CHICKEN THIEVES IN TOWN AND VICINITY ARE ACTIVE

Two Pens Forced Open in Rear of Penn Street, Highspire, Several Nights Ago—One Man Captured in Steelton Coop Last Night

Chicken stealing in the borough and nearby towns, which has been rather quiet ever since the wholesale arrest of foreigners on South Third street, last spring, is again being resumed on a small scale. Two coops in the rear of Penn street, Highspire, were entered several nights ago. One was that of John Mathias, who had taken the precaution of removing his poultry to another place earlier in the evening. The would-be robbers forced the lock on both the chicken coop and the coal house, but finding no poultry, they filled their bags with coal and decamped, leaving no trace.

Adjoining Mathias' place Lewis Swegle owns a flock of fine hens. His coop was entered the same night as Mathias' but only two chickens were taken. The robbers evidently being frightened before being able to secure more.

The nearest thing to a chicken robbery recently in Steelton, occurred last night when Tomo Oesaneski was captured in the pen of Marian Mahale, who resides at 369 Frederick street. The latter heard a commotion in his coop and making an investigation with a shotgun and a lantern carried by his son, the two located Tomo crouched in one corner of the coop. While the father covered the man with his gun, the son secured the services of Patrolman Wynn and Detective Durnbaugh, who placed the intruder under arrest.

SHOP CLASSES MEET TO-NIGHT

Conference Room of General Office Will Be Used for School

The classes recently organized in shop arithmetic and advanced mathematics under the auspices of the State College Engineering extension course will hold their first session this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the conference room of the general office of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, Front and Swatara streets, and will be in charge of E. E. Yake.

The class in shop sketching will hold its first session to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the same room. An instructor for this class was selected late this afternoon.

GOOD MUSIC AT TRINITY

Fine Program Announced for Entertainment

Musical lovers of the borough will be delighted with the program to be rendered this evening at the services held in Trinity parish house under the auspices of the Episcopal Guild. The best talent in the borough, assisted by Harrisburg talent, will present a variety of music, vocal and instrumental, such as is seldom offered at a church musicale in this city.

SANTA CLAUS AT BAZAR

Some Novelties at Reformed Sale To-morrow Night

The Sunday school of the First Reformed church will hold a bazaar in the market house, North Front street, to-morrow evening. A number of booths will be arranged, each of which will contain some novelty. At the booth of Mrs. E. J. Yake, a number of Christmas cards will be present. Home-made pies, cakes, candies, ice cream and fancy articles will be on sale.

STEELTON NOTES

The meeting of class No. 28 of the First Methodist Episcopal church announced to be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Elmira Detweiler, 161 South Front street, has been postponed. Vuja Loncar, 513 South Third street, was committed to jail in default of bail last evening charged with conducting a gambling house and wantonly pointing firearms. The arrest was made by Constable Gibb and the prisoner will be given a hearing before Squire Gardner soon.

Operations at the rail mill and No. 1 blooming mill departments of the local steel plant were suspended yesterday when one of the big engines used to turn the rolls went out of commission. It is expected that the mills will resume work Monday.

URGES LOWER LICENSE FEES FOR FOOD SELLERS

City Health Department Recommends Reductions Ranging From $1 to $5—Asks for $51,588, of Which $38,948 Is for Garbage Collection

Radical changes and reduction in the rates of charges for milk, meat and food licenses are recommended in the City Health Department's annual estimate, which was prepared at the Board's meeting last evening. The suggestions will be laid before the City Commissioners within a day or two, or when they meet in extraordinary session to prepare the annual budget. The reductions range anywhere from $1 to $5 and will affect practically every merchant and vendor in the city.

It was recommended that the license fees for retail meat, milk, ice cream and bake shops be reduced from $5 to $4. A reduction of $2 in the license fees collected from wholesale ice cream dealers was also urged. This would bring the fee down from $10 to $8. It was also proposed to reduce the wholesale meat and milk license fees from $25 to $20.

The City Commission again will be asked to provide Harrisburg with a sanitary hospital where contagious diseases may be cared for. The bureau says such a hospital could accomplish a vast amount of good by taking proper care of smallpox, diphtheria and other contagious diseases.

The budget estimate contains provision for a nurse at $600 a year to follow up contagious diseases and help along other sanitary lines. A third sanitary officer at a salary of $900 a year is also wanted. There is too much work for the two men now employed by the department, it was said.

