may be described as a winderness extending for several square miles. Signor Ciufelli, Minister of Public Works, estimates the number of dead in the Avezanno district at 20, 80 and 10,000 injured.

So altogether ruined is the city that it is difficult for the inhabitants to recognize streets, much less individual houses. Prince Giovanni Torlonia, while clambering with the Associated Press correspondent over piles of broken masonry in the Via Della Stazionom of the principal residents.

"Almost every house in that long street was occupied by my friends. They were people of importance, forming the intellectual life and enterprise of the city."

Sucar Works Big Industry

Sugar Works Big Industry
Avezzano was important as a manufacturing and trade center. The sugar works cost $1,250,000. Some of the machinery may still be of value. Other mills, less important, represented a property value of some $3,000,000.

Prince Torlonia, one of the greatest property value of some $3,000,000. Prince Torlonia, one of the greatest land proprietors in Italy, is the heaviest loser financially, but he declined to consider that at this time. When seen by the correspondent he had been up all night, working in the wreckage. Incidents in which remarkable rescues were made are gradually becoming known. One is told of a heutenant of engineers who came nore and located ing known. One is told of a heutenant of engineers who came here and located the residence of his mother. He worked the residence of his mother. He worked for some time alone, pulling away stones, but presently he was assisted by soldiers. After seven hours of the hardest kind of labor he found his mother alive and not very badly injured. She had been protected by an unbroken piece of wall falling over a corner of the room "in which she was sleening. Thrilling Rescue by Women

The relief work now, however, over-shadows the rescue efforts.

Pope Sends Aid to Bishops

The Pope, according to the "Os-servatore Romano," has sent aid to all the bishops of the dioceses in the earthquake zone. A fund of $4,000,-000 has been received by the Pontiff thus far. About 7,500 refugees, 2,000 of them injured, have reached Rome to date.

The probable property loss is indicated by one estimate that it will exceed $60,000,000. No official figures are as yet available.

In dozens of villages, citizens who escaped with their lives are still fear that new shocks will tumble their buildings about their heads and are camping out to avoid further danger, Gradually, however, the seismic disturbances are lessening, and none has been reported since yesterday.

Care to Avert Disease Epidemics

Care to Avert Disease Epidemics
The greatest care is being exercised to avert disease epidemics, threatened by interrupted water supplies and the abnormal manner in which the people are now living. Physicians are putting health measures into effect.

Parents still continue to effect reunions, in isolated instances, with their children and children with their parents, but in most cases the searchers, after frantic efforts come upon the bodies of the members of their families and faint hope is transformed to sorrow.
