WALTER JOHNSON SIGNS TO PLAY WITH CHIEFS

Senators' Great Pitcher Hangs Name Onto Tinker Contract for Two Years—Salary More Than $16,000 a Year Intimates Manager

Coffeyville, Kan., Dec. 4.—Johnson will be seen in a Federal League uniform for the next two years, said Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals, as he boarded a train for Chicago late yesterday. Tinker carried with him a contract which Walter Johnson, former pitcher for the Washington Americans, signed after a day of negotiations here.

"As to Johnson's salary," continued Tinker, "you may say he will make more money than anybody."

"Will it be more than $16,000 a year?" he was asked.

"Will it! That isn't anything," said Tinker.

When Tinker arrived here Wednesday morning, Johnson motored in from his farm to meet him. After a long distance telephone talk between Tinker and President Weeghman in Chicago, Tinker and Johnson quickly came to terms.

While the deal for Walter Johnson was completed by Joe Tinker here, it was engineered by Phil Ball, of the St. Louis Federals. Ball made the announcement last night that Johnson had signed and at the same time told the inside of the most remarkable baseball deal in the history of the game.

Johnson will play for two years for Chicago at the same annual figure he could have signed with the St. Louis for three years the latter part of October. By holding off Johnson lost exactly $20,000.

Incidentally, Johnson used the Federals as long as possible in an effort to hold up the Washington club. Ball stated last night that Johnson's final proposition to Griffith was:

Fifteen thousand dollars for one year, $36,000 for three years or $50,000 for five years.

Griffith's reply was that he did not

TENER AFTER SPEED RECORD

National League Executive Thinks He Will Be Able to Conclude Business in One Day

New York, Dec. 4.—Roy Reeves, private secretary of Governor Tener, vouchsafed the information yesterday that the National League executive would try to break all National League records for speed here next week. The Governor believes it will be possible to conclude all the business in one day. He plans to leave for Harrisburg and pressing administration business cares late Tuesday night.

If Governor Tener shows such speed as this he will be entitled to the championship. Those National League magnates simply love little old New York. Most of them contrive to drag out the star chamber sessions to the week-end and many of them hang around another week to do Christmas shopping.

According to the present schedule, Governor Tener will not arrive in New York until late Monday night. It will take the speed of Ban Johnson to wade through all his problems inside of twenty-four hours. First of all the board of directors must settle the dispute over the $10,000 between Herrmann and Ebbets, a hangover from the celebrated Tinker sale of a year ago.

The question of a limited roster promises a merry battle, as New York's voice usually carries great weight in the National League. The delegates must elect a new board of directors and pass upon any number of routine reports and the minutes of the last meeting.

Besides it is likely that the league members will wish to know all the details of Mr. Herrmann's negotiations with Charles Weeghman, the Federal magnate. Moreover, they may have to consider the latest wishes of the Baseball Players' Fraternity as presented by David L. Fultz, Governor Tener may get away Tuesday night, but Saturday certain a snar prediction. There are certain National League institutions that Garry Herrmann and Barney Dreyfuss simply have to uphold.

Trenton Here to-morrow Eastern League Five Will Meet Harrisburg Team in Armory—Second Big League Game Here

The Trenton Eastern League team will play the Harrisburg five in the City Grays' armory to-morrow evening, it being the second big league team to come here this season, inaugurating a new policy of Manager Taggart, who has promised better attractions than ever at the Armory.

Trenton has promised to send the regular lineup for this game and the locals are working hard to get a victory over the touted aggregation from New Jersey. A victory over Trenton would soften the Reading defeat of last Saturday. The game will start at 8.15 o'clock and the regular Harrisburg lineup will be in the game. Clint White will referee.

Manager Taggart has announced that the following are among the teams to be played this season: Bucknell, Gettysburg, New York University, Albright, Susquehanna University and probably State College and Lebanon Valley. The team will take an extended trip after the first of next year, meeting all of the strongest teams in the coal regions. Next Friday they play Pittston at that place and on Saturday will play their first Saturday out-of-town game, meeting Wilkes-Barre. On December 15 they meet the Lancaster team and on December 21 play Parkersburg. All of these games are played away from home.

Academy Run To-day The annual inter-form cross country run at the Harrisburg Academy, was held this afternoon. Coach Smith is much pleased with the work of the candidates. Better spirit has been shown this season than for many years and a record number of contestants were entered. Basketball will occupy the boards at the Academy after to-day.

