DILLSBURG

J. S. Kapp's Auto Collides With Trolley Car in Mechanicsburg

Special Correspondence. Dillsburg, Dec. 3.—While J. S. Kapp was motoring through Mechanicsburg in his new Overland with a party of friends the automobile collided with the trolley as the car turned from Walnut street into Main. The fact that Mr. Kapp was running slowly and had the car under complete control prevented any serious results. The front axle of the automobile was bent and it was thought best not to use it in that condition so the party returned by trolley to this place. The members of the party were J. S. Kapp, G. E. Seibert, Mr. and Mrs. William Seibert and Mrs. C. W. Sheffer, all of this place. No one was injured.

A delegation from the local Council O. U. A. M., attended the booster meeting in Mechanicsburg Monday evening. A special car brought the men home after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Clark, of this place, spent a few days sightseeing in Washington, D. C., and Mt. Vernon. Our townfolks had one more added to its list of wedding surprises on Saturday, when it was learned that a couple of our young people had gone to Mechanicsburg to be married. This time the contracting parties were John E. Arnold, proprietor of the Dillsburg Laundry, and Miss Grace Lerew, daughter of Mrs. Maggie Lerew, North Baltimore street. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold returned Sunday evening and received the congratulations of their friends.

The evangelistic service in the M. E. church, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Goff, continue with increasing interest. Professor Myers has organized a boys' and girls' auxiliary choir to assist with the music. At the joint session of the U. B. and M. E. Sunday schools, Sunday morning, a number of the younger members of the schools came to the front and decided for God. The men's chorus sang at the Sunday afternoon men's meeting and after a stirring address by Mr. Goff a couple of men came to the front and professed conversion. Monday evening about sixty members of Camp 777, P. O. S. of A., attended the meeting in a body and were addressed by the evangelist. Last evening the members of the O. U. A. M. were in attendance. The meetings will continue throughout the week.

H. E. Miller, B. S. Klugh, John Grove and M. E. Shultz, all of this place, were examined at Wellsville Saturday for the position of rural mail carrier. Henry Smith resigned a few weeks ago, his resignation taking effect yesterday. No appointment to fill the vacancy has yet been announced. A sub-carrier will drive the route till an appointment is made.

Miss Esther Bentz has been seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on South Baltimore street. Her condition has slightly improved since Monday evening.

C. O. Sidle has purchased the hotel outfit at Biglerville, Adams county, and will take possession January 1, 1915.

L. J. Klugh and J. Paul Smith have recently purchased from George Yost, the good will and fixtures of the restaurant in the J. A. Lerew building, and in the future the place will be managed by the new proprietors.

NEW CUMBERLAND

Y. P. S. C. E. of Trinity U. B. Church Elects Officers

Special Correspondence. New Cumberland, Dec. 3.—The business and social meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Trinity U. B. church at the home of Edgar Shelly, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. B. Schenck; vice president, Edgar Shelly; secretary, Edgar Shelly; treasurer, Edward Mathias; organist, Elizabeth Smaling; chorister, Helen Lechthaler; junior superintendent, Mrs. William Cookerly; assistant superintendent, Mrs. J. R. Fisher. After the business session an hour was enjoyed socially and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Margaret Phillips, of Harrisburg, called on Miss Phenie Moyer yesterday.

Mrs. R. R. Reiff has returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Apple, of Wellsville.

The bazaar will open in the social room of the M. E. church this evening. Otto Plack, of Harrisburg, has been here assisting in the decorations which are artistic and beautiful. A literary program will precede the opening of the bazaar. All are invited to attend and patronize the Sunday school. All kinds of fancy articles and everything to tempt the appetite will be on sale.

Mrs. J. C. Neff, of Philadelphia, who has been a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Margaret B. Prowell, this week, has returned home.

Mrs. Parker Battorff entertained the Sewing Circle of which she is a member at her home, Third and Eutaw streets, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kreiger, Miss Mahala Fisher, John M. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sweeney attended the funeral of Mrs. George Umberger at Williams' Grove on Monday.

Miss Elsie Conrad is visiting Mrs. Edwards in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Howard Embick, of Harrisburg, visited here yesterday.

