GUILTY OF MURDERING WIFE

Michael Louisa, of St. Clair, Convicted on Circumstantial Evidence Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 11.—After an all-night session, taken up in argument, the jury in the case of Michael Louisa, of St. Clair, who is charged with the murder of his wife, brought in a verdict yesterday of guilty in the first degree. Louisa will be the first man sent from Schuylkill to the electric chair. There is not much chance that he will get a new trial, although his counsel made the usual formal motion for one. The evidence against Louisa was purely circumstantial. In October, 1913, Mrs. Louisa was found dead in a forest two miles from her home. There were marks of violence upon the body. Before the State police completed their investigation Louisa fled and was brought back here from Pittsburgh, where he shrieked, "I didn't kill her!" as soon as a policeman's hand was laid on his arm. Two daughters of Louisa were witnesses for the prosecution, but appreciating the delicacy of their position the District attorney did not press them very hard.

Judge Bechtel and the officers of the court were preparing to go to church when news came that the jury had agreed, and in half an hour a Sunday session of court was opened. Louisa stood speechless with astonishment and fear when his fate was announced. The jury had been deliberating since 4 o'clock Saturday.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

INDEPENDENTS WIN EASILY

Dickinson Collegians Do Not Show Very Strong and Loose Game

The Harrisburg Independents had little trouble winning from the Dickinson collegians on the Chestnut street hall floor Saturday evening. After two periods of rough play the score favored Harrisburg to the extent of 58 to 24.

The game was loosely played, but the visitors were mostly to blame for this as they failed to show an accurate knowledge of the rules of basketball. Koons and Welch played best for Dickinson, while Geisel, Ford and McCord did the Independents' best work.

Next Saturday evening the Independents meet the Trenton five of the Eastern League. Trenton has promised to send their regular league lineup and will endeavor to check the winning streak of the locals. The lineup:

Table with 4 columns: Name, P.G., F.L.G., A. Pts. Rote, forward 4 0 3 8. McCord, forward 4 14 8 22. Geisel, center 4 0 0 10. McConnell, guard 4 0 1 8. Ford, guard and f.r.d. 5 0 3 10. Arthurs, guard 0 0 0 0. Totals 21 14 15 58.

WHITNEY TO PLAY POLO

Ex-Captain of "Big Four" Decides to Again Take Up Game

Admirers of polo will be glad to learn that Harry Payne Whitney, probably the greatest polo captain that ever guided a team to victory on the field, will take more personal interest in polo this year than he did last. In 1913 he was unable to play because he had injured a shoulder while hunting. He is now recovered and will take part in several games next season.

Mr. Whitney's return to the saddle does not necessarily mean that he will again be a member of the American team which will go to England after the cup. Even though he had not met with the accident early last year, he would not have played on the Big Four team. Previous to the mishap he had declared that he would not be one of the members of the team that would defend the cup.

The reason he advanced was that the training necessary to perfect his physical condition for the international polo series was too severe, and he did not care to undergo the ordeal. But with Mr. Whitney in the saddle again next year he may round into form gradually and thus lead up to the possibility of his being one of the American four who may challenge for the cup in 1916. The date of the challenge will depend on the continuation of the war.

Mr. Whitney now has 26 polo ponies in his winter training quarters. This is the biggest individually owned string in the country. Mr. Whitney is keeping these fine mounts so that he will have plenty of material to call upon when he starts to play polo next summer.

W. AND J. REFUSE GAME

Western College Rejects Offer to Play Penn in October

Washington, Pa., Jan. 11.—Graduate Manager R. M. Murphy, of the Washington and Jefferson football team, announced last night that he had rejected an offer to play the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Saturday, October 23. A previous arrangement to play Yale on that date prevented consideration of the offer.

The tender from the Penn authorities came in the nature of a surprise, as no game had been solicited. Manager Murphy expressed regret that he was unable to accept, as he considers such a game a big feature for the W. and J. schedule. He has suggested the opening of negotiations for a contest at Franklin Field in 1916. It is known that Coach Folwell, of W. and J. former Penn star, has been anxious for two years to get a game with Pennsylvania, and he urged the acceptance of the offer if the authorities could see their way clear to take another trip. W. and J. has played one game with Penn, sustaining a defeat at Philadelphia in 1897 by 18 to 4.

YALE WOULD ADMIT FRESHMEN

Yale Said to Back Amendment to Rules of Intercollegiate Body

New York, Jan. 11.—Two or three interesting amendments may be made at the meeting of the executive committee of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, which will be held in this city next Sunday. One proposal is to allow six preliminary trials instead of three in the weight events and in the broad jump. The supporters of this amendment have produced a number of examples from past meets which indicate the necessity of such a change, and it seems likely to be put through. It will be tried out in a measure at the indoor intercollegiate meet on March 6, when six trials will be allowed in the shotput.

Another important change that will be discussed is a proposal to allow freshmen to compete in the intercollegiate meet. Yale is said to be back of the movement to take down the bars which have kept freshmen out of the intercollegiate for a number of years.

Any proposed changes that are approved by the executive committee will have to be passed at the meeting of the association on March 6, before they can take effect.
