HOW I CURED MY CATARRH

TOLD IN A SIMPLE WAY

Without Apparatus, Inhalers, Salves, Lotions, Harmful Drugs, Smoke or Electricity

HEALS DAY AND NIGHT

It is a new way. It is something absolutely different. No lotions, sprays or sickly smelling salves or creams. No atomizer, or any apparatus, coughing, no steaming or rubbing or injections. No electricity or vibration or massage. No powder; no plasters; no keeping in the house. Nothing of that kind at all.

Something new and different, something delightful and beautiful, something instantly successful. You do not have to wait, and linger and pay out a lot of money. You can stop it over night—and I will gladly tell you how—FREE. I am not a doctor and this is not a so-called doctor's prescription; but I am cured, and my friends are cured, and you can be cured. Your suffering will stop at once like magic.

I AM FREE—YOU CAN BE FREE

My catarrh was filthy and loathsome. It made me ill. It dulled my mind. It undermined my health and was weakening my power to do anything. Coughing, spitting made me obnoxious to all, and my foul breath and disgusting habits made even my loved ones avoid me secretly. My delight in life was dulled and my faculties impaired. I knew that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave, because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality. But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

RISK JUST ONE CENT

Send no money. Just your name and address on a postal card. Say, "Dear Sam Katz: Please tell me how you cured your catarrh and how I can cure mine at once. Do not delay. Send postal card or write me a letter to-day. Don't think of turning this page until you have asked for this wonderful treatment that can cure you what it has done for me."

BESSEMER MILL RESUMED TO-DAY ON MAYARI STEEL

Western Tier of Mills Are All in Operation Except Slab Mill—Both 12-Inch Roll Trains of Merchant Mill Department Working

The Bessemer mill of the local plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Company resumed operations this morning after an idleness since September 1. The product, Mayari steel, made by the duplex system, will be used by several of the local mills which had been using open hearth steel exclusively, the former metal being needed to complete a number of small orders received lately by the steel company.

Of the tier of mills in the western end of the works, only the slab mill is shut down. Both No. 1 and No. 2 blooming mills are running and the new 44-inch mill, forming one of the chain of new mills, will shortly be fired up and a test run will be made. In the merchant mill department, both No. 1 and No. 2, twenty-inch roll trains, are in operation. The frog shop is working on a fifty per cent basis at present and there has been slight increase in the working hours at the bridge and construction department.

SPAT OF LAWYERS ENLIVENS COURT

paring the width of Front street as shown on the map with that of other streets concerning the widths of which he had positive information.

Counsel for the plaintiffs immediately figured they had discovered a loophole for gaining a point and produced a map of their own, on which also no scale was indicated. They sought to have the engineer tell how he determined the width of streets on that map.

The plaintiff's map had not been admitted as evidence and City Solicitor Seitz moved to strike out the testimony concerning it, which was intended to be offered as a part of the cross-examination.

"That is not cross-examination, and I move to have it all stricken from the record," said the City Solicitor.

Lawyers in Fresh Spat

"I have just as much right to cross-examine a witness as you," snapped Mr. Hain. "You are snapping and snarling all the time, trying to prevent my making progress."

Judge Johnson interrupted by ruling out the testimony relating to the plaintiffs' map.

Mr. Seitz went right ahead with the argument with counsel.

"Is that so?" he asked of Mr. Hain. "Do you think so, eh?"

"Yes, and if we wanted to do that we can do it, too."

"Well, you will limit yourself to proper cross-examination and the Court has stricken out your testimony and out she goes."

The wrangling ended with Judge Johnson remarking:

"You fellows are fighting without being mad, I assume."

A moment later the lawyers were whispering to each other, presumably for the purpose of laying plans for making better progress, as suggested by the trial judge.

The property owners claim title to strips of ground on the west side of Front street, approximately 135 feet long, and extending from the old line of Front street, near Conroy, to the low water mark. The City contends the property owners have title only to the ground as far as the high water mark.

Also the City contends that in taking the ground for the reopening of South Front street, it did not infringe on the rights of the plaintiffs, and that even if a small part of the individual owners' ground had been taken, the rest of their property will be benefited by improvements the City contemplates.

Such as planting shrubbery, making fills and protecting the embankment with a retaining wall.

The witnesses who were called yesterday were asked to estimate the market value of the plaintiffs' property before and after the taking of the ground and the street opening. In each instance the City Solicitor asked the witnesses to assume, when making estimates, that the city will carry out its plans for beautifying the South Harrisburg river front.

"I object to that," said the opposing counsel. "That is mere guess work. You can't assume what the City will do. They say they will do this and that, but will it be done?"

Judge Johnson overruled the objection and directed the witness to go on. Mr. Hain again objected, this time making a more extensive argument.

"I don't want to express an opinion," began Judge Johnson, "but I have driven along the river front several times. Is there any doubt in your mind, Mr. Hain, that the City will carry out its improvement plan just as it has done and we are told it will do?"

"Well, I don't know about that," the attorney replied.

Witness Thinks $600 Fair

In obtaining from witnesses information that deals directly with the question of damages, the City Solicitor asked for opinions as to losses or benefits, based upon the assumption that the plaintiffs are without a legal right to construct a permanent building on that part of the ground to which they claim title, situated between the high and low water marks.

Many of the witnesses, however, preferred not to make such an assumption. One said he thought that since the plaintiffs paid for their ground they should be given ample return for what they lost. Besides, the witness said, he could not understand that there is any existing legislation that will not permit a man to do with his property "just as he feels like."

