TECH HIGH, TRIUMPHANT AFTER 9 YEARS OF EFFORT

Vanquish Central High in Greatest Local Spectator Day Struggle—8,000 Viewers See Maroon and Grey Victorious

In winning yesterday from Central High school by the score of 19 to 12, the veteran Tech team crashed every record existing between the two elevens, since first meeting in 1905. First and foremost they won, a feat never before attained, second they crossed Central's goal line, a hitherto unaccomplished feat and lastly the winners have crashed for all time the wide belief that stage fright can effect a Tech team in a game with the older school's gridiron representatives. The curtain has now drawn on local football for 1912, its fall being attended by a big celebration, in which every honor that could be bestowed on an eleven which after ten years has placed a victory on Tech's credit side, was held.

The weather man conspired to make it a long remembered day. While the temperature was mild, the tang so invigorating to the warriors was missing; but there could have been nothing better for the fans, who turned out to the number of 8,000. It was the greatest Thanksgiving Day crowd ever in attendance at a local game. Moreover the crowd never saw such a game, when breaks of unexpected kinds could turn the battle so completely one way or another.

The result of the game did not upset the hope, still the victory was not as decisive as the wagers predicted. This is not to be wondered at, as Central High came back and played the best game of the season, showing an offense, remarkable in the face of its veteran opponents. Central's strength was of no avail against a more skilled eleven, whose individual backfield stars outnumbered that of the vanquished eleven.

There never was a game so full of breaks which could turn the tide of battle from one side to the other. A fumble, a fumble, an unexpected penalty, a stolen forward pass all contributed an element of uncertainty to the struggle that made the final result problematical, until Beck on a beautiful trick play rounded the end in the final period for his third touchdown.

Central started the game kicking the ball and scored a touchdown on a fluke on the kickoff. Rote kicked to Tech's ten-yard line where, according to the officials, Beach touched the pignisk allowing it to cross the line. Smetlzer there fell on the ball and officials decided it was a touchdown. Rote missed the try for the goal by inches. It all happened so quickly that spectators did not recover for an instant. This unusual piece of luck at the outset made Tech fight an uphill battle which was more than evened before the first period was ended.

Rote again kicked to British, who was downed on the 28-yard line. The Maroon and Grey backs took the ball uninterrupted to the 15-yard line where they were held for downs. Smetlzer fumbled the ball on the first play. Beck recovering the ball, this being the second break in the game, led to a score. Beck in two plunges covered the distance. Kutz kicked the goal and Tech was one point to the good, the score standing 7 to 6. The quarter soon ended with the ball in Tech's possession on Central's 18-yard line.

In three plunges the distance to the goal line was made, Beck being given the pignisk for the score. Kutz missed his goal. Here Central began playing its greatest game of the afternoon, and while the first score was on a fluke unusually offensive power was shown in scoring another from play. It, however, did not come until the final period only after the tide of battle had changed several times, both teams battling every inch of the way.

Central on the offensive after the kick began a steady advance. Rote, Smetlzer, Rote and Zeigler making two first downs. Here the first of the excellent open play of the afternoon occurred. A perfectly executed lateral-forward pass, Rote, Smetlzer to Byers, gave Central High twenty-two yards. The ball soon after went to the victors on downs, but Tech was unable to advance with marked success and the half ended with the ball in Tech's possession in Central's territory.

The third period was even and no scores were made. The battle raged in the center of the field, both teams playing sterling defensive games, both getting the ball on downs. Punting was resorted to, Tech gaining a slight advantage, holding the ball on Central's 45-yard line at the close of the period. The final period is one long to be remembered. Both teams scored touchdowns after spectacular playing. At the outset Central held Tech for downs but by savage plunges swept the Tech team off its feet. Things happened fast after the ball exchange. Houtz received a forward pass and gained twelve yards before being downed. Central resorted to open play and another forward pass was tried. Beck, by a mighty jump, eluded the ball and ran sixty yards to Central's 10-yard line before being tackled by Zeigler. Central held here and took the ball on downs. Rote punted to British, who dropped the ball, Houtz recovering it. A forward pass by Lynch gained thirty yards for Central and then Cless was detected in some unnecessary rough work and Tech was penalized, the ball being taken to Tech's 10-yard line. Two plunges failed and then Rote took the ball over the corner of the gridiron for a touchdown. The Central High star was too exhausted to kick far out and his subsequent kick for the goal was slow and the ball was intercepted.

