NONABUTTING PROPERTY BENEFITS BY GOOD ROADS

The Improvement of Market Roads, Results in Improved Marketing Conditions Which Benefit the City and Also the Farmers

Washington, Nov. 9.—The road building specialists of the Department of Agriculture, in bulletin No. 136, entitled "Highway Bonds," have the following to say about the benefits of a well constructed highway to property owners whose property is not directly on the road to be improved.

In planning the highway system or the main market roads, it will be found necessary to omit many roads the improvement of which is greatly desired by abutting land owners.

The fact that cities and larger towns are frequently taxed for bond issues to building highways outside of their own limits is sometimes made a point of debate in bond elections. It is argued that because a large part of the county wealth is within the corporate limit of such cities and towns, highway bond money should also be used to construct their streets.

The improvement of market roads results in improved marketing conditions which benefit the city. Most cities are essentially dependent upon the surrounding country for their property and development.
