Relatives Can't Keep Remains of Dead From Dissecting Table

By Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 20.—Relatives of hundreds of persons who die in Bellevue and Harlem hospitals are unable to save the bodies of their dead from the dissecting table, according to evidence given in an inquiry looking to the abolition of the office of coroner.

Dr. Timothy Lehane, a coroner's physician, testified that he had performed thousands of autopsies and that when there is a scarcity of bodies for dissection purposes in the two hospitals it is not uncommon for members of the family to send for relatives of the dead and threaten to notify the coroner if the bodies are not surrendered for autopsy purposes.

"I have met in the ante-rooms of these two institutions hundreds of weeping relatives who were powerless to save their dead from the dissecting tables," Dr. Lehane said.

PINK OYSTERS LATEST FREAK

Rosy-hued Bivalves From Long Island Sound Frighten Epicureans

Washington, Nov. 20.—Pink oysters are the latest freak of nature under investigation by experts of the Department of Agriculture. The rosy-hued bivalve comes from beds in Long Island Sound, looks like a regular oyster when gathered, but turns up pink on the plate of the ultimate consumer.

Frightened epicureans besieged the Bureau of Chemistry with inquiries and a volunteer poison squad found the pink oyster not only harmless, but delicious. The chemists have a theory that the oysters are turned pink by a wild yeast bacillus or some other micro-organism.

Holland oysters sold in England and on the continent are quite pink and clam-like in appearance.

Leadville, Col., Nov. 20.—That district of Leadville which was famous for its saloons and dance halls in the boom days of violence and riotous celebration of sudden wealth was swept away by fire early yesterday.

The fire started in a rooming house over a saloon and dance hall.

REFORM ORGANIZATIONS MUST "COME TO EARTH"

National Municipal League Say Political Reformers Must Remove "the Sign of the 'Highbrow' and Substitute the 'Dollar Mark'"

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, Nov. 20.—Political reform organizations must "come down to earth"; they must remove "the sign of the 'highbrow' and substitute the 'dollar mark,'" which alone, apparently, is sufficiently potent to be effective," according to a report to the National Municipal League today by its committee on plan of political organization.

The committee has not completed its work, and the report is described as only an "interlocutory expression." It was prepared by the chairman, A. Leo Weil, president of the Voters' League of Pittsburgh.

In part, the report is as follows: "A plan of political organization which relies for its support upon that class who have reached the elevation where they look down upon selfishness and are moved solely by altruistic considerations must fail. The number is too limited.

"It will not do for the so-called 'highbrow' to inveigh against the complacency of the average citizen. This gets him nowhere. It will not do to assume that all voters are corruptly influenced when they support political faction. This presupposes the preponderance of corruption. The trouble is, perhaps, that while the one form of organization follows the natural instincts of man, the other ignores them and relies upon a conception of citizenship as appeals only to the idealists, the theorists, the purists and the dreamers.

A plan of political organization to succeed, to secure the following required to win at the polls, must be built upon the main spring of human action, to wit: self-interest. Your committee believes that it can be demonstrated (except where the contest is purely personal, between men, not measures) that in the campaign for good government, as contrasted with the machine government, the selfish interest of the citizen are at stake. Too much stress is laid upon patriotism, civic pride and the like, and too little upon what the continuance of poor government or institution of good means to the purse and the person of the individual citizen.

There was much justification, the report continued, in the charge that a large number of those who were found among the reformers, so-called, did not qualify by registration or other legal formalities, to exercise the rights of citizenship, "the mere voice of civic obligation not being loud enough to call them from their personal pursuits to the performance of their personal obligations."

A general awakening was going on, however, and there was an ever-increasing number who wanted good government out of purely selfish motives.

