MONEY For Christmas

is what most people want, but not everyone will take the precaution to save it, for to have money you must save, and that is generally harder to do than to make it. It is not so hard, however, if you open an account with the First National Bank and keep on increasing your deposits every pay day; then when Christmas comes you will have money if you need it.

TROUBLE IF RAIN TURNS TO A SLEET

conditions, for extremely low barometric conditions remain along the Jersey coast, the lowest this morning being at Atlantic City, where much damage has been done in the last twenty-four hours because of the high winds.

Officials of transportation companies and telegraph companies here were concerned about possible changes in the weather conditions that may come to-night, fearing that a heavy sleet storm would cripple all lines. While no actual trouble occurred here last night and to-day as a result of the storm, the city was practically isolated because of wire trouble on the principal trunk routes leading out of this city.

Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies had trouble on the lines East and South and in the vicinity of Philadelphia. Whole sections of lines, poles and wires were knocked down by the sleet and heavy winds. The New York division of the Pennsylvania Railroad was crippled to some extent and wire trouble was experienced between Paoli and Philadelphia on the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Downingtown and Lancaster branch was crippled because of wire trouble. Through trains, however, were running into this city on time this morning.

Harrisburg was the last city of size and importance enough to have a local office of the Weather Bureau in the eastern part of the country to suffer at all from the storm. Twelve hours after heavy rains and destructive winds were reported from Atlantic City and sleet in Pittsburgh, this city almost midway between those two points, began to feel the storm.

Precipitation Began Saturday

Sleet and rain began here Saturday night and the rain continued almost without cessation all through yesterday, last night and to-day. The precipitation was not heavy, however, until this morning. At noon to-day the total precipitation for the storm in Harrisburg had been 1.44 inches, three-fourths of which fell between 8 o'clock this morning and 8 o'clock this afternoon.

The rain fall until 8 o'clock this morning was heavier in Harrisburg than in any of the Susquehanna river stations above this city and there is therefore no indication of an alarming rise in that stream.

Just how long the storm will effect Harrisburg is a matter of conjecture. Saturday's weather map shows no high pressure area which could change the weather conditions materially for a day or two and prospects are that inclement weather will last for several days. A high pressure of unusual strength, to the north, kept the southern storm in place for several days until it filled up with unusual strength.

The storm now apparently is steadily increasing in its intensity and moving slowly northward. Storm warnings were adulated from Hatteras, N. C., to Eastport, Maine, advising mariners to seek safe harbors. No storm signal was hoisted here, however, and should the rain not turn to sleet there will be no local trouble according to weather officials. The storm center is not moving westward as indicated because no special weather observation was ordered for Harrisburg at noon to-day, as is the case when a storm center of any proportion is approaching the city.

BIG DAMAGE AT SEA BRIGHT

Loss Is Estimated at $100,000 and Citizens Fear the Worst Is Yet to Come

By Associated Press.

Sea Bright, N. J., Dec. 7.—The turning of the ebb tide here to-day found Sea Bright's streets under water, the railroad tracks covered by the ocean for two miles and a storm-lashed sea sweeping through breaks in the sea walls constructed after the floods of last year. With high tide to come, the situation was alarming and residents practically abandoned hope of preventing great loss.

The tide was sweeping over the ground floors of houses and there appeared to be an unbroken stretch of water between Seaside and the highlands, several miles. The loss is estimated at $100,000, caused by the storm during the night. All business was suspended. The First National bank vaults were flooded to three feet deep. Waves broke over Ocean boulevard, skirting the shore, and washed the earth from under many cottages. Several were in danger of collapse.

THE RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Harrisburg's Secret and Fraternal Societies Take First Allotment of 10,000 Yuletide Stickers, With City Health Officer Raunick in Charge

Harrisburg's secret and fraternal societies started the Red Cross Christmas seal campaign for 1914 to-day by taking the first allotment of 10,000 of the Yuletide "stickers" for distribution.

The lodge end of the campaign is in charge of Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, and he got in touch by letter with about 150 of the organizations throughout the city. Before the crusade ensues he expects to have the lodges outside of the city enlisted in the movement.

From now on until Christmas the sale of seals will be formally on and by the time the campaign has been finished it is hoped that another record for distribution of stamps will have been made by the city. All told, 300,000 seals had been placed in the city and it is confidently expected that all will be disposed of.

In addition to the churches, the schools, the lodges, the merchants, the public utilities and the manufacturing plants—the usual sources—some particular methods of disposing of the seals will be employed this year. Chief among these will be the public drill and concert by Zumbo patrol and band of the Mystic Shrine on Tuesday, December 15, and the lecture on the telephone to be delivered by Shirley B. Watts of the Bell company, in Technical High school auditorium on Friday, December 11. At both affairs the sale of the seals will be handled by groups of salesmen. No admission will be charged in either instance, as the people who attend will be expected to buy seals.

The school work this year will again be in charge of Dr. C. R. Phillips, who headed the sub-committee on that work last year. The co-operation of the school children was a mighty aid in the campaign and this assistance will be increased during the present campaign. The suburban work will be a feature too, and, as usual, Dr. Galen Hain will head the sub-committee on this part of the crusade.

Not so Bad
"I hear that Bobby Bings is accused of being bibulous."
"Nothing of the sort. The only thing about Bobby is that he will persist in going on jags."—Baltimore American.

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 7.—The northeast storm which has been raging for two days was still lashing the New Jersey coast to-day though with less
