CHAFFEE'S TROPHIES STOLEN

Late General's Mementoes of Chinese Campaigns Worth $10,000

Los Angeles, Dec. 30.—Virtually all of the late General Adna R. Chaffee's war trophies, mementoes of his campaigns in China and other lands, were stolen some time after his death, November 1, according to a report made by Mrs. Chaffee to the police department yesterday. Mrs. Chaffee fixed the monetary value of the articles taken at $10,000.

The theft was not discovered until the family resumed the occupancy of the home to-day, after a long absence. The loot included rare Chinese ivory and jade ornaments and articles of jewelry, among which was a signet ring worn by the general at the time of his death.

Considerable destruction is reported among the theories of the learned, who knew precisely what Europe would do in a crisis.

EDMUND BREESE TO APPEAR IN "TO-DAY" AT THE MAJESTIC

Edmund Breese, whose remarkable performance as Frederick Wagner in the Broadhurst-Schomer play of New York life, "To-day," which comes to the Majestic Saturday matinee and night, represents the artistic goal towards which this excellent actor's large gallery of finished stage portraits have been notable stepping-stones, has some interesting ideas concerning the actor and his work.

"It is quite a mistake for an actor to think that he can learn dramatic art in the theatre solely," says Mr. Breese. "He can really learn only the dramatic mechanics there—what we call technique, the practical method and means for the best expression of art. He is apt to get into the way of believing that technique and art are one, but nothing could be further from the facts. It is, in my opinion, the failure to perceive and grasp this distinction that marks all the difference between a reliable actor and a creative actor, a merely clever man and a man of large dramatic calibre." REACTIONARY TENDENCIES AGAIN PROMINENT TO-DAY

Active Issues in Stock Market Open at Declines, Which Increase During the First Half Hour—Some Securities Show Gains

By Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 30.—(Wall Street).—Reactionary tendencies were again prominent in to-day's early stock market, the active issues opening at declines, which increased during the first half hour. Southern Pacific fell a point to within a fraction of its minimum and Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated Copper lost almost as much. United States Steel also reflected renewed pressure, as did Interborough, pfd. Canadian Pacific, Pennsylvania and several of the less important metal issues were among the few stocks to show initial advances. Trading was mainly in small lots and evidently of professional origin.

Following its source of the previous days, the market soon recovered from the heavy tone of the opening which affected almost a score of issues, including Missouri, Kansas and Texas, pfd., most stock falling to its minimum. Trading was on a diminishing scale, however, the entire morning's business representing but a meagre output. All initiative continued to come from the short interest, which showed increasing caution because of the scarcity of offerings. News bearing upon the steel trade and general business was more encouraging, while local conditions pointed to greater monetary cast with the advent of the new year. Bonds were irregular.

GIRL GOES BACK TO CONVENT

Baltimore Judge Denies Mother's Petition for Habeas Corpus Writ

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 30.—Judge Bond yesterday dismissed the petition of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Wright, of Washington, for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the custody of her daughter, Madeline W. Wright, who, she alleged, was imprisoned and detained against her will in St. Raphael's Institute of Providence, a convent in this city.
The Judge said the case was to be decided upon the age of the girl. She was 21 and a free agent. Miss Wright, who is known as Sister Mary, appeared in court with Mother Desales and took the witness stand. She said she had been in the institution for about 17 months and was a convert to the Catholic faith. She also stated that she was born on February 8, 1893, in Virginia. The mother was unable to appear.