The witness said finally, that the strip of ground belonging to each plaintiff between the line of the high water mark and the low water mark is worth not less than $600. He said he would not offer a reason for fixing that amount save that it is based on what the owners said for it. That amount is $400 less than claimed by each plaintiff.

BELATED BADGES ARRIVE

Those Meant for Firemen's Convention Just Received From Manufacturers

The final report of the finance committee of the Harrisburg Firemen's Union, covering the expenditures for the State firemen's convention held here last October, will be made at a meeting of the Union December 8. Howard O. Holstein, chairman of the finance committee, says that after $300 subscribed by hotel men, which has not as yet been paid, is received there will be enough money in the treasury to meet all bills contracted for the State convention.

The 500 delegates' badges which were ordered, but did not arrive in time for the convention, reached Harrisburg yesterday and the work of mailing them to the various companies has been started.

A meeting will be held on Thanksgiving Day in Norristown to decide on the city for the next convention. Several cities that were mentioned have turned down the proposition on account of the large expense connected with it. At the next convention a standard badge will be adopted. Each delegate will receive one, which he will be expected to wear at all conventions thereafter. This will eliminate an expense item of about $1,400 a year.

CHURCH RECOGNIZES WOMEN

Episcopal Provincial Board Hereafter to Contain Two

Pittsburgh, Nov. 19.—Women for the first time in the history of the Protestant Episcopal Church were yesterday recognized on one of the eight boards of that denomination when the Synod of the Third Province, in session here, decided that the Provincial Board of Social Service shall hereafter be composed of one bishop, four presbyters, four laymen and two women.

The question of giving the synod a name resulted in it being finally decided in favor of Washington City, with the province being known as the Province of Washington. The synod also decided to elect the presiding bishop for three years, eligible to succeed himself.

LATE WAR NEWS SUMMARY

Russian advance guard are now in retreat. Violent fighting has been resumed within a two hour motor ride of the gates of Paris. At Tracey-le-Val, where the main battle line from the north swings to the eastward at the point nearest Paris, a German advance led to a violent encounter. The Germans attempted to recapture the town, won by the allies a few days ago, but according to the French office statement to-day they were repulsed with heavy losses.

In Flanders the artillery duel, described during the last few days as of furious intensity, has become still more violent, on the part of the Germans at least, but here, as elsewhere, the opposing forces are holding fast to their main positions.

An official German communication states that heavy fighting has been resumed in the Argonne forest around which some of the most severe encounters of the war have raged from time to time during the last two months. A heavy loss, it is said, was inflicted on the enemy. In a battle between two squadrons of aeroplanes, it is said, one airship of the allies and one of the Germans were lost.

Turkey's explanation of her act in firing on the American flag at Smyrna has not been submitted nor has the Navy Department at Washington received a detailed report from Captain Decker of the cruiser Tennessee, one of whose launches was under fire. The Washington authorities were confident, however, that satisfactory amends would be made by Turkey and that no complications would result.

Austria is calling for more soldiers. The older men of the Landsturm of 1870 to 1890 have been summoned to the colors.

Austria apparently has the upper hand in her war with Serbia. Reports from Vienna state that the pursuit of the enemy is being carried further, and that the Serbian retreat at places is attended with heavy losses. Unofficial German advices stated that Russia had sent troops to assist the Serbians, but the authenticity of this report was in doubt because such a movement of forces would involve a long sea voyage around the continent of Europe or the invasion of Bulgaria or Rumania, neutral countries.

WEST FLANDERS CUT OFF FROM REST OF BELGIUM BY DESTROYED BRIDGES

The Hague, Via London, Nov. 19, 3:30 A. M.—Advices received here from Thiel, Belgium, which were brought by way of San Van Gent by messenger and are dated Monday, November 16, state that west Flanders, the scene of incessant military operations, remains an island cut off from the rest of Belgium through the blowing up of most of the bridges leading thereto. Peasants are obliged to make emergency bridges from planks and crawl along on these to escape from the danger zone. The Germans have declared the territory west of the railroad running from Antwerp to Brussels and thence to Mous as an off-limits area, where nobody, including even Germans, is allowed to travel without a special military passport.

Dixmude Entirely Ruined

It is difficult to obtain reliable news of the situation in the war zone, as the bedraggled men and women who manage to escape are too miserable through cold and hunger to give an account of their experiences. Their only definite recollection seems to be the continued cannon fire and the endless processions of wounded filling their villages.

It was learned from some of them, however, that Dixmude, the scene of such severe fighting, is entirely ruined. Nieuport also suffered severely. In Ypres the Cloth Hall, which was one of the few ancient buildings saved from the English siege in the year 1533, is severely damaged by shrapnel fire.

In Termonde the Germans have ordered the schools reopened, but since the 10,000 inhabitants have been reduced to a hundred there are no pupils and, besides, as four-fifths of the town is in ruins, there are no schools. The bridges here are lightly guarded by men of the Bavarian Landwehr.

Many German Wounded in Ghent

Ghent is deserted by its population, but is overflowing with German wounded. Zebrugge, according to reports, has been made a station for submarines by the Germans. At Alost the population is beginning to return. The people are establishing themselves in shacks and in the ruins of their old homes.

From the entire province of Flanders, where the roads are full of aimlessly drifting people, come creditable reports of ever-increasing suffering and privation. Food is exceedingly scarce and many persons are suffering from hunger. The peasants are cutting down the old line of trees at the country places for fuel.

Brussels is quiet. About one-third of the population there is supported by public charity. A similar situation exists in Malines.

London, Nov. 19, 4:13 a. m.—The correspondent of the "Times" in West Flanders relates further indications of an impending German retreat from the line they are now holding. Their transports, he says, have been moved
