

EXPECT FAST AND FURIOUS FIGHTING IN EASTERN AND WESTERN AREAS OF WAR

London, Nov. 16, 1:55 P. M.—Fast and furious fighting both in the eastern and western areas of the war is expected by English military observers to make this coming week memorable event in a war, each week of which has witnessed carnage equal to that of the great battles of history. And at the same time, hints from the front encourage them to expect that the week also will see the German tide through Flanders toward the coast towns of Dunkirk and Calais begin to ebb.

The note sounded by the French official announcements of yesterday indicating that Ypres, Arras, Amiens, Arras and other inland gates to the sea coast, remain so far impregnable barriers to the German assaults, is doubtless responsible for this optimism. While the vigor of the Teutonic offensive may have slackened there is at the present moment little if any indication of a resolve on the part of the German commanders to abandon the plans which already have cost them so dearly. At least one more comprehensive attempt to break through the allies' lines, therefore, is expected before the next phase of the operations opens. This phase, it is thought in London, granted that the German advance is not continued, will be the siege of the trenches carefully prepared by the Germans in the rear of their present lines.

The forecasts of these strategists point out that the allies are under no compulsion to force the issue at the present stage, although they contend this could be done if the allies were prepared to pay the price in men. They consequently anticipate a development of holding tactics with the view of keeping the German armies in the eastern areas busy while the Russian masses, a thousand miles to the eastward are moving forward to the struggle for the possession of Silesia, Posen and East Prussia.

These calculations, of course, presuppose the continued fidelity of the German attack on the French coast and they are made without any knowledge of the plans of the Staff sent to alter the situation as it exists to-day.

LATE WAR NEWS SUMMARY

Continued From First Page. taken recently by the enemy. Elsewhere along the battle line the fighting has once more become limited chiefly to artillery engagements. The British warships mentioned by Berlin as having been disabled by German artillery fire from the shore are all small vessels. They are the torpedo boat destroyer Falcon, the light cruiser Brilliant and the sloop of war Rinaldo. No details of the extent of damage inflicted are given by Berlin, which has the report from Geneva.

In London it is rumored that a large force of Germans around Dixmude has been cut off by the floods. The inundated country now extends south of Dixmude to within three miles of Bixchoote, about half way to the French border. In other sections snow has fallen and the hardships endured by the men on the firing line, as described by persons returning from the front, are frightful. At points the Germans are said to have been literally swept out of their trenches by the flood. Guns and ammunition wagons are imbedded in the mud, and countless corpses float about.

The Russians apparently are concentrating their efforts on the capture of Cracow and Przemyśl, in an effort to crush completely the Austrian army before making their main advance on German territory. Converging forces are marching on Cracow, the capture of which is believed in Petrograd to be near. The Austrian garrison at Przemyśl, according to an official Austrian statement, made a successful sortie from the invested fortress. From the same source it is reported that the Germans are massing their forces at strategic points in the eastern provinces of Posen and Silesia, preparing for the expected Russian advance.

Petrograd acknowledges that the severe attacks of the Turks in the Caucasian regions near the eastern shores of the Black Sea, have halted the Russian movement. The advance guards of the Russians have been compelled to fall back, the Turks having received large reinforcements. An official Turkish statement to-day asserts that the Russians have suffered heavy losses.

The Austrian operations against Serbia, according to official advices from Vienna, are proceeding successfully. The Serbians rallied before the Austrian advance in Northwestern Serbia, but are now said to have been compelled again to fall back before the invaders.

Britain's problem of dealing with the Moslems was brought up squarely by the German statement that the Khedive of Egypt had departed from Constantinople, where he had been since the beginning of the war, to assume command of the Turkish forces operating against Egypt. Another report of dissension in British possessions, coming from the same source, was to the effect that the leader of the Bedouins at Aden a British possession in Arabia, was calling on his people to rise to arms against their rulers.

The expected encyclical of the Pope is issued to-day. It is an appeal for peace, and attributes the war to lack of mutual love among men, contempt for authority, injustice on the part of one class of people against another and the consideration of material welfare as the sole object of His candidacy.

