STOCKS WAVER AS THE MARKET OPENS TO-DAY

Number of Issues Repeat Recent Low Prices and in Some Instances Go Lower—Steel Not Quoted in the Early Dealings

By Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 24.—Stocks wavered again at the opening of to-day's dull market, a number of issues repeating their recent low prices and in some cases going lower. Steel was not quoted in the early dealings but came out later in a block of 1,500 shares at 48, its minimum. Secondary prices were generally better, Pennsylvania, Reading, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated advancing over yesterday's closing. New York Central also was strong on declaration of the regular dividend and Lehigh Valley, which at first exhibited heaviness, soon recovered. Chesapeake and Ohio and Delaware and Hudson were weak, the latter losing over three points.

Short covering which contributed in large degree to the early rally, was soon completed, whereupon the list gradually reacted in all quarters. Canadian Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Railway, common and preferred, and Virginia-Carolina Chemical were added to the list of stocks already offered at minimum prices and other shores of equal importance were within fractional range while over a score of miscellaneous stocks were at bottom quotations. Steel, after gaining a fractional, promptly fell back to its established price. A decline of 2 1/4 points in Lehigh Valley between sales was a feature. Bonds were heavy with Erie General 4s the feature.

AUSTRIANS GIVE REASONS FOR DEFEAT BY SERVIANS

London, Dec. 24, 4:25 A. M.—Reuter's Vienna correspondent says an official communication issued in Vienna explains the reasons for the defeat of the Austrians by the Servians and announces that Field Marshal Oscar Potiorek, the Austrian commander-in-chief, has been superseded by General Archduke Eugene. The communication gives the result of inquiries by a military officer as follows:

After he had gained successes the chief in command of the Balkan forces intended to complete the defeat of the enemy, but did not pay sufficient regard to the difficulties. Bad weather made the conditions of the few roads which lead across the barren country worse so that it was impossible to supply the army with the necessary provisions and ammunition. At the same time that the enemy collected fresh forces and opened an attack, the offensive had been given up.

"It was thought prudent not to offer decisive battle under these unfavorable conditions. Forced by adverse conditions our troops retreated from Serbia but they are not defeated. That on our retreat we suffered severe losses in men and war material had been inevitable, but reports are much exaggerated concerning our losses."

The report concludes with the statement that the Emperor consented to discharge the commander-in-chief, the resignation being demanded on the grounds that the commander's health was poor and appointed to this post General Archduke Eugene.

STRANGE EFFECT OF WAR ON FUTURE FISH TRADE

St. John's N. F., Dec. 24.—A strange effect of the war is its bearing on the future of the fish trade of New Foundland and Maritime Canada. The war has revived the alliance between the Great Britain and Portugal and a result has been that a discrimination made by Portugal for many years against fish from New Foundland and the Canadian maritime provinces, has been removed. The products of this region are now admitted to Portuguese markets on an equality with those of all other countries.

Until hostilities began the chief beneficiary of the conditions then existing was Norway, which, because of general trade with Portugal enjoyed an advantage in the matter of duty charged on dry fish entering Portuguese harbors equivalent to from 25 to 35 cents per quintal of 112 pounds, according to the fluctuation in the rate of exchange. This gave the Norwegians sufficient advantage to permit them to undersell the New Foundland and Canadian product. Representations had been made several times by the government of New Foundland and Canada in an effort to obtain the removal of this handicap, but without avail until after the war began, when the desired alterations were made.

LATE WAR NEWS SUMMARY

 Italy, was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine. It is stated that the damage was slight and that no men were injured. Although accounts vary as to the present status of military affairs in Poland, it is evident that the scene of heaviest fighting has shifted southward from Sochaczew, the town on the Bzura river 30 miles from Warsaw toward the German's for several days directed their principal efforts. Austro-German forces operating from the Gracow Bazaar are attempting to push northward into Poland. In this effort however, they are meeting with determined resistance from the Russians. A semi official statement from Petrograd says that Russian successes in Galicia continue and that in the Carpathians the Austrians have been thrown back. Another sortie by the garrison at Przemysl, which has long been under attack by the Russians is said to have resulted disastrously for the Austrians.

Heavy fighting continues in France and Belgium, but thus far the renewed activities have accomplished little, neither side being able to drive the other from the strongly fortified positions held so long.

Now that the French government has returned to Paris, a venturesome German aeronaut has attempted to prove that the capital is not yet without the war zone by flying over it. He was brought down by a French aeroplane, however, at a point 19 miles from the city of Paris.

LITTLE CHANGE ALONG WAR FRONT ON EVE OF CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

London, Dec. 21, 12:20 P. M.—Christmas eve finds little change in the underground warfare now being conducted in the western war theatre, where General Joffre, the commander-in-chief of the French armies, still appears to be cautiously feeling for an opening in the strongly entrenched German line across France and Belgium.

In the east a supreme German effort continues to be made before Warsaw, the capital of Russian Poland, where the forces of the German center and of the Russians, seeking to check them, sway back and forth along the banks of the rivers barring the way to the Polish capital.

Bringing Up 42-centimeter Guns
 The Russians claim successes in the latest encounters, but during the last ten days the Germans have advanced appreciably and it is said they are now bringing up their 42-centimeter guns preparatory to siege operations.

In Galicia the Austro-German forces seem to have made no further progress and in the north the Russians are reported to have pushed the invaders further back into East Prussia.

The German tactics in the march toward Warsaw, military observers in London point out, are beginning to have some of the characteristics of the rush toward Galatz and Dunkirk, which the allies claimed, thousands being sacrificed and others being hurled forward to fill gaps with the same prodigality that was shown by the Germans in Flanders.

Military experts here are unable to agree on the number of the Austro-German troops in the east, estimates varying from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000, but it is pointed out that Russia, unless exaggerating her resources should be able easily to top this figure now that her concentration of forces is nearing completion.

Petrograd has never conceded that the occupation of Lodz by the Germans had any strategic importance, but the German view has now found expression from Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who remarked to the representative of the Associated Press on the eastern front that he considered it the turning point of the campaign.

CHRISTMAS IN THE TRENCHES

All the armies are planning to spend Christmas as best they may. Boxes and greetings from home have been or are being distributed in the trenches, at the hospitals and in the camps, hundreds of thousands of post cards to the soldiers and sailors from King George and Queen Mary being one feature of the British gifts.

The Austrian attempt to crush Servia, which some predicted would be abandoned in view of the recent turn of events by which the Servians reoccupied Belgrade, are soon to be renewed in the form of a "final blow," according to dispatches from Budapest.
