

A SCENE FROM "TWIN BEDS," THE FARCE WHICH COMES TO THE MAJESTIC THEATRE ON SATURDAY

This is one of the homely incidents in the first act of "Twin Beds," the hilariously funny farce which is to be seen at the Majestic Saturday, matinee and night. The piece is now on its seventh month at the Fulton Theatre, New York, and is one of the four successes which Selwyn & Co. now have playing in Manhattan; a record never before equaled by a firm of producing managers.

It will be recalled that this firm produced "Within the Law" last season, which was and still is a remarkable money maker, but "Twin Beds" at the Fulton, "Under Cover" at the Cort, Margaret Illington in "The Lie" at the Harris, and "The Show Shop, with Douglas Fairbanks," at the Hudson, are a quartet of money makers which are about equal to a mint.

The same care regarding production and cast which have marked all of Selwyn & Co. efforts is noticeable in the traveling company presenting the delightful farce by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo.—Adv.*

Ban Johnson Holds Up Meeting. Chicago, Jan. 5.—The meeting of the National Baseball Commission, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed because of the absence of President Ban Johnson, of the American League, who is still in New York.

BAN STILL IN CONTROL

Change in Ownership of New York Club Proves It

Ban Johnson has once more proved that he is in full control of the American League, says Ed Griffin in the "Star." The sale of the New York club, which had for a purpose the elimination of Frank Farrell and Bill Devary, was planned by the American League chief. It is well known in baseball circles that when the former New York owners had their run-in with Frank Chance last fall, which resulted in the latter severing his connection with the Yankees, Ban Johnson made up his mind then and there to make a change in the ownership of the New York club.

It was no easy matter to find men with money sufficient to make the deal and satisfy the owners of the club. Yet President Ban succeeded in accomplishing this when he interested Ruppert and Huston.

The change of ownership was a tentative move for the American League. Not only was the change heralded as a winning move by the other magnates, but the fans the circuit over recognize the advantage it gives the league.

Ruppert and Huston are men of wealth. Ruppert is reported to be worth anywhere from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. It is believed that in due time he will build a new ball park which will be nearer to the center of New York City than are the Polo Grounds. Such an investment would give the American League a great advantage over its rival in New York.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

'WILD BILL' DONOVAN TO DO SOME HURLING FOR YANKS

New Manager Expects to Call Upon Himself for Relief Work When New Yorks Get Going—Will Always Be on Coaching Line

New York, Jan. 5.—Wild Bill Donovan, new leader of the Yankee forces, does not intend to confine his energies to managing the team from the bench. Such was the declaration of the smiling one, who is here discussing club affairs with the new owners as the official beginning of his major league managerial career. When the season starts Donovan will be in uniform daily and he expects to spend most of his time on the coaching lines like Hughie Jennings. But he also plans to get into the game now and then, generally for rescue work.

"I got into the game a few times at Providence last season," said "Wild Bill" yesterday, "and I am satisfied that I am still able to do some real pitching in the majors. I realize, of course, that I could do no such work as I did a few years ago, but I guess a few innings now and then would not be too much for me. I have quite a little of that old speed left, and it is only natural that I could handle a difficult situation better than some of the youngsters. Cy Young was several years older than I am before he had to admit that his days were over, and you know I always took pretty good care of that old pitching arm. I will work out slowly this spring and when the real hot weather arrives I will be ready to work whenever the occasion demands it."

Donovan has not yet signed his contract to lead the Yanks, but he has agreed upon terms and the document will be signed to-day.

The question of a training camp came up for discussion yesterday and it would not be surprising if the team will be taken to Savannah, Ga., for conditioning purposes. Donovan favors this place. He took his Providence team there last spring.

"Don't make any mistake about this fellow Pipp," said "Wild Bill" in discussing the players whom he will have under his charge next season. "He is a great ball player and I rather expect that he will be a regular with the Yankees. I thought several times last season that he was serving his last year in the minor leagues. He is a good first baseman and, best of all, a heavy hitter. It was in batting that the team was particularly weak last season and

NEW YORK LIKES LOBERT

Call Him Best Third Baseman Playing Ball—Demaree, Stock and Adams Traded

New York, Jan. 5.—Manager John McGraw, of the New York Nationals, has obtained the services of Hans Lobert, third baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, through a deal which was closed yesterday. The deal was virtually completed here Sunday at a conference between McGraw and President Baker, of the Philadelphia club. It was stated last night that Lobert had accepted terms made by McGraw. It was understood that the third baseman would sign a three-year contract.

Lobert has been called one of the best third basemen in the game, Philadelphia secured him in 1910 from Cincinnati. McGraw last night expressed the opinion that Lobert would put his team back in the running for the pennant.

Ever since last fall Lobert has been on the fence between organized baseball and the Federal League. He recently visited the Federal League officials in St. Louis and later called on President Gilmore, in Chicago. However Lobert said that if he were traded to New York and received the same salary offered by the Federals, he would remain in organized baseball. Mike Doolan, shortstop of the Baltimore Federals, who played beside Lobert for years on the Philadelphia infield, and Lee Magee, manager of the Brooklyn Federals, visited Lobert here yesterday and tried to persuade him to accept the Federal League offer.

Demaree came to New York from Mobile late in 1912. In 1913 he did season last year. Stock first came to the Giants from Pon-in-Lac, Wis., in 1912, but he was farmed out in both 1912 and 1913. Last season he was called upon to play third base after Shafer retired from baseball.

Jack Adams never played with the Giants, but was purchased last fall from the New Orleans team of the Southern League. He formerly played with the Cleveland Americans. These three players go to Philadelphia in the trade for Lobert.

OTTO KNAEB ARRESTED. Baltimore Field Manager Failed to Display Auto Tag. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 5.—Manager Otto Knaeb, of the Baltimore Federals, was arrested, while outing in Philadelphia for failing to display a 1915 tag, according to dispatch from Wilmington, Del., received here yesterday. Knaeb was accompanied by a party of friends and was delayed a short time, being released on proving that he had bought, but had not received a new automobile license in Maryland.

Retires From Baseball. Cleveland, Jan. 5.—"I am through with baseball for life." This was the statement made by Jim McAleer, former big league manager and recently president of the Boston Red Sox. "When I sold out at Boston a year ago, it was forever; I guess, though at the time I did not think so. For from what I hear now of the big league teams, none except the Braves had a very successful season. But, of course, I base my opinion upon what I have read in the papers."

Ban Johnson Holds Up Meeting. Chicago, Jan. 5.—The meeting of the National Baseball Commission, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed because of the absence of President Ban Johnson, of the American League, who is still in New York.