ELIMINATION OF SPIES IS DEMANDED BY BRITISHERS

London, Nov. 16, 4:20 A. M.—Several interviews with members of Parliament demanding the appointment of a committee of the public safety to take necessary measures to prevent any further mischief from German spies are published here to-day. William Joynton-Hicks, member for Brentford, said: "The present authorities are complacent, almost frivolous in dealing with the question. That the whole coast should be cleared of all foreigners is undoubted. There probably are many spies among the Belgian refugees and even in the recruits for the new army." The "Daily Express" says: "The spy at present is able to be serviceable because it is nobody's business to deal with him. Three government departments are concerned—the War Office, the Home Office and the Admiralty—and the result is inaction, hesitation and all manner of mischief. There should be a committee of safety directly responsible to Parliament and the people."

POPE URGES PEACE AMONG WAR NATIONS OF EUROPE

Rome, Nov. 16, 1:14 A. M.—The Pope to-day caused to be published his announced encyclical urging peace among the warring nations of Europe. In this document the Pontiff attributes the war to four causes, namely lack of mutual and sincere love among men; contempt of authority; injustice on the part of one class of the people against another and the consideration of material welfare as the sole object of human activity.

The Pope's appeal urging peace in Europe follows a pastoral letter from the Pontiff issued early in September in which he exhorted the heads of the nations engaged in hostilities to end the present reign of ruin, disaster and bloodshed. The Pope then said the spectacle of the conflict filled him with horror and sadness and that he hoped not only for the end of this war but of all wars.

GERMANS GATHERING GREAT ARMIES TO CHECK RUSSIANS

London, Nov. 16, 7:49 A. M.—A "Times" dispatch from Copenhagen says: "Advices from Posen indicate that there is much disaffection among the Poles in the eastern provinces of Germany. The Poles complain in the Germans neglecting the frontier, because most of the inhabitants are Slavs. They declare that the Germans themselves are laying the frontier to waste in order to delay the Russians. They protest that Poles are put into the front of the battle line as cannon fodder. The Germans on the other hand, accuse the Poles of helping the Russians by espionage.

The Germans are concentrating great armies at Thorn, Posen and Breslau and plan to fight desperately to prevent the Russian occupation of the important parts of Silesia and Posen. Only the utmost need will persuade the Germans to send any troops back to the western front at present."

ASQUITH ASKS FOR MORE THAN BILLION TO CONDUCT THE WAR

London, Nov. 16, 4:08 P. M.—The greatest single demand ever made upon the material resources of Great Britain was voiced by Premier Asquith this afternoon, when, in the House of Commons, he moved an additional credit for war purposes of 225,000,000 pounds ($1,125,000,000) which, in addition to the millions already voted in August, is equivalent to an increase of more than fifty per cent. in the national debt.

Berlin, Nov. 16, by Wireless.—The Austrian army operating in Serbia, says an Austrian official bulletin given to the German press to-day, continues its forward movement. M.—The "Central News" publishes a dispatch from Amsterdam saying a German newspaper appearing in Brussels declares that a British aviator has dropped a bomb in the town of Courtrai, in Belgium, on the river Lys, twenty six miles southwest of Ghent. The explosion of this projectile killed a number of the local population.

Corporation With a Soul. The Richmond Township Water Company and the Paint Township Water Company, located in Somerset County, have made application to the Public Service Commission for an order authorizing reparation to customers on account of suspension of service through hose connection. Because of the prolonged drought the companies found it necessary to prohibit customers from using water through hose attachments for irrigation and sprinkling purposes during the period beginning August 15 and ending October 15, but, inasmuch as the patrons paid for complete service, the water companies feel that they should make a refund.

Many Does Killed. Reports to the State Game Commission regarding the killing of deer indicate that there will be more killed this year than for several years past. Some of the hunters, through ignorance or by accident, have killed a number of does, and thus far fifteen have been reported. The evidence concerning who did the killing is being gathered and a fine of $100 placed on each violator of the law. There are plenty of buck deer in the forests and killing of a doe or fawn is inexcusable.