TECH NOW HAD A ONE POINT ADVANTAGE AS THE TEAMS LINED UP FOR THE KICKOFF.

Rote kicked to British. After a first down on line plunges, Tech resorted to open play and two successful forward passes put the ball on Central's 20-yard line, where on a trick play Beck made his third touchdown and decisively decided the game. British called for a forward pass formation standing back from the line of play. The ball was snapped and the men eligible to receive the pass dashed down to the right side of the field, where they were covered, when Beck, from that side of the field, dashed to the rear of British, taking the ball from his poised hand and dashed around left end the distance to the goal line unopposed. Kutz failed in his attempt at the goal. The final whistle blew not long after this feat.

It ended one of the greatest football struggles ever seen on the H. A. C. field. Beck and Rote were the individual stars of the game. The lineup and summary:

Table with 2 columns: Technical, Central. Rows include Stiteler, Miller, McKay, Cless, Wier, Kutz, Emanuel, British, Harris, Beach, Beck, etc.

CAPTAIN BECK GRADUATES

Tech Will Lose Six and Central High School Seven From Their Football Elevens

While Central High loses seven to Tech's six football men through graduation, the Maroon and Grey's loss is greater for the individual stars who have been responsible for Tech's great football season which has been crowned by a victory over Central High will go out in the spring.

Beck, the fullback whose efforts have won him great fame on the gridiron, is the greatest loss. His line plunging was of the highest order and he formed a pivot for a backfield of stars of exceptional merit. Beck, a halfback, will be graduated. The punter, Kutz, a man of high ability, will go on to Emanuel, one of the fastest ends in the scholastic game. Cless and Stiteler will be a loss to the eleven.

The backfield on the Central High team will suffer from the same cause. Rote and Smetlzer, sturdy men of ability, will be the greatest loss to the team. They are accomplished players and have gained a lot of ground for Central High. Two ends, Winn and Lynch, will be graduated. Smetlzer and Byers will also leave school in the spring.

Rote, Houtz, Diffenbaugh and Bingham will remain in school to form a big nucleus for the team next year. As bright almost as Central's chances will be Tech's for British and Harris will remain. These two men, perhaps, will be the best backfield men in scholastic circles next season.

MIDDIES OFF FOR GAME

Annapolis Team Starts for Philadelphia Amid Rendition of Battle Hymn

By Associated Press. Annapolis, Md., Nov. 27.—As 800 of their comrades in the regiment of midshipmen sang the famous Naval Academy battle hymn, "Anchors Weigh," Navy's football players passed out of Sampson row gate this morning and left Annapolis at 8 o'clock for Philadelphia, where they will try conclusions with Army to-morrow afternoon. The squad was in charge of Lieutenant Commander Roger Williams. It was about 7 o'clock when the first cheer floated over the high walls of the Academy and the yelling increased in volume until it culminated in the rousing "Four N." The team's coaches, individual players, substitutes and trainers each were given a cheer. The final work of the team in Annapolis yesterday afternoon was in absolute secrecy. Coaches only were permitted within a wide range of the field, and the coaches did not even allow the time of practice to be known in advance. Confidence has increased among navy adherents that the midshipmen will be able to wipe out the defeat administered by Army last year.

TECH HOLDS CELEBRATION

Marchers Make Principal Fager and Captain Beck Speak

The attendant celebration last evening for the victorious Tech team was of no mean extent, hundreds participating in a march which included in its line the principal downtown streets and stops at the home of Dr. Charles B. Fager, Jr., principal of the school, and the home of Beck, the Tech fullback, so much responsible for yesterday's victory. Both were compelled to make speeches.

Both schools had bands out at the game yesterday to aid in the organized cheering which was the greatest since the two schools have been meeting on Thanksgiving Day. An unexpected turn-out from South Harrisburg with the Italian Band helped Tech materially. There were plenty of things to remember about yesterday's attendant features. Chief among them was the "Central Goat," a real goat taken to the game by Tech followers and paraded around the field between the halves. Coach Paul G. Smith, who was married last evening at 8 o'clock, had to listen to the wedding march played at every opportune time by the band with the Central High rooters.