The budget asks for $51,588, or about the same amount of money the bureau got last year. Of this sum, however, $38,948 is to be used exclusively for the collection of garbage and ashes. The budget as outlined last night follows:

Salary of health officer, $2,000; salary of assistant health officer, $900; salaries of three sanitary officers, $2,700; salary of clerk and stenographer, $600; salary for watchman at municipal hospital, $480; office rent, $960; telephone bills, $280; disinfectants, $1,500; salary contagious disease nurse, $600; contingent fund, $2,500; garbage, $33,948; three school inspectors, $150.

For the food inspection department the budget for salary for two inspectors, $1,800; contingent fund, $1,500; license tags, $100. For the plumbing inspection department the recommendation is for salary for one inspector, $1,500; two examiners, $120; contingent fund, $200.

HEADQUARTERS GOING AWAY

Democratic State Committee After December 10, Will Be Housed in Broad Street, Philadelphia

After being located in Harrisburg for almost twenty years, the headquarters of the Democratic State committee will be moved to Philadelphia on December 10, when the quarters here in the Spooner building, Market square, will be closed.

The new headquarters will be at 147 South Broad street, Philadelphia, and Robert T. Keenan, of Pittsburgh, who was active in gathering finances for the committee during the last campaign, will be in charge as resident secretary. Roland S. Morris, Democratic State chairman, who was in Harrisburg yesterday arranging his expense account, made the announcement of the removal.

Friends of Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, defeated Democratic candidate for United States Senator, declared in Philadelphia yesterday that he probably will not be appointed to any place under the Wilson administration. It was alleged by them that at present there is no job at the President's disposal large enough for the recent Democratic candidate for Senator to accept, and that all talk about one or another of the members of the Cabinet resigning to make way for him was foolish. He will continue as Democratic national committeeman, it was said.

When Writing Was Undignified
The years have brought a change in the estimation of authors and authoresses. A century ago to be "literary" in public spelled social disaster. When Lady Scott, for instance, published her novel "Trevelyan" in 1833 it was remarked that "of course nobody from London would call on her now." This was a view typical of the period. Now even butlers write poems.—London Express.

ARMY LIFE ENDLESS FROLIC

Lawyer For Divorced Wife of Lieutenant Naylor Says It Caused Her Downfall

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—Life at United States army posts was held up as a continual round of loose conduct before the Superior Court here yesterday afternoon when Congressman-elect John R. K. Scott, as counsel for the divorced wife of Lieutenant Charles J. Naylor, U. S. A., of this city, appealed for a reversal of the findings of the lower court, which awarded the divorce to Lieutenant Naylor against the recommendation of the master.

Mr. Scott denounced Lieutenant Naylor's charge of unfaithfulness, declaring it was constructed "from the most despicable work of hired spies in providing paid for evidence."

As to the relations that preceded the alleged episode of Mrs. Naylor and Allen O'Bryan, an army contractor, in a New York hotel, Mr. Scott said:

"Who is to blame for those relations but this libellant himself. From out of the West he took this unsophisticated country girl, married her and took her to various army posts, where he was assigned. He introduced her to a social life at these posts which was a revelation to this innocent girl. No conventions or the niceties of domestic propriety prevailed in this army life."

"The testimony heard before the master showed it was a common, pardonable practice for the officers to drink to excess. Drunkenness seemed a part of the post's social life. Army officers kissed and were even more intimate with each other's wives. Pseudo love notes were exchanged between the men and women. There was no restraint in this loose conduct. Drinking jousts, love-making and indiscriminate kissing passed unnoticed and unquestioned."

As this was in the vortex of such life as this the young woman was hurried. She believed it was right that she should participate, and followed the examples set for her. O'Bryan, a young Southerner employed by an army contractor, was also brought into association with these conditions, and joined in the wild debauches. He became acquainted with Mrs. Naylor, as much as a neighbor in New York. He got drunk with Naylor and the lieutenant got drunk with him.

"True, he very foolishly wrote notes to Mrs. Naylor which contained indecent terms, but I say that, whatever the conduct was between these two, it was not indicative of anything more than conditions thrust upon Mrs. Naylor. It pointed no way to what it is charged happened later in New York and cannot be considered seriously in connection with the lieutenant's baseless accusations against his wife."

Against this argument E. P. Bliss, representing Lieutenant Naylor, declared that Mrs. Naylor was not the unsophisticated girl pictured and that during the years of her life at the army posts, Mrs. Naylor became sophisticated and both she and her husband had been ostracized and went from post to post because of their loose conduct.