COST LAFEAN $3,058 TO WIN

Successful Candidate for Congressman-at-Large Files Expense Account— Mitchell Spent $700

The expense accounts of the three principal political parties are not expected to be filed at the State Department until near the close of the thirty days after election, the time fixed by law. Secretary W. Harry Baker, of the Republican State Committee, came up from Philadelphia last night, bringing with him the items of receipts and expenditures, and will go into retirement for a couple of days with Treasurer Charles Johnson to prepare the report to be filed. Secretary Warren Van Dyke, of the Democratic State Committee, is now engaged in preparing the expense account of that body, and will file it shortly. State Treasurer Robert K. Young, who is also treasurer of the Washington Party State Committee, will prepare his expense account this week and file it before Thanksgiving Day.

Daniel F. Lafean, of York, successful candidate for Congressman-at-large on the Republican ticket, to-day filed his expense account, showing that he received no contributions, but expended $3,058. Of that amount he gave the Republican State Committee $2,500, and the York county Republican committee $500, the rest going for advertising.

Lex N. Mitchell, of Jefferson, a candidate for Congressman-at-large on the Washington party ticket, filed an account showing that he had received $120 in contributions and paid out $799.94, giving $250 to the State Committee. He gave the Harrisburg Washington Party Committee $6 towards paying for the banner over Market street, and Arthur R. Ruple $3 for copies of a speech in Congress. The rest went to pay for traveling expenses and advertising.

The Lancaster Advertising Committee of Lancaster reported through H. E. Kennedy, treasurer, that it received $214 from private contributions and paid it all out for advertising in county papers.

No additional election returns were received at the State Department this morning, the only county missing being Allegheny. Reports from Pittsburgh, however, make it evident Judge Frazer has defeated Judge Kunkel, of Harrisburg, for Supreme Court bench, by about 9,000 majority.

DEATH'S IMPRESS ON COURT

Three Jurors and One Defendant Fail to Answer, Having Recently Died

Four of the ten causes listed for trial at the opening of the November Court Pleas Court to-day were ready for hearing at noon, the other six either having been continued or settled. Judge Albert W. Johnson, of the Snyder-Union county circuit, was on the bench in Judge Kunkel's place, the president judge being occupied in chambers with other official matters which required his attention.

The suit of Isaac D. West against Alfred F. Hanna, an action in which both principals claim title to a tract of land situated near Lykens, went to trial before Judge McCarrell. This case was passed upon by a Dauphin county jury a year or more ago, but the Supreme Court awarded a new trial. At the first hearing a verdict was rendered in favor of the defense. The plaintiff took the appeal.

Just before the noon adjournment a jury was selected to try the suit of Martin J. Riley against Sarah Rashinsky. The plaintiff's claim is for $15 damages, fees alleged to be due him for serving in a previous court.

Eleven of the sixty jurors summoned for duty at this session of Civil court either were excused or failed to respond. They are: Joseph A. Erdman, Cyrus H. Heckert, Walter Randall, J. Frank Ritter, Henry Osman and Dennis McCarthy, all of Harrisburg; ex-cused: Evelyn R. Keim, Harrisburg, removed from the county; George W. Williams, Highspire, removed; John G. Willis, Ninth ward, city, died last night; William Shoop, of Lykens, and John C. Harvey, of Harrisburg, also are dead.

The largest is Assawampsett pond, of 2,121 acres in Lakeville, and the one having the longest name is Chaubunagungamaug of 1,118 acres in Webster. WELFARE EXHIBIT NOW IN PROGRESS

While a small charge of ten cents will be asked for the exhibit to defray the expense. What is Shown at the Exhibit. Everything from shovels to automobiles is shown, this being the first time an automobile division has been added to the show. Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers are on hand, together with large operating concerns such as railroads, who employ large numbers of men. Even the Pennsylvania State College, which has industrial courses of all kinds, has an interesting exhibit.

Along with the music by an orchestra will be the whirr of pumps, the clanging of heavier machines, the sweet note of the telephone bell and the freering and mayhap some joker will operate a Klaxon on an automobile. It will be a noisy time, but an interesting one. Now that the actual work on the Second street subway under the tracks of the Cumberland Valley railroad at Mulberry street has been started, the exhibit of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which contains a model of the new freight station, will be interesting. The company has a separate exhibit of modern locomotives and a hospital car on the Market street siding opposite the Philadelphia and Reading station.