RUMORED BASEBALL TRADE

Involves Oldring and Lapp of Athletics, and Caldwell of Yankees

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27.—A baseball trade between the New York and Philadelphia Americans clubs involving Ray Caldwell, of the Yankees, and Rube Oldring and Jack Lapp, of the Athletics, is under consideration, according to reports published here to-day. President Ban Johnson, of the American League, is said to have urged Connie Mack, while on a recent visit East, to arrange the deal with the double purpose of saving Caldwell from the Federal League, with which he is reported to have signed for next season, and of strengthening the New York club for the good of the circuit.

ROUSING SENDOFF FOR ARMY

Cadets Start for Philadelphia for Football Game To-morrow Afternoon

By Associated Press. West Point, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The Army football team left here to-day for Philadelphia. In the party, besides the 52 cadets comprising the football squad, were Lieutenant Charles D. Daly, head coach, and his assistants, Captains Ernest Graves and Dan I. Sultan and Lieutenants Hammond, Thompson, Hayes, Pullen, Stillwell and Stearns; Harry Tutbill, trainer; several rubbers and a detachment of the hospital corps on duty at the post. The coaches planned to give the team a light limbering up exercise on Franklin Field during the afternoon. Before leaving the coaches announced the names of the players in the first string of subs. These included Kelly, the former Exeter star, and Britton, as ends; Larkin and Parker, as tackles; Herick and Timberlake, as guards; Goodman, as center; Oliphant, as quarterback, and Boots, Ford and Benedict, as the backfield. The coaches said it would be hard to distinguish between the playing ability of this second team and the team that will start the contest, the composition of which has already been announced. The battalion of cadets gave the team a rousing sendoff as it departed. Headed by the Academy band, the cadets marched to the top of the hill leading to the depot, where they halted and cheered every member of the squad, the coaches and trainers. The corps of cadets will leave for Philadelphia by

PRESIDENT NOT AT GAME

Secretaries of War and the Navy Will Attend Game at Franklin Field

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—The advance forces of the Army and Navy began to arrive in Philadelphia to-day for the annual football battle between the West Point cadets and the Annapolis midshipmen on Franklin Field to-morrow afternoon. The movement will become general late to-day and by to-morrow the central part of the city will be in complete possession of the two arms of the government service. Extra seats have been erected in Franklin Field and the largest crowd that ever saw an Army-Navy football game in this city will be on hand to cheer their favorites. As a whole, the Army-Navy game is the most spectacular on the football schedule of the year. The uniforms of officers, the parading across the field of the battalions of gray-clad cadets and the regiment of blue uniformed midshipmen, the martial music of the big brass bands and the commingling of the colors of the American flag with the blue and gold of the Navy, gold and gray of the Army and red and blue of the University of Pennsylvania give a picturesque setting that is inspiring. President Wilson, who saw last year's game, will not be here, but several members of his Cabinet, including the Secretaries of War and the Navy, will be on hand to root for the gridiron warriors.

WINS GAME FROM GARNETS

Harrisburg Team Defeats Philadelphia at Army by Close Score of 44 to 43

Harrisburg won from the Garnets, of Philadelphia, last night at the Army in one of the hardest-fought games ever played here. At the close of play the score stood 40-40, so an extra five minutes was given to decide the winning team. At the end of the five minutes the score was 44 to 43 in favor of the local team. Harrisburg came into its own in this session when Atticks caged one brilliant field goal and Baumbach shot two of the fouls called on the visitors, giving the locals a one-point lead. Dienes scored one field goal in this extra period and Haire caged one of the two fouls called on Harrisburg. Harrisburg led the scoring throughout the opening period, leading at the call for time by a score of 30 to 17. In the final period the Garnets outplayed Harrisburg, scoring ten goals from the field to two shot by Krout, the only local player who was able to break through the Garnets' guards. Baumbach and Krout played Harrisburg's best games. In the opening half together they scored 24 of the 30 points annexed by the locals. In the second period Haire and Dienes played the best games. One of the best crowds of the year attended the game. The lineup and summary: Garnet, Baumbach, F, Haire, 2; Dienes, 2; Krout, 2; Haddock, 2; Parker, 2; Boyles, Atticks, Ehler, Pond, Haddock, 10 out of 19; Naire, 8 out of 13. Referee, White. Scorer, Kulp, Timer, Regan. Time of halves, 20 minutes.
