough for the first time touched the emotions of his hearers. At times in the course of his accusing, advising and pleading there was coughing in all parts of the tabernacle as throats became choked and much blowing of noses and wiping of eyes. At least 3,000 persons who came to the tabernacle after 7 o'clock could not be admitted, because practically all the seats were already filled.

The text of the evangelist's sermon last night was "Is the Young Man Absolutum Safe?" words which were spoken by David in asking about the welfare of his son.

"The trouble with David was," said Dr. Stough, "that he asked that question many years too late. If he wanted to know of the safety of his son, why didn't he ask the question when he was courting Absolutum's heathen mother? We to-day do not ask such questions

AUTO VICTIM IMPROVES

Samuel C. Morrow Hurt When Thrown From Auto at Seventeenth and North Streets

Samuel C. Morrow, 35 years old, 1951 Briggs street, who was seriously hurt when thrown from his automobile at Seventeenth and North streets, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, is somewhat improved at the Harrisburg hospital. It was feared at first that he suffered a fractured skull but only a slight concussion of the brain has developed. He has lacerations of the face and scalp and right leg.

Morrow was driving out North street while a machine said to have been driven by a man by the name of Miller was going out Seventeenth and the two automobiles came together at the street intersection. Four occupants of the Miller machine were thrown out but not seriously hurt. Friends of Earl C. Miller, 16 South Nineteenth street, who has been connected with the accident, say he has been out of the city for a month, does not own an automobile and has never driven one.

KILLED MOTHER ACCIDENTALLY

Tragic Event Occurred While Son Was Cleaning Revolver

Reading, Pa., Nov. 7.—Raymond Heisler, the 17-year-old son of Jonathan Heisler, of Topton, this county, late last night accidentally shot and killed his mother. The mother and son were in the living room of their home, the former seated on a chair treating a corn, and the latter cleaning a revolver. The revolver was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the mother's body at the heart. She gave a scream and, arising from the chair, staggered to the kitchen adjoining, where she dropped dead. The husband and father, who was sleeping on an upper floor, heard the shot.

Deputy Coroner Millev, on the testimony of a younger brother, who had witnessed the shooting, decided that the death had been accidental and that an inquest would be unnecessary. The woman was about 40 years old.

PREFERS DOG TO HUBBY

Woman Wants Police to Search for Animal in This City

From some city in the Middle West comes an unusual request to Chief of Police Hutchison. A woman writes that her husband left her and she has every reason in the world to believe that he came to Harrisburg and remarried without first being divorced from the writer. She says, however, that she does not care much about him, but she wants her dog, which, she says, her husband brought along.

Chief of Police Hutchison told her that he could do nothing about her unusual request unless she first identified herself through the police department of her city and issued a warrant through them. The Chief did not give out the name of the writer.

Crimson Tallies Three Points Against Tiger Team in Early Part of the Contest

BETTING ALMOST EVEN AT START

University of Pennsylvania Meets Michigan in Ann Arbor—Yale Plays the Brown Eleven and Notre Dame Struggles With West Point

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 7.—Championship football started here to-day in the contest between Harvard and Princeton in the stadium Harvard won from Princeton two years ago. Last year Harvard won again when Brickley kicked a field goal for the only score of the game. The Princeton players to-day were bent on avenging those defeats and adding another to their long series of victories since the first meeting of the two colleges in 1877.

Harvard was a slight favorite in the betting, but a large body of Princeton backers arrived this morning and the odds dwindled almost to even money.

Harvard won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Driggs kicked off to Logan on Harvard's 20-yard line. The ball was run back 15 yards. After one rush with slight gain, Harvard kicked to Princeton's 30-yard line. Harvard kicked on the first down on Princeton's 12-yard line. After one rush Princeton kicked and Logan fumbled in the middle of the field. Princeton recovered the ball. On the first rush Driggs was thrown for a loss of a yard.

Princeton put the ball in play on her 20-yard line and then kicked out of bounds on her 33-yard mark. Franke and Mahan by line plays carried the ball to Princeton's 20-yard line. Then Mahan again dropped back to the 28-yard line and dropped a goal. Score: Harvard, 3; Princeton, 0.

The second period started with Bradlee making three yards. Then Harvard tried a forward pass, which was intercepted. Mahan dropped back, but missed a goal from the field from the 38-yard line, the ball being partially blocked.

Princeton put the ball in play and at once kicked to Mahan, who caught it on the 30-yard line, running it back to midfield. Another Harvard forward pass failed. Mahan kicked out of bounds on Princeton's 30-yard line. Driggs kicked to Logan on Harvard's 35-yard line. The ball was run back to the middle of the field. Mahan kicked on the first down to Princeton's 7-yard line. Driggs kicked to Logan on Princeton's 35-yard line, where there was a fair catch. Franke on a delayed pass carried the ball to Princeton's 25-yard line for a first down. Mahan made five more through center. Bradlee carried the ball to Princeton's 14-yard line.

Francke made a first down on Princeton's 13-yard line. Francke drove through for two yards. Mahan added another. Dropping back to the 17-yard line, Mahan dropped his second goal from the field.

Driggs kicked off to Francke on Harvard's 10-yard line. The ball was run back to the 29-yard line. On the first down Hardwick skirted Princeton's right end for 16 yards. Bradlee made 12 yards through center. It was Harvard's ball on Princeton's 33-yard line for a first down. Bradlee rolled over the Princeton line for five yards.

Hardwick made a first down on Princeton's 18-yard line. Francke struggled through to the 16-yard line. Bradlee added two more yards. On a fake goal from the field Logan made a first down on Princeton's 3-yard line. On the first play Francke made a yard. Bradlee carried it to the one-yard line for the third down. On the third down Bradlee went through for the first touchdown.

Hardwick kicked an easy goal and Princeton once more lined up for a kick off.

The total score at the end of the second period: Harvard, 13; Princeton, 0.

In the fourth period Harvard made a touchdown and kicked goal. Score, Harvard 20; Princeton, 0. Period not ended.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 7.—Michigan's football team was in much better physical condition for its annual game with Harvard this afternoon than it was when it faced Harvard in Cambridge a week ago. Coach Yost was looking for a victory over the Quakers.