Space for Eighty Exhibitors. Planned by experts in all kinds of business, electrical, mechanical and other kinds of engineers, the exhibit is a model as a whole. The lighting is excellent and space has been economized so much that some eighty odd exhibitors have been taken care of. All have been given space enough for their exhibits, but no space is wasted. There is much moving machinery, giving actual factory operations, as well as just models of modern factory output. Safety first, however, is uppermost in the minds of the exhibitors and on every side are models and photographs of various safety appliances and samples of the various signs used in industrial plants.

Not safety first, but efficient, nevertheless, is a miniature postoffice for the benefit of the exhibitors and a small Bell telephone exchange which connects the various booths.

Many Industrial Visitors Here. The conference itself will bring to Harrisburg a large number of representatives of the largest industrial firms in the State and many outside of it. Various sides of safety in labor will be taken up by both the employer and employee. A large part of each day will be given over to sectional meetings, which will be carried on much the same as committee meetings for the purpose of considering regulations and conditions recommended or adopted by the State Industrial Board. The sections cover safety, hygiene, welfare and fire prevention. Delegates attending the meetings of any or all sections can find practical demonstrations at the exhibit.

Gov. Tener Will Welcome Delegates. At the general session in the morning John Price Jackson, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, will call the meeting to order, and an address of welcome will be delivered by Governor Tener, who will afterwards be presented with a certificate of membership in the Engineers' Society. Subjects of papers for discussion and consideration will be labor in Pennsylvania and her industries, the Department of Labor and Industry, industrial betterment and labor and industry.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, the sections will meet as follows: safety section in the Senate chamber to discuss elevator hazards, ladders, hoists, cranes and conveyors. Hygiene section in the House caucus room, to take up the subjects of regulations for blowers and exhausters, polishing and grinding machinery and foundry regulations. Welfare section in the House of Representatives to discuss first aid and industrial education. The fire section will take up motion picture theatre standards at a place to be announced.

To-morrow evening safety organizations from all over the State will assemble in the House and discuss safety work.

FIRST CLUE TO BOMB THROWER

Attorney in Tombs Court Room Gives Police Evidence to Work Upon

New York Nov. 16.—Meyer Schloss, an attorney, who was in the Tombs court room Saturday morning when a bomb was discovered just in time to prevent its explosion, has given the police their first direct clue to the possible perpetrator of the crime.

Schloss told detectives that he was walking from the front to the rear of the room when he saw a slender, smooth-shaven man of about 35 rise hurriedly from the third seat from the back on the right, under which the bomb was found a moment later, and walk rapidly to the door. The man seemed very nervous, he said, and waited a short time outside of the room. Schloss said that he asked the man what was the trouble and he replied that the judge "will get what is coming to him."

Schloss further declared the man waited until Policeman O'Conner ran into the hall with the bomb and ran down the corridor. The lawyer pursued the fugitive but was unable to detain him.

Telephone Society to Meet. The Harrisburg Telephone Society will meet this evening in the Board of Trade building. W. E. Ripper, manager of the Philadelphia division, will speak on "Telephone Maintenance and Recent Improvements in the Art."

$10,000 POST FOR GAITHER?

Reports Governor Will Appoint His Secretary a Member of Public Service Commission

The rumor that the place on the Public Service Commission made vacant by the death of Judge Ewing, of Fayette county, will soon be filled by Governor Tener by the appointment of Walter Hugas Gaither, at present private secretary to the Governor, was revived by a Philadelphia newspaper yesterday. Neither Governor Tener nor Secretary Gaither was at the executive department to-day, they having left for Monessing last night to attend the dedication of the Elks' home in that city. A Public Service Commissioner gets $10,000 a year.

Should Governor Tener take care of his private secretary by appointing him to a nice place just before his term expires he will be following a precedent set by other Governors. When Governor Penypacker left the executive chair he provided for his private secretary, Bromley Wharton, by having him made secretary and general agent of the State Board of Charities, a position he still holds. When Governor Stuart retired from office he arranged for the placing of his private secretary, Arch. B. Millar, as secretary of the State Railroad Commission, and subsequently Mr. Millar was made secretary of the Public Service Commission at the instance of Governor Stuart.

