ARRANGING DETAILS FOR JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT

Big Cowboy Challenger Will Condition In Training Quarters at El Paso, Colored Champion on Mexican Side of Rio Grande

New York, Jan. 23.—Plans for the Johnson-Willard championship battle at Juarez, Mex., on March 6, are rapidly being completed. The promoters have established permanent quarters at El Paso, just across the international boundary and mapped out a long list of details which must be arranged before the principals enter the ring.

Willard, will do his conditioning in the suburbs of El Paso, where the summer home of one of the leading citizens has been placed at his disposal. Located on one of the principal boulevards of the city it will be easy of access and with the surrounding grounds and stables afford excellent facilities for both indoor and outdoor work.

himself and staff of helpers in a nearby cottage.

Both pugilists are planning to arrive at the training camps early next month in order that they may become accustomed to the rarefied atmosphere. Both El Paso and Juarez have an altitude of close to 4,000 feet and training conditions are vastly different from those prevailing at lower levels.

This was brought out sharply in the Johnson-Jeffries contest in 1910. After spending some weeks in conditioning at close to sea level near San Francisco, the camps were shifted to Reno, when the governor ordered the pugilists out of California. The change to the Nevada town at an altitude of approximately 4,500 feet set back the training for fully a week while principals and helpers were adapting themselves to the lighter air.

Under the present schedule the boxers will have from four to five weeks in which to prepare for the contest, which is none too long under the circumstances. Willard is expected to start his serious work at El Paso on or about February 1, and Johnson is due to arrive at Juarez about ten days later. By that date the arrangements for staging the battle will have been fully completed. Material for the ring and stands will be assembled and the construction details worked out.

According to the present plans the ring proper will be erected on the race track of the Juarez course in such a manner that a portion of the present open house, and accommodations for tween the permanent stands and the track, the lawn will be used for other seats and boxes while on the track side of the ring will be the bleacher seats. Prices will range from five to twenty-five dollars and each coupon will entitle the holder to a numbered seat. Accommodations for about 28,000 spectators will be provided.

From the center of El Paso to the Juarez race course is a trip of about ten minutes the spectators crossing the international bridge spanning the Rio Grande, which separates the two countries at this point. Once in Mexico the visitor will witness the novel spectacle of a prize fight under government sanction and control. Mexican troops will police the course and the ring within, General Villa having agreed to assign some 2,000 soldiers for this service on the day of the contest.

Contrary to early reports there appears to be a possibility that the coming golf season will be featured by at least one international tournament. The entry of several of the more prominent of the English professionals in the American open championship at Baltusrol, June 15 to 18, is almost certain in case the English open, set for about the same period, is declared off on account of the war.

The English golfing authorities have not as yet made a definite announcement regarding their tournament but close observers of the trend of the sport abroad are of the opinion that the open golf championship will be dropped for the season of 1915 as has been done with the Henly regatta, the Oxford-Cambridge crew race and other English sports classics.

With their principal home tournaments abandoned these professionals would welcome the opportunity to play in America for their sources of revenue have been greatly curtailed since the beginning of hostilities. There is another side to the situation, however, which leaves the question of ultimate entry in doubt. While there are a number of prominent professionals who are not serving with the English regiments on the continent, a large majority are connected with various home defense organizations and are loath to leave England this spring for fear their motives might be misunderstood. If the war situation clears sufficiently, Braid, Vardon, Taylor and others may yet be seen competing in the American open in June.

At the annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association to be held in New York City early next month the proposition to remove the national championship from Newport to another point, probably New York, is likely to be given careful consideration. The West Side Club situated at Forest Hills, L. I., one of the leading clubs of the metropolitan district is expected to offer to stage the 1915 championship events. If this policy of moving the all-comers' tournament from Newport is adopted it is thought that in years to come the championship may be shifted from city to city each season, as is done in the golf title tournaments.

