PIMPLES SPREAD ON NECK AND FACE

Solid Scale. Could Not Sleep. Pimples Red, Inflamed, Festered and Came to Head. Very Disfiguring. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Healed.

1750 N. Second St., Philadelphia, Pa.—About two years ago a pimple came out on my neck. I scratched it and it began to spread until my neck and face were a solid scale. The irritation was worse at night and I would not get any sleep. I lost twenty-five pounds in weight and was almost out of my mind with pain. No matter where the irritation came, at work or on the streets or in the presence of company, I would have to scratch until I had the blood running down my face and neck. I simply cannot describe my suffering during those two years. The pimples were red and inflamed, then they festered and afterward came to a head. They were very disfiguring.

"I tried all kinds of remedies, but I might as well throw my money in the street. The pimples would dry up and give me hope only to break out again just as bad if not worse. I had given up all hope of ever being cured when a friend advised me to give the Cuticura Soap and Ointment a trial. I began to see a change and in four months my face and neck were as clear as a baby's. Cuticura Soap and Ointment healed me. It is a year since then and I have no signs of the trouble." (Signed) John Robert, Jan. 28, 1914.

70,000 DRUG FIENDS IN U. S.

They Probably Consume 1,700,000,000 Average Doses a Year

Washington, Dec. 2.—The number of drug "fiends" in the United States is not nearly so large as had been supposed, the public health service reports. It had been estimated that between 1 and 2 per cent. of the population were drug habitues. The report also states that the evils due to the improper use of such drugs have been greatly exaggerated.

In Tennessee during the first six months of the Anti-Narcotic law, 1,403 permits were issued to persons.

The approximate number of average doses of habit-forming drugs imported into the United States in 1911 and 1912 was respectively 3,040,900,000 and 2,308,700,000.

From this data, the report says, it would appear from the average consumption of the drug habitue in Tennessee, that each addict would take 1,000 doses each month or 12,000 doses a year.

Tennessee, it is added, contains one-tenth of the population of the United States, and on that ratio there would be a total of something more than 70,000 drug habitues, consuming approximately 850,000,000 average doses per year.

"This quantity," says the report, "probably is somewhat low, but it is fair to assume that not more than double this amount, or approximately 1,700,000,000 average doses are consumed annually by drug habitues."
