Renovating the Old Rug

A dingy or soiled floor covering will make the entire living room look dull and untidy as every good housekeeper knows.

It may be only soiled, if so it will look like new when cleaned on the floor with this splendid carpet cleaner.

Take a quart bottle of the druggist and buy 5 ounces of ammonia, 1/2 ounce of ether and 1/2 ounce of chloroform.

Dissolve a bar of kitchen soap in two gallons of hot water.

The rug I just cleaned with this had been in constant wear in a living room.

used by four adults and three children, for three years and it "truly did look like new."

Rugs that are badly faded and worn may be made to last a little longer and look much better for a bath of dye.

Three ten-cent packages of the dyes that are sold in drug stores for home dyeing will be needed for a nine by twelve foot rug.

If the rug is Brussels or unquette and is worn down to the backing you will need to buy the dye that is sold for cotton but if the nap is still long you had better use the wool dye.

Matting may be stained in the same way and soft pine floors look really pretty when colored dark walnut with this same method.

When carpets and rugs are past renovating do not throw them away; they still have a useful career before them.

In one of the Shablon's delightful books on collecting antiques, the writer deprecates a chance they once missed at a "Vandoo," a lot of discolored carpet was "sold for a song."

The rug I just cleaned with this had been in constant wear in a living room.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood.

They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the morning is over you have rheumatic twinges.

The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's uric waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv.

Humbery, defeated Progressive candidate for Congress from the First Kentucky district. Mr. Humbery filed his report here yesterday, showing he neither received nor spent a cent.

"The only promise I made any living human being during the whole of my campaign," read the affidavit, "was to write her when I did promise that I would be with her at least as much, or more, after the election as prior thereto, and I did give her a little friendly advice, which was this: That we both pray earnestly to get to Heaven, as there was absolutely no danger of us having to go to Washington."

TECHNICALLY NO DEFENSE

Faulty Indictment Held Sufficient by Minnesota Supreme Court St. Paul, Nov. 10.—Indictments drawn in Minnesota, so long as they state correctly the general facts in the case, do not need to be drawn word for word to be legal, according to a decision of the Supreme Court in upholding an indictment against Dr. Charles A. Lester, of Alexandria, charging him with the death of his office girl, Ruth Nass, by carelessly exposing her to an X-ray machine.

The decision is an advanced step in the interpretation of indictments. Time was when an indictment to be valid must be worded absolutely correctly. Even the omission of one word was sufficient to destroy the indictment.

ALMOST VANISHING RIVER

Vast Width of Susquehanna Turns Dry From Long Drought Port Deposit, Md., Nov. 10.—So far as is known, the Susquehanna river has never had so much river bottom exposed as at present. Directly opposite this town, rocks unknown and uncharted have made their first appearance to sunshine. North of the town practically the whole rugged bottom is bare of water, and is a sight worth a long journey.

The extremely small river flow, aided by a remarkably low tide, is responsible for the unique spectacle.

The whole Susquehanna Valley has gone dry. About the only visible water is the unpounded body at McCall's Ferry, which operates the dynamo that supply the electric current to run the street railways of Baltimore City. At Conowingo, the site of the proposed second dam, with the exception of a narrow stream, the entire river bottom is dry.

A number of other streams in Maryland are nearly dry owing to the protracted drought, the most extended ever known.

FOREST FIRES CRACK HILLS

Boulders Sent Crashing Down Into Roads By Intense Heat Harper's Ferry, W. Va., Nov. 10.—Forest fires have broken out with greater fury since Sunday's rain in the Blue Ridge mountains. The intense heat has loosened many boulders and some have crashed down the mountain sides, narrowly missing motorists and others driving along the turnpike.

One man driving near Harper's Ferry, heard a rumbling noise and, looking up, saw a rock larger than a hoghead rolling down. It struck the rear of his wagon just as the driver leaped to safety. Red signals are displayed, warning travelers of danger.

"OLD MISS COW" HAS BOUDOIR

She Brushes Her Teeth and Takes a Foot Bath Chicago, Nov. 10.—No cow who hasn't had her teeth brushed and her feet washed is allowed to manufacture milk nowadays for Mrs. Scott Durand, Arthur Meeker of Armour & Co., Joseph M. Cudaby and other particular residents of here and hereabouts.

Mrs. Durand is so particular that she has issued orders that no strange person may enter the gates of her farm until he has proved that he hasn't with him a germ of the foot and mouth disease that might harm her cows.

Mr. Meeker, whose farm is north of the city, introduced the foot bath for cows. No cow of his can go to bed at night, or get up in the morning, until she has completed her toilet.

Mr. Cudaby's cows, on his farm in Libertyville, have their teeth cleaned on a revolving brush, which has been rigged up on an old horse clipping machine. Mr. Cudaby figures that no germ can sneak past the revolving brush.

Although many other wealthy persons here have forced their cows to form the foot bath and tooth brush habits, it can't be proved that any of them have gone in for scented soap, sitz baths, facial massages and things like that. Any stories that cows are being served with afternoon tea here are absolutely false.

Three Fellow Prisoners Also Go to Asylums, Not to Jail Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 10.—Michael Van Blargen, of Shepton, who called for trial yesterday on a charge of blowing up a railroad track with dynamite, thereby causing a wreck, pleaded guilty, but could give no reason for his deed. Youth's Extraordinary Punishment Arouses People's Indignation Somerville, N. J., Nov. 10.—Oscar Phillipson, 19 years old, North Plainfield, is serving a sentence of 120 days in jail here for killing a rabbit out of season, which devoured vegetables in his mother's garden. He is serving the 120 days because of his inability to pay a fine of $128.

The residents of North Plainfield are aroused over the affair. It is the belief of a number of citizens that the fine was too heavy, because Phillipson used a toy repeating rifle. Justice Snape and Fish and Game Warden Hobbitel contend that they have complied with the game laws of New Jersey.

Deer Hunter Had No License

Egg Harbor, N. J., Nov. 10.—Dr. A. S. Black, of Williamstown, was arraigned before Magistrate Hauser last night on a complaint of Game Warden Lender and Mathis, charged with gunning for deer last week without license. He was fined $20 and costs, and another charge for hunting Monday, was filed against him.

ATE BROTHERS ON SHIP

High-Priced Animals for Brooklyn Zoo Saved From Starvation Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—The British steamship, West Point, which sailed from London on October 22 with a cargo of wild animals for the Prospect Park Zoo in Brooklyn, N. Y., passed Quarantine at 8 o'clock Sunday night and anchored in the stream. A tugboat met her and transferred to her a supply of meat for the animals, which, it was reported, were on the verge of starvation.

When the first wireless reports from the ship announced the scarcity of food for the animals, the agents sent orders to kill some of the less valuable creatures and feed the carcasses to their higher-priced brothers. This was done.

Full details of the exciting hours when the animals were roaring for food and the equally stirring ones when they were getting it, are lacking, owing to the vessel's failure to reach port. But it is understood the ship was no place for a peace-loving man.
