The Doldrums
 "In the doldrums" is a phrase more often employed than understood. It refers to a belt of calms contiguous to the equator and situated between the course of the southeast and northeast trade winds. Long periods with scarcely a stir in the air and a torrid sky above, broken by sudden squalls and violent storms of short duration, make the doldrums a dreaded area for sailing ships.

Damascus
 It is estimated that at least 20,000 pilgrims pass through the city of Damascus each year. They are material to the financial welfare of the ancient city, spending in the neighborhood of $900,000 for goods of every kind. Damascus is busy, and the people are industrious. Nearly everything actually needed by the native is made there, and there is a surplus sufficient to supply a large surrounding territory and the pilgrims and visitors who pass that way. In this respect Damascus has not changed in hundreds of years. It has always been a maker and distributor of food and raiment.—Argonaut.

MARINE FOOTBALL TEAM LUCKY WITH "DOC" AS OFFICIAL MASCOT

A letter from one of the American marines stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Territory, tells how the marines are very proud of their football team. With only a hundred men to pick a team from they have made a good thing out of it. The football team, with becoming modesty, expends its pride on Doc, a white bulldog. Doc, however, is not allowed on the field except at practice. It is feared he might imagine he is a quarter back and make a foul tackle if he saw any of his friends being jumped on by a stranger. The marine slumbering in the accompanying picture had no idea that he was being photographed, but Doc was "wise," as may be readily seen.

1,476 MARINE DISASTERS 5,295 Persons Involved in Calamities to Vessels in U. S. Waters

Washington, Jan. 19.—There were 1,476 disasters on the waters of the United States during the last fiscal year in which the life-saving service worked alone, according to its report to-day to Congress. The vessels involved carried 5,295 persons and property was valued at $4,542,955. In 323 other instances the service worked in conjunction with the revenue cutter service or other agencies and took part in the rescue of 2,691 persons from vessels valued at $10,641,655.

The year's record, the report declares, was made "in the face of an unfortunate situation, a deteriorated life-saving service." It again urges upon Congress the need for legislation to provide for retirement pay for life-savers.

A Declining Art
 "Don't you want your boy, Josh, to be a good speller?" asked the school teacher.
 "I dunno," replied Farmer Corns.