Judge Ewing died several months ago and the position of Public Service Commissioner has not yet been filled, which leads to the belief that Mr. Gaither will be appointed before Governor Tener retires. Mr. Gaither was a newspaper man in Pittsburgh when Governor Tener made him his private secretary while serving in Congress. Naturally Mr. Gaither came to Harrisburg as the Governor's secretary, a position he has filled with ability.

It was said some time ago that Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee would succeed Judge Ewing on the Public Service Commission, but this has been denied by Mr. McAfee himself, who, it is said, will retain his office as Secretary of the Commonwealth under Governor Brumbaugh.

STATE MOVIE MEN TO UNITE

Proposed to Form State-wide Body in Convention Here in January

With the purpose of forming a State-wide organization of motion picture exhibitors, Pitt Local No. 1, of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of Pennsylvania, has sent out circulars to movie men throughout Pennsylvania, requesting them to attend a convention to be held in Harrisburg January 4, 5 and 6. Fred J. Herrington, an organizer, of Pittsburgh, is here arranging the preliminaries of the convention, to which members of both the association and the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League, as well as independent exhibitors, will be invited.

It is the purpose to form a Pennsylvania branch of the Motion Picture League of America, of which Marion S. Pearce, of Baltimore, is president. The State branch, it is proposed, will seek the repeal of a recently-enacted "take-up" law in Pennsylvania and take an active part in fighting for the motion picture theatres' interests in the Legislature and elsewhere.

KUNKEL THANKS LOCAL BAR

Appreciates Work Done by Lawyers in Support of His Candidacy

Judge George Kunkel this morning called a halt to court matters long enough to express to the attorneys of the Dauphin county bar his appreciation for the interest they took in his candidacy for Justice of the State Supreme Court. "Gentlemen of the Bar—Before we begin the regular business of the session, I take this opportunity to express to you my sincere thanks for your loyal and generous support of my candidacy for the Supreme bench at the recent election. By public meetings and by other open manner you sought to secure for my candidacy the interest of others, which I deeply appreciate. I think at this time I should wish to express my appreciation to you my deep sense of appreciation of what you said and did in my behalf. I shall remember so long as I live this most kind evidence of your confidence and esteem. I thank you with all my heart."

There were no meetings of committees, no song rehearsals, and no preaching. To-night the tabernacle will be dark. Members of the party have only to plan for a big day to-morrow, and for succeeding days of growing activity.

Dr. Stough spent his rest day to-day in Philadelphia. His associate, Rev. Mr. Cartwright, was also out of town.

This week at the tabernacle, seats will be reserved at the tabernacle in the evenings for bodies of working men who desire such reservation. On Friday evening high school boys and girls will be special guests. They will march in a body to the tabernacle, where space will be reserved for them.

Miss Weston, of the Philadelphia "North American," has been in the press box at tabernacle meetings for several days, preparing matter of general interest on the campaign, for her paper.

The booster chorus of boys and girls spring a new song on the tabernacle at the men's meeting yesterday afternoon. The words are by Professor Spooner, and are set to the tune of a popular love song: There's a man now in our city, And his name is Dr. Stough, You can talk about plain preaching, But I guess he'll show you how. Take a chance and go and hear him, Then you'll know the reason why. He will make you sit and wonder WHERE you're going to when you die.

MUST FACE MURDER CHARGE

Grabowski, Accused of Slaying Westerner, Will Be Sent to New York

Governor Tener, it was announced to-day, honored a requisition from the Governor of New York for the return to New York City of Fred Grabowski, under arrest in Susquehanna, charged with the murder in New York of a man named George M. Rogers by beating him on the head with a hammer in a New York hotel.

Rogers was from the West, a man of wealth, and was traveling East for recreation. On the train between Westport and New York he met Grabowski, who, it is alleged, induced him to stop off in New York to see the sights, professing to be well acquainted in the big city. Rogers agreed and Grabowski, according to the police story, took him to a hotel in New York and saw him to his room, where the Westerner went. Then, it is charged, Grabowski went out and got a hammer, went back and smashed the old man's skull as he slept and then robbed him of $70. The alleged murderer went to Susquehanna and the police hunted in vain for him.