Opposition to the plan is certain to develop for the All-Comers' has been held continually at Newport since 1881 when the national tennis championships were established. Without some form of eligibility rule with which to control the entries it is feared, in certain quarters, that the tournament, if held in the larger cities, will be swamped by ambitious racket wielders who desire to compete. Newport, because of the expense incidental to travel and accommodations never received much more than two hundred entries yet the tournament in recent years has extended over a period of six to eight days.

Held in New York or Chicago, it is probable that the entry would be double these figures. In order to reduce the list to a point where it could be handled with reasonable speed and satisfaction, a rating or eligibility standard would have to be adopted. While this is done in other national sport championships it is against the ethics and standards of the U. S. N. L. T. A., and would be certain to provoke much comment and criticism. As a result the situation that will face the delegates at the annual meeting is a peculiar one and the awarding of the coming season title tournament a matter of much speculation among tennis enthusiasts.

In referring to sport at Princeton University, President John Grier Hibben in his annual report states "Our athletics not only in Princeton, but throughout the country are suffering from an over-organized system of coaching. I hope that the latest re-organization of assistants, all of whose expenses prove a heavy drain upon the athletic treasurer and tend to keep up the gate receipts of intercollegiate contests at an abnormal figure, render intercollegiate sport an unduly expensive affair.

While certain other university athletic authorities may differ with President Hibben on subject, the fact remains that Princeton paid large sums for coaching last season. The latest report of the Athletic Association shows total revenues of $48,390.26 and expenses amounting to $46,977.76, leaving a net revenue of $1,412.50. Coaches for varsity and freshmen teams cost $11,349.69. The principal items were as follows: Football, varsity, $5,516.54; freshmen, $887.95; baseball, varsity, $2,801.65; freshmen, $743.55; basketball, swimming and wrestling, varsity teams only, $1,400. To these figures must be added the salary of the regular trainer and athletic coach, which with expenses could bring the total within striking distance of $20,000 or about forty per cent. of the total receipts of all forms of sport at Princeton.

YANKS BIG RENTAL

$60,000 Will Be Demanded by Giants For Use of Polo Grounds

New York, Jan. 23.—The Yankees will pay nearly $60,000 for the use of the Polo Grounds this year. The rent in 1914 was $55,000, and it is understood that these figures have been increased. In view of the fact that the Yankees have no grounds of their own, the Giants have been able to dictate terms. Because of the high rental of the Polo Grounds, the new owners of the local Americans are more than anxious to build a new park for the season of 1915.

William N. Fleischmann, personal representative of Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Jr., president of the Yankees, announced yesterday that plans for building a new baseball plant will soon be ready for the club's inspection. Fleischmann refused to indicate the location of the new park, but he said that a selection of the site would be made in the near future. It is the club's desire to have the new grounds ready as soon as possible so that business relations with the Giants may be severed for all time.

400-POUND MAN TITMID

Fearful to Descend From Roof, So Neighbors Used Derrick

Lynchburg, Ind., Jan. 23.—James M. Uhlmeier, 46, a farmer, who weighs nearly 400 pounds, got on the roof of his two-story house to repair a chimney Thursday. After finishing the work he was attacked with nervous prostration and was unable to descend on a ladder.

Neighbors were called to his assistance and a derrick rigged up. Uhlmeier was lowered to the ground, after a rope had been fastened about him several times. He suffered severely during the lowering process and is under the care of a physician.

How to Cure a La Grippe Cough

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grin and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years' record of success proves this. For coughs, colds, croup and other distressing ailments of throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy. Geo. A. Gorgas, 16 North Third street and P. R. R. Station.—Adv.

Students Take Expert's Notes

Two students are transcribing the notes of Mr. Linscheid, expert stenotypist of Chicago, who is reporting the lecture course given this month to the salesmen employed by the Elliott-Fisher Company. These two students trained at the School of Commerce are making an exact transcript from Mr. Linscheid's notes and will finish the transcription a few hours after the last lecture is delivered. The most difficult task for a stenographer is to transcribe accurately the notes taken by another stenographer. Try it. Start preparation now in the day or night school of the School of Commerce, 15 South Market Square, and let them get you a good position in an office.