MIDDLETOWN

M. E. Sunday School Board Held an Interesting Meeting

Special Correspondence. Middletown, Dec. 3.—T. O. Eckenrode, who had been confined to his home on Emaus street for the past several days on account of illness, is able to be out again.

Elmer Heagy, of Steelton, spent yesterday in town.

T. J. Antrim spent yesterday at Harrisburg.

Webster Shalkop left this morning for Danville, Pa., where he will spend a few weeks visiting friends.

The M. E. Sunday school board held their regular monthly meeting last evening after the close of the prayer meeting. The election of officers for the coming year will be held on Sunday afternoon after the close of the Sunday school. A teacher-training class will also be organized and Mrs. Sarah Shireman elected as superintendent of the home department work. Several bills were ordered paid.

Frank Adams moved his household goods from Hazleton to his property at Ann and Catherine streets.

Mrs. C. Strauss, of Reading, is spending some time in town as the guest of relatives.

Daniel Stager, Susquehanna street, was arrested on Hill island yesterday morning, charged by two State game wardens with illegal hunting, and was taken to Harrisburg for a hearing. It seems as though some party or parties had been setting snares for rabbits and the game wardens have been on the lookout for them.

W. V. Lutz and daughter, Miss Oma, are spending several days at New York on business.

E. C. Steiner and Elick Sada transacted business at Waltonville yesterday.

The tractions company ran cars over the new tracks from Wood and Main streets to Main and Catherine, down Catherine to Water and then over the old route to Catherine and up Catherine to Main, starting in at noon. The old tracks are being torn up by the company.

William Cockey, colored, who spent the summer months in town, left yesterday for Virginia, where he will spend the winter months with his sister.

Edward Fletcher, who had gone to Philadelphia for treatment, is improving. He will spend some time here.

Work on the new concrete bridge between Royalton and town is progressing rapidly and it is expected by the last of the week the forms will be finished and work on filling in the concrete will be started.

David Rehner, Charles Hevel, Linnias Heagy, Samuel Brandt, all of town, and D. B. Geibe and Harry Schaeffer, of Harrisburg, charged with rioting, were heard yesterday at court and charged by Adam Souillard, a railroad officer, who had arrested two foreigners for trespassing and claimed that the above took part in the same. The three last mentioned were found guilty. The former three were discharged for lack of evidence.

H. A. Lenhart's force of men repairs the spouting on the Roth property on Saxtra street.

H. S. Roth, the furniture dealer, has fitted up his two large show windows for the holiday season.

A. G. Banks and clerks are fitting up his windows with a large line of holiday goods.

Mrs. Curtis Hoffman and two daughters, Elizabeth and Ruth, and Mrs. Marie Richter and sons returned to their homes today. Mrs. Hoffman and family residing at Spruce Creek and the latter at Halifax. They visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Fisher, Main street.

Women as Soldiers

"Henrietta," said Meekton, "I don't think women would ever care to be soldiers."

"Why not?"

"Soldiers' uniforms are so much alike. No soldier can have the slightest enmity about what another soldier has on."—Exchange.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Oldest Resident of Franklin County Believed to Have Been Victim of Heart Failure

Chambersburg, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Catherine Barkley Skinner, widow of the late David J. Skinner, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at her home in Dry Run. Heart failure was the cause.

Mrs. Skinner was widely known in the vicinity, in which she had spent her life and in her earlier years had many acquaintances in Chambersburg, where she then frequently visited. Her first born son, Captain George W. Skinner, was for a long time a distinguished resident of Chambersburg. Her life was a somewhat reserved one, but she was much interested in neighborly affairs and charitable and church purposes. She was the daughter of Andrew and Sarah Starks Barkley. She died in her ninetieth year, one of the oldest residents of Path Valley.

ACQUITTAL IN ARSON CASE

Jury Takes Only Three Minutes to Free Philadelphia Woman

Easton, Md., Dec. 3.—The trial of Mrs. Virginia Rutter, of Philadelphia, charged with arson for setting fire to the house in which she lived in Cecil county, and which has been going on in the circuit court here for two days, came to a quick ending yesterday.

The defense put only six witnesses on the stand, after which the case went to the jury without argument by either side, and in less than three minutes a verdict of acquittal was found.