Out-of-town customers need not wait until they come here personally. Our Catalog (free on request) explains why. Price printed on every article. We buy from manufacturers and can save you the middle-man's profit.

SMITH-COFFEY BOUT Articles for Fight in New York, December 15

New York, Dec. 4.—Final details were arranged last night for the Gunboat Smith-Jim Coffey match, which is to take place at Madison Square Garden, December 15. Jim Buckley, acting for Smith, and Billy Gibson, vouching for Coffey, signed articles agreeing to post forfeits not later than one week before the match takes place to guarantee the appearance of the principals.

It was also agreed that neither fighter will engage in a ring contest before the date agreed upon in the articles.

Smith, with Bob Armstrong as chief trainer, will begin active training for the match to-day at Sheepshead Bay, while Coffey will pack his training paraphernalia and go to Rye Beach.

Wills and Edmund Kean Irving used to tell with dramatic effect a story about W. G. Wills, the dramatist, who, among other services, wrote for him the play "Charles I." When Wills was a boy ten years old he was taken to see Edmund Kean play Macbeth. In the murder scene he was so affected by the realistic power of the actor that seized with a severe attack of nausea, he hurried from the box. Ten years later he was lunching at a chop house in Fleet street when a man entered, sat down at a table near him and ordered a meal. He was a perfect stranger to Wills, who, after a few minutes' propinquity, was again seized with a fit of nausea, from which he had not suffered since as a boy he was at the theatre on the occasion mentioned. He was obliged to leave the room. When some minutes later he paid his bill the waiter said to him: "Did you see that gentleman at the table near you? That's Edmund Kean."—Cornhill Magazine.

WANT A NEW COACH AT PENN

After Electing Harris Captain for 1915 Team Votes Against Retaining Brooke

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—The members of the 1914 University of Pennsylvania football team met yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium at Franklin field and elected Edward Day Harris captain of next year's team, and also declared by an overwhelming vote against the retention of George H. Brooke as head football coach for 1915.

The election of Harris was expected, but the subsequent action came as a complete surprise, indicating that all was not smooth in the team's ranks this year. No names were mentioned to show how the various players voted, but only two members of the team were absent, and the vote stood nineteen against Brooke and two for him.

Brooke has a contract which runs another year, and since T. Truxton Hare has declared that he will not stand as football chairman again, a new chairman must be elected. It is thought that either Dr. Robert G. Torrey, captain of the 1905 team, or Robert Lambertson will be Mr. Hare's successor.

The new chairman will be the man to deal with the Brooke question, but prominent alumni are willing to pay Brooke his $2,500 salary for next year provided he will abdicate.

Rumor says that Bill Hollenback, at present coach for Penn State College, is the man who is wanted to succeed Brooke, but his appointment cannot be made until the new chairman is chosen.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

Jake Daubert has earned the right to invest in the largest auto horn there is. This popular captain of the Dodgers not only leads the National League batters for the second consecutive year, but also is one of the pillars of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, where he hits even better than in the merry pastime.

Chief Johnson, the big Indian pitcher who jumped the Cincinnati Reds for the Kansas City Pedersals, narrowly avoided a sojourn in a Sioux City, Ia., jail. Johnson, charged with wife desertion, was released from the meshes of the law only after he had effected a reconciliation with his better half. Jail is no place even for an Indian when he is beset with domestic and Federal League worries.

Our old friend Josh Clarke has evaded the rattle of the tin can for the time. He won a pennant for Sioux City in the Western League but was so profuse in his expenditures that President Hanlon asked him to seek a new job. Hanlon evidently has been unable to find a suitable successor, for he has told Josh to proceed another season with greater reserve for the welfare of the club coffers.

Hans Wagner will be retained by Pittsburgh in spite of the fact that he hit only .254 this season. This is the first time since he broke into the big league back in 1897 that the Flying Dutchman failed to hit .300 or better. With the exception of 1913 it was always better. On eight different occasions Wagner was batting champion of the National League. His best record, .385, was set in 1899. Wagner will be 41 years of age next February 24.

Cincinnati's board of directors has decided to abolish the scout nuisance. Henceforth the Reds will depend upon minor league managers for recruit material. This radical step doubtless will be deplored by John McGraw and six other National League managers, who have depended upon the Cincinnati scouts to find good material for the Red managers to turn over when properly developed.
