WEEGHMAN CANNOT LAND THE CUBS; WAR WILL GO ON

Charles W. Murphy, 'Ousted' Stockholder, Influences Taft to Drop Deal - Federals Declare for War on Organized Ball to a Finish

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Developments affecting the Chicago National League club, and through it the state of baseball war existing between the Federal League and the parties to the national agreement, came fast yesterday.

First was the revelation that Charles W. Murphy, despite his having been "ousted" last winter, still has a large influence among those directing the club's affairs; then came Charles P. Taft's declaration of a break in Charles Weeghman's negotiations for the purchase of the Taft interests in the club.

Murphy's influence became apparent in the success of his fight to keep the Cubs on their West Side playing grounds, of which he is half owner, with Mr. Taft holding the other half.

On returning from Cincinnati Murphy declared there was no chance for Weeghman's buying into the National League club, and this was confirmed soon after by Taft's announcement that negotiations were ended.

The news of these developments brought from Charles Weeghman a declaration that war would continue, with the Federals in better position than ever to wage it.

One thousand dollars for one week's work is what the assignment to adjudicate in the world's series means to four umpires. The system of having to call balls and strikes only once in every four games makes the work even lighter than it was a few years back, and the pay has been doubled in the last five years.

Neither league has any regular order for assigning the umpires for the world's series. An umpire is likely to be called upon for four successive series, as has happened to Bill Klem, or he may never get the coveted assignment.

Bob Emslie, who has been in the National League for the last 24 seasons, was as yet to make his first decision in a world's series, and the same goes for Mal Eason, who has been calling balls and strikes in the senior organization for the last seven seasons.

In the American League the work has been divided up better among the veteran umpires. Chill is the only official in Ban Johnson's organization who has not figured in the autumn melon and he ranks as a newcomer.

Following is a record of the world's series umpiring by officials who are still in the two major leagues: Connolly, 1905, 1908, 1910, 1911, 1913; Klem, 1908, 1909, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914; O'Loughlin, 1906, 1909, 1912; Rigler, 1910, 1912, 1913; Dineen, 1911, 1914; Evans, 1909, 1912; Egan, 1913; Hilbrand, 1914; Byron, 1914.

For several years $500 was the sum paid to the umpires who worked in the world's series and in the four series between the National and American League pennant winners between 1902 and 1907, inclusive, only two umpires were assigned to each series. In 1908, four umpires were named for the series between the Cubs and Tigers, and this number has been continued since that time. The remuneration was raised from $500 to $750 some years back, and at the close of the 1912 series between the Sox and the Giants, the pay was raised to $1,000 per umpire.

In this series Klem and Rigler were the National League umpires, while Evans and O'Loughlin represented the American League. They went through the eight games with hardly a murmur against a decision.

Horton is TENNIS CHAMP Williamsport Player Defeats Ross in Straight Sets

In straight sets by the scores of 6-2 and 5-3, Charles Horton won the Harrisburg Academy tennis championship from John Ross yesterday afternoon. The cold weather made the playing slow. This is Horton's second successive win in academy finals. He comes from Williamsport where he has had considerable experience in tournament play.

The summary of points: First Set Horton 4 6 4 10 5-28 Ross 2 0 4 2 4 31-20 Second Set Horton 4 4 4 5 4 2 6 14-34 Ross 6 2 1 3 2 4 4 4 1-27

Horton started serving in both sets, losing the first game in the second set and winning the first. Horton won three games in his service in the first set and four in the second while Ross won one game on his service in the first set and two in the second. Horton's total for points in the two sets was sixty-two points and Ross' was forty-seven.

UNIQUE FOOTBALL GAME FOR CHARITY IS PLANNED

Carlisle Indians Will Play a Team Composed of Former Stars at Fenway Park, Boston, on November 28

Boston, Nov. 19.—An interesting wind-up to the football season in Boston will be the game to be played at Fenway Park, on Saturday afternoon, November 28, when the Carlisle Indian football eleven will be opposed by an all-star team composed of former players from the leading Eastern universities. The game will be for charity, the proceeds going to the Children's Island Sanitarium, with a smaller percentage to the American Red Cross.

This contest was arranged last spring, when contracts were signed by Glenn Warner, the Carlisle football director and President Lannin, of the Boston American League Club. War at that time had been thought of and when the proposition was made that the Red Cross share equally it was found impossible on account of the contracts already signed. The latter, however, will receive a percentage.

As a football game the coming contest should prove of more than ordinary interest. The Indians are always popular in New England and formerly attracted thousands when they played against Harvard. The last Saturday in the month they will face many Harvard players whom they have met on the gridiron in the past.

For the All-Stars, Hamilton Fish will act as captain and the former Harvard leader will get into the game at his old position of tackle. The players from the New York district will be coached by Fish, and the finishing touches will be put on at his country home at Garrison, on the Hudson. The players about Boston will be coached in the same formations and with the same signals by Harry Gardner, the Harvard quarterback of last year's team. A week before the game the full squad will get together and the best men will be selected to start the game against the Indians. The players will be taken in hand by Percy Haughton after the Harvard-Yale game for their final polishing.

Some of the most noted football players of the East will get into the game, and the old timers are very anxious to resume gridiron activity. So many have volunteered that it is likely that practically a new eleven will play in each period for the All-Stars. In addition to Fish and Gardner, Ted Coy, the great Yale captain of 1910, will be in the line-up, with "Hobby" Baker, of Princeton, and "To" Pennington, captain of the Tigers in 1912, and Philbin, of Yale. Dartmouth will be represented among others by Sherwin, and Williams by Wadsworth, the former quarterback. Other New England colleges also are expected to be represented in the final make-up of the eleven. Harvard, naturally, will have the larger representation, and in addition to those named there will be Pat Grant, one of the first of the roving centers; Minot, the great plunging back; Percy and Jack Wendell; Vic Kennard, whose drop kick defeated Yale at New Haven in 1908; Crawford Blagden, the Crimson tackle of more than a decade ago; Huntington, Hitchcock, Wigglesworth, Parkinson, Dick Lawrence and the Withington brothers, Paul and Lothrop, both captains in their senior years at Harvard.

As Harvard's varsity will have played its last game of the season, many of this year's team will be available for the All-Stars, which should, therefore, be a formidable organization physically and in the knowledge of fundamental football. While team play will be impossible for the players to be together, the eleven should be able to give the Indians a great battle. Open play probably will be the feature of the contest, as this is the style at which the Redskins are at their best.

Lee Magee to Jump Cardinals' Star Gives Club Ten Days' Notice

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—Lee Magee, infielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, has served a formal ten days' notice on the club that he would consider his service to the club at an end at the expiration of the ten-day period.

President Britton issued the following statement: "I am told that Magee has an offer from the Federals of a three-year contract at $6,000 a year and a $2,000 bonus the moment he signs. We have a valid claim to Magee's services for 1915, but if he regards his moral obligations thus lightly I am willing to let him go."