As to the financing of such political organizations, the report noted the Cleveland plan, and urged that it might be followed by other cities. "In the city of Cleveland the president of a large trust company conceived the plan of getting some of its citizens of wealth to provide in their wills for bequests to foundation devoted to the city's welfare, and a large amount, running up into millions, has been already thus incorporated in such wills. The money, of course, will be available only upon the death of the benefactors. Some of these amounts, however, have already become available through death, and in consequence an organization is being effected in that city having for its purpose the general welfare of the city."

The report concluded with the committee's appeal for suggestions as: "How best to show that good government means personal good to the individual.

"How to inform the community that good government is a selfish proposition, not an altruistic dream.

"How to remove from such organizations the sign of the 'highbrow' and substitute the 'dollar mark,' which alone, apparently, is sufficiently potent to be effective.

"How to bring such organizations

NO DOUBT THE BEST SELLER

No Other Book Published Has Had Such an Immense and Lasting Popularity as Bible

During the last few years there has been much talk of "best sellers." Publishers have vied with each other to enlist writers whose works have at one time or another reached the head of the list.

The popular novel that sells up into the thousands and continues in demand is known as a "best seller," but comparatively few of the many reach this enviable position.

There is one book, however, that has been a "best seller" for the past 300 years. This is what is known as the authorized version of the Bible. More than 300,000,000 copies have been distributed by the American and British and foreign Bible societies alone.

Think of these figures and you will forever cease to be interested in so-called "best sellers."

The Bible, or parts of it, have been translated into several hundred different languages and dialects. The first complete translation in English was made over 500 years ago, and the first American edition was printed in Boston more than 150 years ago.

A most interesting work from all viewpoints is this great Book of Books, but the publishers of the Bible which the Star-Independent is distributing have given it an added interest by making it a veritable work of art.

Besides the full-page color plates from the world-famed Tisot collection, there are also more than 600 subjects illustrated by famous artists, and the pictures are printed in with the type, where they help to make plain the text matter.

Every man, woman and child will want a copy of this new illustrated Bible, and it may have by its presentation one certificate, printed on another page, and complying with the terms explained therein.

TEST CASE ON BOUNTIES

Bradford County Refused Payment to Man Who Killed Fox

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—A suit involving the payment of bounties by the State for the killing of noxious animals was heard in the Superior Court yesterday on the appeal of the Commissioners of Bradford county for a mandamus issued by Judge Maxwell directing them to pay a bounty of $2 to David J. Armstrong, of Terrier township, for killing a fox.

Armstrong killed the animal January 1, 1913, and, although the Commissioners refused him the bounty, he waited until August 28, 1913, before starting suit. Meanwhile, on July 25, 1913, a new law was passed restricting the payment of bounties so far as Reynard is included to "gray foxes." The Commissioners thereupon maintained that the new law repealed the old one and, as the fox killed by Armstrong was not gray, there was no obligation to pay the bounty. The case was held under advisement.

Specialist Explains Cause of Stomach Trouble

VALUABLE ADVICE TO SUFFERERS

"There are many different forms of stomach trouble," said a well-known specialist recently, "but practically all are traceable to excessive acidity and food fermentation. That is why the results obtained from the use of drugs are usually so disappointing. Admitting fermentation and consequent acidity of the food, the cause of the underlying cause of most forms of indigestion, it naturally follows that the use of a reliable antacid, such as the frequently prescribed by physicians, will produce better results than any known drug or combination of drugs. Accordingly I almost invariably advise those who complain of digestive trouble to get some heartburn magnesia (note the name carefully, as other forms are not suitable for this purpose), from their druggist, and take from one to two teaspoonfuls of the powder, or a grain compressed tablets, with a little water as meals. This by immediately neutralizing the acid and stopping the fermentation, removes the acid from the stomach, and insures normal and healthy digestion." adv.

Chambersburg, Nov. 20.—A remarkable non-partisan endorsement of Judge Gillan and an urgent appeal that he be renominated without opposition is a striking feature of the Waynesboro "Record" of yesterday. This endorsement comes with particular force in that the editor of the "Record," Robert C. Gordon, is one of the most prominent Republican leaders in this section and is a strong political force in the county.