He maintained that the charge was well established by the circumstances of the visit of O'Bryan and Mrs. Naylor to the New York hotel, the character of which was well known.

HEPTASOPHS GO TO STEELTON

Harrisburg and West Fairview Members Enjoy Evening Out of Town

Heptasophs from this city and West Fairview visited Steelton conclave last night and then visited Allemania Conclave of Steelton and were royally entertained. All vied with each other to help make the visit of the members a pleasant one and it will be long remembered by those present as a well-spent evening.

It is the intention of Steelton and Allemania Conclaves to visit Dauphin Conclave No. 96, next Monday night at the latter's rooms, 321 Market street, this city.

Dauphin Conclave is making preparations for this event and members of the conclaves of East Harrisburg, Harrisburg, West Fairview, Camp Curtin, Paxtang, Allison Hill and New Cumberland, will pay a visit to Dauphin Conclave next Monday night, when a treat is in store for all, as Dauphin Conclave never does things by halves.

Rays From a Searchlight
The paths traversed by rays from a searchlight depend on the form of curvature of the mirror. If flat, the paths of reflected rays would be the same as those of the rays received; if the arc of a circle, the rays will be reflected to one bright focus. To have a band of parallel rays leave the mirror it must be the form of a parabola. Then straight rays will be reflected all parallel to each other. In air, the intensity of this beam of light would diminish, but in absolute vacuum would be as intense at any distance.—New York American.

QUICKEST REMEDY EVER SOLD IN HARRISBURG

We have never sold anything here in Harrisburg with the INSTANT action of the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adlerika. MANY TO COMPETE FOR BLUE RIBBONS

Two Carloads of Coops Will Be Placed Saturday and Present Indications Are That Work of Staging Show Will Be Out of Way by Monday

Exhibits for the forthcoming show of the Central Pennsylvania Poultry Association will begin to arrive in this city Sunday morning as many birds will be consigned direct from the Crystal Palace show, New York City, being held this week. The competition for blue ribbons is strong and the four judges will have no easy task in placing the awards. Two carloads of coops will be placed in position Saturday in the Chestnut street auditorium and it looks as if all the work of staging the show will be out of the way by Monday evening.

Union Prayer Meeting in Interest of Evangelistic Campaign

Special Correspondent
Mechanicsburg, Dec. 3.—Last evening the co-operating churches in the evangelistic campaign held a union prayer meeting in the Methodist church. The auditorium was filled, a few chairs being brought from the lecture of the Rev. Charles F. Raueh, of the Church of God. The spirit of unity, and of earnest prayer for the salvation of the town, was manifest. The next general prayer meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, on next Wednesday evening. To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Miss Eggleston, a member of the Stough party, will hold a meeting for children in the Methodist church. To-morrow evening the first of the series of cottage prayer meetings will be held. The town has been divided into ten districts, in each of which at least one prayer meeting will be held each Tuesday and Friday evening.

At 4 o'clock last evening in the Methodist church Charles Jones and Miss Ida Alice Wargenbaugh, both of this place, were united in marriage by the pastor of the church, the Rev. J. J. Resh. They were unattended.

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, who will have charge of the Missionary pageant in the Methodist church this evening, is being entertained by Misses Julia Hefflinger and Olive Taylor, East Main street.

Mrs. J. V. Miller is visiting relatives in Carlisle.

Miss Inez Byers spent yesterday in Carlisle and attended the Teachers' Institute.

Best for Kidneys—Says Doctor
Dr. J. R. T. Neal, Greenville, So. Car., says that in his 30 years of experience he has found no preparation for the kidneys equal to Foley Kidney Pills. Pain in back and hips is an indication of kidney trouble—a warning to build up the weakened kidneys make them vigorous, ridding your blood of acids and poisons. Foley Kidney Pills will help any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. In 50c and $1.00 sizes. Sold in your town by George A. Gargas, 16 North Third street and P. R. Station. adv.

The Judge's Misgivings
A serious case of highway robbery, tried some years ago before Chief Bar on Green on the last day of the Emis assizes, resulted in an acquittal. The Chief Baron, addressing the Sheriff, said: "Mr. Sheriff, is there any other indictment against this innocent man?" "No, my lord," was the reply. "Then you'll greatly oblige me if you don't let him out until I have half an hour's start of him on my way to Limerick!"—London Mail.
